Barbers' Union Proposes a Novel Scheme

To Compel Non-Union Barbers to Join Their Forces—Want National Body to Start Five Cent Shops

The Barbers' union of this city, after appealing in vain to the employes of several of the bigger shops of the city to join their union have decided upon drastic measures to force the non-union members of the craft into line.

At the meeting of the union yesterday, it was decided after considerable discussion, to appoint a committee of five to confer with the treasurer of the national body whose headquarters are in New York, to see if the national body will sanction and stand behind the establishment of a number of union 5 cent shops in Lowell for the purpose of breaking up what they consider the non-union combine.

The idea is to establish a number of five cent shops in the immediate vicinity of non-union shops and give strictly first-class work for five cents, the national treasury to supply the necessary funds to start the shops, and the shops to be abandoned only when all the barbers in the principal shops have become members of the union.

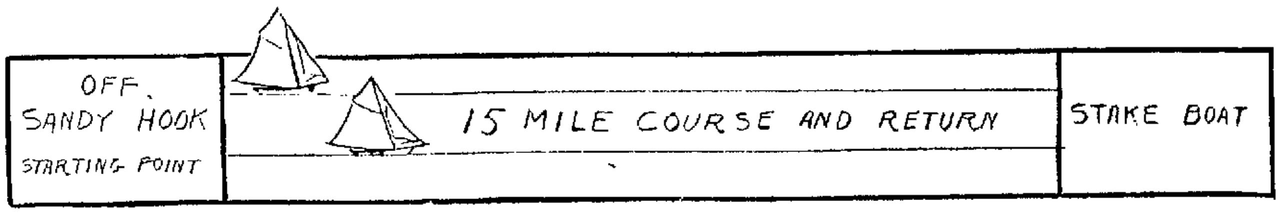

The local union is not positive that the national body will sanction the proposition, but it is going to make the attempt at all events. The Barbers' union in addition to its trade union feature also pays a sick benefit of $5 per week and a death benefit of $100.

PILLING'S SHOE SHOP.

"ONE MAN" WORK

Causes Kick Among City Councilmen

A number of members of the city council, representing both branches, were discussing municipal affairs at city hall, this morning, and the conversation turned to the recent inspection of the cartridge shop by the special committee of the city council. Said one of the members: "It's funny how everything in connection with the investigations of the explosion are done so quietly, not that due publicity was not given to the meeting after it had taken place. I understand that the members of the committee were not notified of the meeting until a very short time before it took place. No one at city hall knew anything about it and only one newspaper was let into the secret. Yet when the committee arrived at the cartridge shop they were given to understand that they were expected."

One of the members of the special committee then said: "I didn't know anything about the meeting until the last minute. There's too much of this one man committee work about city hall to satisfy me. The committee didn't know anything about the arrangements until the day of the meeting."

Mr. Dunfey of the city auditor's office is disgusted to think that the city hall was defeated by the police and is organizing a new team that he is confident will defeat the coppers.

RACE BULLETINS

How The Sun Excelled in Giving the News

It would be futile to set an estimate upon the multitude that watched The Sun bulletins on the yacht race Saturday. Suffice to say that Merrimack square was densely crowded and that the vast majority had their eyes steadily fixed upon The Sun's illustrated bulletin service of the race.

The Sun had illustrated the straight-away course and had models of the yachts moving with precision as indicated by the despatches flashed over the wire. These cute little yachts held the same relative positions as did the big yachts on the course in New York harbor and they moved like clock-work over the miniature course from the starting line and back. Our envious rival across the street casts a sneer at this method of illustration although vastly superior to its method of using the model boats as big stickspins by taking them out and sticking them in at intervals to represent their progress. If boats moved like grasshoppers that method of illustration would be all right. Yet our neighbor today asserts that its miniature boats actually sailed. The Shamrock on the bulletin course across the way must have struck a hidden reef as it had not reached the finish line on Sunday morning. But perhaps this is unimportant.

What is important, however, and what is palpably false, is the statement by the paper across the way that it beat The Sun in speed. There was not a single instance of an important bulletin in which The Sun did not lead its rival. This is so well known that it requires a good deal of effrontery to make any statement to the contrary.

The Sun's megaphone service also excelled, and combined with the lightning bulletins and the large pictures illustrating the race and the sentiments associated with it, demonstrated The Sun's superiority in such cases.

Towards the close of the contest the young men in charge of the bulletin service on the other side of the street got so badly rattled that they broke down completely and did little else than watch The Sun bulletins and listen to the resonant announcements from The Sun megaphone.

The Sun will repeat the performance tomorrow and the public is invited to see how far it leads its rival in the important matter of speed in giving the news.

RELIANCE'S LEAD

Shamrock Was Beaten by 7 m. 3 s.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—"Sister of 10,000 sail and swiftest of them all."

This was what the Reliance proved herself Saturday in the first finish race for the America cup between her and the Shamrock III. Over a 30-mile course to windward and return, in a 12-knot breeze, she beat the Shamrock just 9 minutes on elapsed time. As she allows the Shamrock 1 minute and 57 seconds, she beat her, on corrected time, by 7 minutes and 3 seconds.

On the 15-mile beat out to the windward mark the Reliance beat the Shamrock 3 minutes and 21 seconds. The Reliance sailed the distance in 2 hours 9 minutes and 56 seconds, while the Shamrock covered it in 2 hours 13 minutes and 17 seconds. On the run back to the finish line, the Reliance beat the Shamrock 5 minutes and 39 seconds. The Reliance covered the last 15 miles in 1 hour 22 minutes and 21 seconds, and the Shamrock covered it in 1 hour and 28 minutes.

With the exception of a short time that the yachts were near the shore, in the vicinity of the turning mark, the breeze was blowing at the rate of about 12 miles an hour. When the yachts were sailing in the lighter breeze near the turning mark the sea was quite smooth, but during the rest of the race, which meant practically all of it, there was a short chop, and at times there were some deeper hollows for both to dive into.

FUNERALS

McMAHON—The funeral of John McMahon took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late home, 593 Gorham street. The last rites of the church were said at the Catholic cemetery by Rev. W. H. Grant. At the church, the choir under the direction of John Warburton, sang appropriate music. There were a large number of floral tributes, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held. The bearers were: John, James, Michael and Daniel McMahon, sons of the deceased; James Morrison and John McMahon, nephews. Burial took place in the Catholic cemetery, in charge of Undertaker McDermott.

BRENNAN—The funeral of Joseph L. Brennan was held Saturday afternoon from the home of his parents, Lawrence and Mary Brennan, 1698 Mammoth road, Collinsville. The service was at 2 o'clock and was largely attended. There were many floral offerings. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery of Lowell, under the direction of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

HOLDEN—The funeral of Alice Holden was held yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents, 98 John street, and burial was in the Catholic cemetery, in charge of Undertaker C. H. Molloy.

HEAPS—The funeral of John Heaps was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home of his parents, 123 Hampshire street, and burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertaker Molloy. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful.

200 KILLED

Bulgarians Made Attack on a Turkish Town

By Associated Press to The Sun

VIENNA, Aug. 24—Neue Freie Presse's Constantinople correspondent telegraphs that a band of Bulgarians has attacked the Turkish town of Urgas, south of Iniada on the east coast of Turkey and have blown up the government buildings with dynamite. It is reported that 200 persons were killed.

KILLED THE GARRISON.

By Associated Press to The Sun

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 24—According to Turkish advices, when the insurgents captured Vasilike, in the eastern part of the vilayet of Adrianople, they killed the garrison, consisting of 50 soldiers, and about one hundred of the inhabitants.

The insurgents are now threatening Midia (sixty miles northwest of Constantinople, on the Black sea) and are reported also to be attacking the important town of Kirk Kilisseh (thirty two miles from Adrianople.)

Christian, Greek and Mussulman refugees have arrived at the mouth of the Bosphorus from the neighborhood of Midia, fearing a massacre there. They have been sheltered in the lazarette at Anadela-Kavak and are being fed by the authorities.

The lighthouse at Kuru-Burun, in Iuldla bay, has been abandoned by its keepers because of the nearness of the insurgents.

The Italian embassy has notified the Porte that it will hold it responsible for any injury which may be done to the consul of Italy at Monastir and demands the punishment of those who insulted the consul recently by calling him a "Giaour," (infidel.)

WOMEN AND CHILDREN MASSAC[RED]

By Associated Press to The Sun

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 24. The Turks are reported to have massacred all the women and children in twenty-two villages of the districts of Florina and Monastir, and to have afterwards burned the villages. They are also alleged to have killed a number of prisoners.

The streets of Krushevo, are said to be strewn with dead, and the survivors are afraid to burry the bodies, fearing to incur the suspicion of the Turk.

Following the proclamation of the revolution throughout the village of Adrianople, the insurgents cut all the telegraph lines connecting the city of Adrianople with the eastern part of the villayet.

There are unconfirmed rumors here that fighting and massacres are proceeding in the streets of Adrianople.

RELIANCE WON

American Boat Won the First Race With Lipton's Shamrock III

At 11.30 the preparatory gun was fired and immediately the two yachts began manoeuvring for positions. As they sailed back and forth in this preliminary struggle both boats showed a good deal of weather side as they laid down dipping the lee rail.

Reliance made a long board to eastward, followed by Shamrock quite a distance astern. After standing about a mile from the mark, Reliance came about. Shamrock soon following. At 11.40 when the warning gun was fired, both boats were to the westward of the line, standing in shore.

Both boats stood a quarter of a mile to the westward of the line, then started and ran down the wind for fifteen seconds when Shamrock gybed, Reliance following with the same manoeuvre. Both boats were on the starboard tack heading for the line, and crossed it holding about south, Shamrock about two lengths ahead of Reliance, which went over the line at the weather end. Soon after crossing both yachts broke out baby jib top sails. It looked as though Reliance had purposely held back from crossing the line in order to cut down whatever time allowance there might be in case she finished first. Captain Barr's apparent intention was to get the windward position and rely on his boat to outpoint her adversary and overhaul her as she did Thursday. Ten minutes after the start, the yachts were still holding towards the south on the starboard tack and from the shore it looked as if Reliance was gaining a trifle.

The wind, which early in the day was from the west southwest, seemed to be getting more to the southward and the boats had every opportunity to show what they could do in a beat to windward in a comparatively smooth sea and a 15 knot breeze.

The contest immediately developed into a close and exciting race for while Reliance seemed to pick up and be to windward of Shamrock she was unable to get by. At 12.11 the American boat swung around on the port tack and headed for the Jersey shore. Shamrock kept on two minutes longer before tacking to port.

This tack developed into a long run in-shore and as the time passed it was evident that the Shamrock was doing better on the port tack than on the starboard. As the yachts worked down toward the outer mark, they began to feel the full force of the full-tide coming up the coast.

At 12.36 the yachts were still holding the port tack, standing toward Seabright but fully eight miles off shore. The wind held strong and the yachts had all of it they wanted for the sail they were carrying.

There was no break in this long tack until 12.40 when Reliance went about. Shamrock, however, continued four minutes longer. From shore it looked as if Reliance forced Shamrock about. It had looked as if the challenger might squeeze by and get the windward berth. Reliance, however, had too much speed, so the Shamrock was compelled to tack in order not to be blanketed by her opponent. Captain Wringe flung his boat about. Reliance succeeded in holding far enough to windward to draw up until she was just to the weather of the challenger and at 12.52 it looked as if the American defender had succeeded in getting the upperhand of the challenger. She was on the starboard tack, some distance to the weather of Shamrock and slowly but surely outfooting the latter.

At 12.54 both boats were still holding to the south on the starboard tack with Reliance apparently in the lead by a short distance. The yachts at that time had sailed more than half way to the outer mark.

At 1.24 the yachts were within five miles of the outward mark. The wind still held strong from the southwest at about 12 knots and there was every prospect of a quick run back to the finish under spinnakers.

It had taken Reliance quite a time to catch, overhaul and draw clear of Shamrock, but once in the lead the American set a pace which the challenger was unable to equal and slowly but continuously she lengthened the distance between herself and Sir Thomas' boat.

The wind lightened as they beat for the weather mark and Reliance seemed to like the weather better. She increased her advantage with every mile sailed and at 1.50 it would seem that but for some accident or some great fluke she had the race won.

When the wind softened it seemed to shift more westward and the yachts were forced to make several short tacks as they manoeuvred to fetch the mark which was now about a mile away.

After getting into a good position off Shamrock's starboard bow, Reliance at 1.55 tacked to port and headed in shore. Shamrock continued on the starboard tack until a trifle windward off Reliance's wake when she also went about and headed for the Jersey coast.

The second tack off-shore or the third which the boats had made in the race, was not more than 20 minutes long. In that time Reliance gained a commanding position to the windward and ahead of her opponent and the American enthusiasts began to feel that the gallant defender, barring accidents, had the race well in hand. As soon as she was well to weather of Shamrock, Reliance tacked in shore again and when Shamrock holding on until she crossed her opponent's wake, also tacked. It looked as if Reliance was leaning by fully a quarter of a mile. After sailing on this leg for about 15 minutes it appeared as if Reliance had drawn still further away.

Reliance turned the mark 1:55:14 and immediately set her spinnaker to port and like a huge bird headed straight for the finish fifteen miles away and as the wind caught her huge expanse of sail, her quickened pace soon placed her another eighth of a mile in the lead.

Shamrock turned the mark at 1:58:30, setting her spinnaker to port. She tried to hoist a balloon jib top sail but it seemed to jam half way up and after a futile attempt to raise it substituted a balloon staysail.

CUP WON 52 YEARS AGO.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Fifty-two years ago this very day the yacht America, in a race for a cup offered by Queen Victoria, won a prize which since that day has become recognized as the most highly sought trophy in the yachting world. The courageous Commodore Stevens, after many refusals, was finally permitted to enter a contest against English boats to be sailed around the Isle of Wight and so well did he sail his yacht that the remark has become historical: "There was no second."

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. That daughter is a precious legacy, and the responsibility for her future is largely in the hands of the mother. The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the mother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When a young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance in this hour of trial.

Case of a New York Girl of Interest to Every Mother and Daughter in the Land.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: — I hope you will publish this letter, for I want all mothers to know how much good your medicine did my young daughter. Her health broke down about six months ago, and although she is large for her age, I did not understand what was wrong with her; the doctor did not, either, for he treated her for her heart, which pained her a good deal; but he did not do her any good, and we were afraid heart trouble would carry her off. Every day she kept getting whiter and thinner. She had no appetite, and she sat around without any ambition, and was always too tired to do anything. All night long she would moan in her sleep, as though in terrible pain.

"I felt terribly discouraged; I was spending money for doctor's bills right along, but she was receiving no help. At that time I was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I read in one of your books about young girls. I decided to drop the doctor, and give her your medicine. I wish you could see the change in her, and the pink cheeks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given her. She had taken but half a bottle when menstruation started again and her heart trouble went away like magic. I had her continue the medicine, and now she is fat, rosy, and perfectly healthy. Menstruation is regular and painless, and I owe my thanks to you and to your wonderful medicine for her good health."—MRS. MARGARET PHELAN, 673 Tenth Avenue, New York City.

SPECIAL ADVICE TO YOUNG WOMEN FREE.

From her vast experience in treating female ills, extending over 20 years, Mrs. Pinkham has gained a knowledge which is of untold value to every ailing young woman. Her advice never fails to help. If you need such help write her. Address Lynn, Mass.

A medicine that has restored so many women to health and can produce proof of the fact must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which cannot be equalled by any other medicine the world has ever produced.

It is well to remember these facts when some druggist tries to get you to buy something which he says is "just as good." That is impossible, as no other medicine has such a record of cures as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so do not experiment with untried medicines, but insist upon the one you know is best.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial, which will prove its absolute genuineness.
Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

SUBURBANITES

The commuter who bolts down a few mouthfuls of food and hurries to catch the train, usually catches dyspepsia as well.

The "coffee and roll" road to ill health is not necessary, for there is an easy, pleasant way to get back to health and shake off all the coffee diseases by shifting to Postum Food Coffee. "For a number of years I was a business woman, rising early and swallowing a roll and a cup of coffee just in time to catch a train. A feeling of nausea or palpitation and a continual dullness in the eyes and head invariably followed my coffee breakfasts, until one day a good angel in the guise of a woman friend bade me try Postum Food Coffee in place of coffee.

"Always trying to be progressive in my daily life, I accepted the advice and the result was I found Postum a delicious clear coffee color beverage, suited to the stomach and satisfying to the appetite. After using Postum faithfully for a month, I was surprised at the result in my health. All symptoms of dyspepsia or nervousness had disappeared and because of this marked benefit I reasoned that if such a simple and inexpensive remedy could prove such benefit in my case, why was it not my duty to let other sufferers know about Postum. So I began to try to help my friends and I have helped many to shake off sickness by recommending Postum in place of coffee.

"There was one who was a victim of nervous dyspepsia and who craved coffee to such an extent that he invariably drank it in spite of medical advice not to do so, and I could not persuade him to change, so I got his wife to give him Postum in the morning for a few days without saying anything to him about it. The result was really wonderful. He did not detect the change, but noticed that the got over his indigestion. Then we told him the truth about it and now he takes his Postum regularly, and is so far relieved of his nervousness that his physician predicts a speedy cure. He likes the Postum just as well as he used to love the coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

CHAPIN CAUGHT

KEEPERS OF SHOPS WERE HIS VICTIMS

Goods Sent to Him on Order

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—The specific charge made against Walter P. Chapin, 35 years old, of 81 Westland avenue, by the inspectors of police, is that he obtained from the Albert M. Davenport company, furniture dealers on Washington street, goods to the value of $303.14 on false pretenses. There is a more general charge to be made against him in court that for years he has levied upon the business interests of Boston to keep him in clothes, in books, in metallic bedsteads, fur coats, gloves; in fact everything that goes to make life endurable.

Chapin was taken by Inspectors Rooney and Wolf last evening about 9 o'clock at a house on Massachusetts avenue, where he was with his wife. Mrs. Chapin broke down and wept copiously, grew frantic, implored, threatened, but her husband was taken away and brought to police headquarters on warrant.

He is one of the cleverest crooks in all the company which lines up and swoops down upon regulated society. In a few years, since he came out of the house of correction, it has cost various shop keepers (as far as is known) $6000 to keep Chapin up in the style becoming to a gentleman. Of course, that amount probably does not include the amounts set down in the stores to profit and loss and never reported to the police.

The methods employed were simple in most cases. Chapin simply went into a store, where he thought he needed some furnishings for his home, ordered what seemed to be a fair amount—tables, dressers, clothing, anything that struck his fancy—and ordered them to be sent to his residence.

The name given was nearly always the same, Walter P. Chapin, and the address given was necessarily a correct one. In reference he named, the police say, a prominent real estate dealer in the downtown district. The reference had always the same result—that Chapin was declared to be "good" for any amount.

In this way Chapin had no difficulty in running up huge accounts at stores which ordinarily are very careful in their business relations. The goods were sent and a bill rendered. The bill was never paid.

TWO FRAUDS.

The merchant who would try to sell a pair of shoes without opening the box in which they came from the factory, would be regarded as a fraud and a trickster, and the newspaper which denies to the advertiser all the information he desires in reference to its circulation, must not expect the confidence of its patrons.

"COULDN'T SLEEP FROM THE TERRIBLE ITCHING."
"FIRST NIGHT I USED ZEMA-CURA I SLEPT WELL."

"I gratefully recommend your wonderful medicine, 'Zema-Cura.' For three months I suffered the most ACUTE annoyance with that dreadful disease, Eczema. Couldn't sleep from the terrible itching. Had about given up all hope of being cured, when in despair I bought a bottle of Zema-Cura. The first night after the first application I enjoyed a sound and refreshing sleep, the first restful sleep in three months. I bought three bottles in all and am to-day entirely cured."
WILLIAM JOHNSON.
Pres't Pittsburg Mfg. Co.,
Twenty-Eighth and Railroad Sts.,
Pittsburg, Pa.

Why should any Eczema sufferer continue to suffer when Zema-Cura will positively cure him? You take no risk in using Zema-Cura. It is absolutely safe. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it. It is the only SAFE, SURE CURE for Eczema known to medical science.

ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp.

DANGER!

Many of the lotions and salves alleged to be cures for Eczema and other skin diseases are positively a menace to sufferers. They contain OPIATES to allay irritation, and the awful effects resulting from their use are often worse than the disease itself. Such compounds may apparently relieve, but THEY DO NOT CURE, and the danger of using them is terrible to contemplate.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR ZEMA-CURA. No other remedy is even similar to it. ZEMA-CURA is a scientific prescription, and has been used with great success for years by eminent physicians in the treatment of skin diseases. The genuine ZEMA-CURA has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health; it is an absolutely SAFE remedy; mothers can use it on their babies without the slightest fear. Imitations contain opiates and other drugs and chemicals extremely dangerous; avoid them as you would the plague.

If you have the slightest difficulty in procuring Zema-Cura from your druggist, write direct to the ZEMA-CURA CO., 7 West 22d St., New York, and it will be shipped postpaid on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle. Write to-day regarding your case and receive complete, careful advice FREE.

$20,000 TROT

Big Event Was Won by Hawthorn

KENTUCKY HORSE HAD THE GREATEST SPEED

She Went In Only Four Heats

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—The band played "She Was Bred in Old Kentucky" after the big $20,000 trot at Brighton beach before 8000 spectators yesterday afternoon.

The rich prize fell to Hawthorne, the roan daughter of Jay Bird, which Scott Hudson is racing for R. C. Nash, one of his Kentucky patrons.

It was a grand five-heat battle with not a heat as slow as 2.10, Billy Buck, the favorite, was off form and after having a hard time in winning the first heat, was not hard game. Kinney Lou captured the third heat and the large crowd gave the veteran Bud Doble an ovation as he came back to the weighing in stand.

Hawthorne won the race because she had the most speed, came to the post well fitted and was well driven, yet her victory is tinged with luck.

Of the five heats in the race she went only four and in one of these was not driven at speed. Hudson laid her up the first heat and in the third she did not go 75 yards.

Going away at the pole Swift, who was trailing, ran into her sulky, breaking the wheel and throwing himself down. Hudson stuck to his sulky and pulling to the outside dismounted with no more serious injury than a broken sulky.

Thus, while the others were racing she had a rest and in the five-heat race where the time is around 2.09, this is an advantage which would have won for her even had she not been the high class trotter she is.

Scott Hudson had one of his big days for he drove two other winners besides Hawthorne, Nervolo in the mile and one-quarter dash, and Dillon Boy in the 2.16 trot.

Never before has there been such an attractive program in harness horse racing as the one offered at Brighton Beach yesterday afternoon. The card contained eight races, every one of them finishing a splendid contest. Twenty-two heats were trotted and paced and all but two of the miles were faster than 2.12. The talent had a very bad afternoon and only three fat very bad afternoon and only three favorites were able to bring home the money.

JEFFRIES' OFFER

Chance for Munroe to Get $10,000

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Heavyweight champion Jeffries has fairly overwhelmed Jack Munroe in his concession of the latter's plea for a fight. Here is a telegram received in this city yesterday:

"I will give Jack Munroe $10,000 is he can stand four rounds before me.

JAMES JEFFRIES.

World's Heavyweight Champion."

This was the magnanimous reply to Munroe's modest telegram sent the day after Corbett's defeat, humbly requesting Jeffries to set a date for a battle.

Jeffries declared after beating Corbett that he was ready for the heavyweights as fast as they came, and Munroe has been training at Coney Island, and an early battle may be arranged. Since the miner got a decision in Butte, Mont., because Jeffries failed to put him to sleep in four rounds, the champion has been chagrined at having been caught out of condition, and has often declared that he could easily dispose of Monroe.

RYAN OUTPOINTED

KID McFADDEN OF SAN FRANCISCO, HAS THE BETTER OF HIM.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Kid McFadden of San Francisco, defeated Billy Ryan of South Boston at the Lenox A. C. last night. Ryan made his first appearance in the ring after an absence of several months, and while he showed to advantage in the first two rounds, McFadden clearly outpointed him during the remainder of the bout, which was characterized by much clinching by Ryan. The bout was scheduled to go 15 rounds, but McFadden was so clearly Ryan's master, that Dan Donnelly stopped the bout in the eighth round and gave the decision to McFadden.

Jimmy Hanlon of the North End and Spike Haley of South Boston boxed a spirited six-round preliminary, which resulted in a draw. Young Allen disposed of Kid Rollins of San Francisco, so quickly that he consented to go against Young Fitzsimmons of South Boston, but Fitz also lasted but a part of the first round.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS

TO BE SETTLED BY THE PROPAGANDA.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Aug. 22—The congregation of the propaganda on resuming work after the death of Pope Leo and the election of Pope Pius found several important questions ready for solution, including the division of the diocese of Hartford, Conn., and the archdiocese of Dubuque, Iowa, and the appointment of a new bishop of Columbus, O.

The papers regarding the proposal for a new archbishop of Milwaukee to succeed the late Rev. Frederick X. Katzer, have not yet been received from the apostolic delegation at Washington.

MURDER STORY

POLICE ARE UNABLE TO VERIFY IT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

MELROSE, Mass., Aug. 22—The story of the little Italian girl who informed the police of this place last night that she had witnessed a cold blooded murder in the woods near her home on Swains pond avenue, cannot be verified. The police made a second search in the vicinity early this morning but could obtain no clue.

The police are thoroughly investigating the case, but up to the present time they have discovered nothing that leads them to think that murder has been done.

BRAKEMAN KILLED

WHEELS OF TRAIN PASSED OVER KELLEY'S BODY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

FALL RIVER, Aug. 22—William Kelley, aged 25, a brakeman on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, was instantly killed in the company's yard at the foot of William street at 11 o'clock last night. He was standing on the the front end of a flat car. A sudden slackening of speed threw him across the rails and the wheels passed over his body.

Syrian Assault Case Takes up Time

There were seven drunks with no sentences before Judge Hadley in police court this morning and they were run off with despatch, butan assault case of no great importance strung out for a couple of hours on account of the large number of witnesses on both sides.

All parties concerned were Syrians, except the counsel. Messrs. Donahue and McVey, and one lone Hebrew who happened along from church on the evening of the fight just in time to get 60 cents as a witness. The complainant was one Joseph Abdallah, who appeared in court wearing a mournful fringe around his eye. The fringe he claimed was imparted by a blow from the fist of Kalil Mata.

There were many amusing moments in the trial. One of the witnesses said his name was Sockas Cassios, but they called him "Mike" for short. Another said he was a married man.

"To whom are you married?" asked the counsel.

"To my wife, of course," answered the witness.

Another said he crossed the street. "What did you do it for?" asked Lawyer Donahue.

"To get on the other side," promptly responded the witness.

"No, Elias," responded the witness.

Lawyer McVey's argument was a feature of the case. He referred to the ready imagination of the orientals, and so far as the testimony against his client was concerned, was one of imagination against Mata, (matter).

The distinguished witness, Israel Warchowsky, who was coming from church and saw the defendant run out and strike complainant on the face, convinced the court and Mata was fined $12, which he promptly paid.

Rose Capponi, an Italian woman, residing in Lakeview avenue in Dracut, sold beer at marked down prices, yet when arrested it cost her more than if she had charged the limit.

Having heard that Rose was doing business, Officer Quirk and another officer of the town went to Rose's cottage yesterday, and asked Rose if she had any beer for sale. "Sure," replied Rose, and she immediately produced some nice cold beer. "How much?" asked Quirk. "Six cents a bottle," replied Rose, and the cops purchased two bottles and then took Rose along with them to the police station. In court, this morning, she said "sure" once more when asked if she was guilty or not guilty, and smilingly dug for $60, the amount of the fine imposed.

PATHETIC CASE

Little Child Drank Muriatic Acid

A very pathetic poisoning case was brought to light yesterday by the death of Walter J. Angelo, the two year old son of James and Mary Angelo of Pond street. The little fellow swallowed a quantity of muriatic acid and after suffering for about sixteen hours passed away at the home of his parents yesterday afternoon.

Thursday afternoon while Mr. Angelo was soldering some pipe in the cellar Walter was with him and secured the vial which contained the acid used in the operation of soldering. Before the child's father was aware of what he did the little fellow had placed the bottle to his mouth and swallowed a good portion of the contents.

The effects of the fluid were quickly in evidence and Mrs. Angelo at once administered an emetic and Dr. Fred Leahey was summoned.

Antidotes were prescribed and during the night the child displayed signs of recovery.

Yesterday morning, however, he took a sinking spell and an anaesthetic had to be given to relieve the pain.

The little fellow died without regaining consciousness.

The shock to the child's mother was a severe one, as she did not realize the seriousnes of the case until the end.

Mr. Angelo, the child's father, is the well known steamfitter of the H. R. Barker Manufacturing Company, and both he and his wife have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

FUNERALS

DEVLIN—The remains of the late Peter Devlin were consigned to their final resting place in the Catholic cemetery this morning. The funeral took place from his late home, 45 Willow street, at 8.30 o'clock and was largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased, including many people from out of town. There was also a large delegation from the Lowell Irish Benevolent society of which the deceased was a prominent member.

The funeral cortege proceeded to the church of the Immaculate Conception where a high mass of requiem was celebrated at nine o'clock by Rev. Lawrence J. Tighe, O. M. I. He was assisted by Rev. Tresche, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. Owen McQuade, O. M. I., as sub-deacon.

The choir was augmented for the occasion and was under the direction of Mr. P. P. Haggerty. The choir rendered the Gregorian mass and Mrs. P. P. Haggerty presided at the organ. At the offertory Miss Margaret McCaffrey rendered the "Pie Jesu," and after the elevation Mr. Haggerty rendered "O Salutaris." At the conclusion of the service Mr. Thomas P. Moulger rendered "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," and as the remains were being borne from the church Mr. Cornelius Calnan sang "De Profundis."

Among the many beautiful floral offerings the following were the most prominent: Pillow, bearing the inscription "Father," from the children of the deceased; spray, Miss E. R. Smith; wreath of ivy, Rose Carolin and Isabelle Devlin; spray, Lena Devlin Hanahan, and a wreath of ivy from the J. C. Ayer Co.

The bearers were Messrs. John H. Devlin, James Devlin and John E. Sullivan of this city and John E. O'Day of Worcester.

The interment was in the Catholic cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I. The funeral was under the direction of Funeral Director Thomas J. McDermott.

YOULE—The funeral of Yevonne, infant child of William and Olivine Voule, occurred yesterday afternoon at half past one from the home of the parents, 31 Aiken street.

Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery and the funeral was in charge of Undertaker Albert.

LUTIEN—The funeral of Camille, infant son of Charles and Clara Lutien, took place yesterday from the home of the parents, 479 Moody street.

DELISLE—The funeral of Leo, infant son of Marelle and Sarah Delisle, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of the parents, 46 Aiken avenue. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, and the funeral was under the direction of Undertaker Albert.

LATENDERENNE—The funeral of Oliver, infant child of Emery and Mary Latenderenne, occurred yesterday afternoon at four o'clock from the home of the parents, 324 Aiken street.

Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery and the funeral was under the direction of Undertaker Albert.

GAS STOVE

CAUSED FIRE IN PUTNAM'S CLOTHING STORE.

A still alarm yesterday summoned a portion of the local fire department to a slight blaze in Putnam & Son's clothing store in Central street. An overheated gas heater in the repairing department of the store caused the fire, but it was soon extinguished and the damage was slight.

JOHN A. STOREY DEAD

WAS A PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN OF THIS CITY.

John A. Storey, one of Lowell's most prominent business men, and who was the founder and for over thirteen years the proprietor of the New York Cloak & Suit Store, in John street, died yesterday afternoon at his residence in Tyler Park, after a prolonged illness.

The deceased had long been identified as one of the city's foremost citizens and most successful business men, and although he had lived here but a short time he was as widely known throughout the city as men who have lived here all their lives.

Mr. Storey came to this city from the western part of the country in 1889, and that year he founded the New York Cloak & Suit store in John street.

Mr. Storey remained at the head of the house until last July, when after having been sick for four months, he decided to abandon the business, and sold the store to the New York Cloak & Suit Co., of which his brother, C. R. Storey of Brockton, is the head. Mr. Storey was at first afflicted about eight months ago, when he was taken down with a severe attack of typhoid fever, the effects of which rendered his physical condition such that he was unable to be about for many weeks.

He never regained his health and strength after the fever, and in July he was compelled to retire from business.

The immediate cause of his death was heart failure.

ANNUAL REUNION

OF THE SEVENTH MASSACHUSETTS BATTERY.

The fourteenth annual reunion of the Seventh Massachusetts Battery association was held at Willow Dale park yesterday afternoon and evening.

Resolutions were adopted on the death of Daniel D. Caverly of South Bernardston and James A. Stackpole of Chelmsford. Letters of regret were read from the following members who could not attend the meeting:

Capt. N. W. Stover of Boston; H. L. Bennett of Baldwinsville; Moses A. Cleveland of Willoughby, Ohio; H. S. Foster of Oakdale; J. B. Stuart of Manchester, N. H.; Lieut. J. W. Beane of West Somerville, Mass.; Fred A. Hall of Lewiston, Me.; Isaac Willy of Pembroke, N. H.; Arthur B. Chopin of Chelmsford; Mrs. Addie Carll of Ocean Park, Me.; Lieut. S. W. Bensen, Somerville, Mass.; James Schofield of Oakland beach, R. I.; N. C. Farnham of Chicago, Ill.; M. B. Mills of Seattle, Washington.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, R. G. Hoyt; vice-president, C. H. Frost; secretary and treasurer, C. W. Brigham; executive committee, J. F. Thorning, Thomas Clarkson, Henry Clark, Samuel Loverin.

Dinner was served after the business meeting.

Among those who were present are the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Clark of Waltham; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hoyt of Belmont, N. H.; Mr. J. F. Thorning of Ashby; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clarkson of Brockton; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kendall and Miss Frellick of Boston; George D. Adams of Wellesley Hills; Geo. Conlan of Swampscott; W. E. OFFICERS ELECTED

FOR FANCY TABLES AT "CARNIVAL DE FLEURS."

A meeting of the members of the Fancy Table committee of the coming "Carnival de Fleurs," was held last evening at the residence of Mrs. J. F. Hurley in New Moody street, to arrange for the garden fete which is to be held on Sept. 8th.

At the meeting last night the following officers were elected:

General manager, Mr. Lucien Paradis, assistant general manager, Miss Viola Laflamme; secretary and treasurer, Miss Anna Hurley; president of candy table, Miss Winnie Chaloux; chief aid, Miss Henriette Wyman; president ice cream table, Miss Bertha Pelletier; chief aid, Miss Blanche E. Menard; general amusements, Miss Grace Chagnon; gypsy camp, Miss May Cummings, Miss Helen Frazier; Rebecca's Well, Mr. Frank Bissonette, Mr. Sidney Laflamme.

The fete will be given on the grounds of Mr. George W. Cummings' residence in Varnum avenue.

WILL SHUT DOWN

16,500 Employes Idle in Lawrence

By Associated Press to The Sun

LAWRENCE, Mass., Aug. 22—The Pacific, the Pemberton and the Everett mills, three of the largest corporations in this city, will shut down today for a period of two weeks, thereby throwing out of work about 16,500 operatives. It is possible that nearly all the other mills will fall into line and close.

To the 16,000 people who will become idle today can be added the 6500 hands made idle when the Washington mills of the American woolen company closed on August 15, for two weeks. This will make a total of 16,500 idle, almost one-fourth of the city's population.

Two Children Dead, Mother and Two Others Ill

By Associated Press to The Sun

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22—Clara and Bertha Roder, children were killed by inhaling illuminating gas early today.

Their mother and two other children are in a dangerous condition from the same cause.

Mrs. Roder later said she had attempted to murder her children and commit suicide, but before all were dead the husband reached home. The woman gave as a reason for her act that her husband, who is a textile striker, was without money and that the family who were without food, would have been forced to vacate their home today.

CONVINCING PROOF

Read the following letter from Thomas J. Gallagher, a well-known citizen and former Secretary of the Lowell Aerie, No. 223, Fraternal Order of Eagles:

The D. J. Murphy Co.

Dear Sirs—I consider it a just duty to acknowledge to you and the general public the merits of your Rheumatic Cure.

Five years ago I was taken down with Rheumatic Fever, from which I had not fully recovered, being a great sufferer from rheumatic pains every winter. I have tried almost every remedy advertised or recommended, also doctors' prescriptions, only to get temporary relief from their use. Last winter I was taken down again and confined to my bed for four weeks and suffered intense pains until a friend recommended your Rheumatic Cure, and on taking the first bottle I found immediate relief. I continued to take your medicine until I took six bottles, when I felt entirely cured.

CHASED BY MOB

Burglar Fired at the Girl Leader

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Shooting wildly at a pursuing mob led by a plucky girl, Thomas Dorson, a burglar, surprised in the home of P. Tecumseh Sherman, lawyer and clubman and son of the late General Sherman, at No. 130 East Thirty-first street, made a vain endeavor last night to avoid arrest. No one was injured.

Crying "Stop, thief!" Miss Kate Doris, a maid in the Sherman household, caused the exciting man chase at Second avenue and Thirty-first street.

Miss Doris, while alone in the house, heard a noise on the third floor and investigated. In Mr. Sherman's bedroom she saw a man standing over the dresser. In the centre of the room was a bundle.

Frightened by what she saw she cried out:

"Who are you? What are you doing here?"

"If you make an outcry I will kill you," said the man, pointing a revolver at her.

She fled down the stairs, but the burglar caught her on the second floor and threw her down to the first floor. Then he jumped over her, and, opening the door, ran into the street.

Her cries of "Stop thief!" attracted several men at the corner of Lexington avenue, and as the chase progressed the crowd grew.

When Dorson, the burglar, was half way between Third and Second avenues he deliberately turned around and fired at his pursuers. No one was struck, but scores dodged into basements and hallways. But not so Kate Doris and several others. With the girl in the lead they kept on.

Patrolman O'Donnell heard the shot and captured Dorson.

"Officer, arrest that man. He's just robbed our house," cried Miss Doris.

O'Donnell took the prisoner to the station house. The girl going along as complainant. Captain Shire complimented her on her pluck. He asked if she had been injured.

"If you'd seen me run you wouldn't think I was hurt," she replied.

Eleven silver forks, sixteen silver tablespoons, ten silver knives, four gold cuff buttons set with diamonds and ten necktties were found on Dorson, who is fifty-four years old, and said he lived at No. 530 West Eighteenth street.

LOSES SAILOR

Vanderbilt's Man Nearly Killed a Stranger

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Because one of the best sailors on William K. Vanderbilt Jr.'s turbine yacht Tarantula, is locked up in the Raymond street jail, Brooklyn, for nearly killing a chance acquaintance, the young millionaire's fleet steamer will go out short-handed today to see the yacht race.

There isn't another yacht sailor unengaged who can be found by Captain Tabor, the English skipper of the Tarantula, and all efforts to get young Thomas Lent out of jail on bail, so that the Vanderbilts may go to the race in proper style, have been unavailing thus far.

Lent's home is at No. 165 Twenty-fifth street, Brooklyn. From his boyhood he has been a sailor on large and small yachts, and when the Tarantula came here and some of her English crew decided to go back to England, Lent was engaged for the season. He proved himself an able and willing seaman and is very highly spoken of by his captain and shipmates.

Unfortunately for Lent, a few nights ago he met a young man, Joseph Mulvy, who lives at No. 130 Twenty-fifth street, in a saloon in the Erie Basin district and they quarrelled. According to Lent's story which is corroborated by eye-witnesses, Mulvy struck Lent first.

Lent admits that he returned the blow with interest, knocking Mulvy down. Then he helped Mulvy home, and on Thursday went out on the Tarantula and performed his duties as usual, while the Vanderbilts were viewing the yacht race.

Young Mulvy, who is a small and rather weak man, and in poor health, did not at first show any ill effects from the fight, but on Thursday he became unconscious, and his aunt, Miss Mary Warder, went to Brooklyn police headquarters and made a complaint against Lent.

The warrant was given to Detectives Gomeringer and O'Rourke to serve, and they went to the Tarantula's dock and waited for the yacht to come back from the race. As soon as the swift turbine craft hove in sight the officers went out in a launch and boarded her. Lent went with them willingly, and when arraigned before Magistrate Deeley in the Butler street court, yesterday morning, admitted striking Mulvey, but produced witnesses to prove that Mulvy struck him first.

The magistrate asked for a report on Mulvy' scondition, and when he learned that it was serious, refused to admit Lent to bail until Dr. Perchland, who is attending Mulvy, would certify that he is out of danger.

Last night Lent was still in the Raymond street jail, and Captain Tabor was trying to get Dr. Perchland to give a certificate of the nature the justice had asked for, that he might have his full complement of men when the Tarantula goes out today. Dr. Perchland, however, while saying that Mulvy probably would be all right in a few days, declined to certify that he was out of danger, so the Tarantula must go to sea short-handed today.

LAYING MINES

Work Will be Done Tonight

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 22.—Tonight all civilian employes at the various forts will be laid off for a week and from tonight until a week from tonight no persons will be allowed inside the forts or camps except those who have business there.

It seemed to be the general belief that the mines were being placed in position last night, but such was not the case. The mine-field has all been blotted out and the mines are all ready, but they will not be put down until after the stroke of midnight tonight.

Major Murray has made a request of skippers that they keep away from the boats engaged in laying the mines, and from the mines themselves, for although they will not explode, a vessel striking against the mines will make the electric indicators on shore ring and will mix matters up greatly.

WANTS $25,000

Woman Sues Man Who Took Her Riding

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Minnie Marren, who keeps a boarding house at 215 West Thirty-eighth street, has begun a suit in the supreme court against John J. Hiner for $25,000 damages for injuries received in an accident to the defendant's automobile on June 23.

Mrs. Marren and three others were returning from Coney Island on that day, in their automobile as the defendant's guests, At Bedford avenue and Sterling place, Brooklyn, the auto swung into the curb, turned upside down and pinned the plaintiff beneath it.

Mrs. Marren charges that the defendant carelessly, recklessly and negligently operated the automobile at a high and unlawful rate of speed."

HUMBERTS GUILTY

Madame Humbert Made Sensational Speech in Court

By Associated Press to The Sun

PARIS, Aug. 22—In the course of a speech in court today Madame Therese Humbert announced that the real name of Crawford was Regnier, who was the intermediary between Prince Bismarck and Marshal Bazaine at the time of the surrender of Metz.

There was a great crowd present at the trial today. Among the throng were a number of American lawyers and tourists.

The prisoners were brought into court at noon. They maintained the same outward aspect of calm. Mme. Humbert walked in haughtily and surveyed the crowd with a scornful air.

Advocate Hesse addressed the court at length in defence of d'Aurignac. He severely criticised the declaration of M. Antencire, the former French ambassador at Madrid, that he did not know Mme. Humbert.

At the conclusion of the pleading Mme. Humbert arose amid an intense hush throughout the court room to make her promised revelations. She seemed to be laboring under a great effort and paused after her first emphatic statement that the Crawfords and the millions existed. Then she began formally:

"Gentlemen of the jury: When I wanted the address of M. Crawford he answered: 'You cannot know me. I am not called Crawford. I am not known by that name.'

"Then what name?' I asked.

"He replied: 'My fortune was made during the war of 1870, but re-investments of rentes, which were then very low and a large quantity was brought here.'

"This name is Regnier, the intermediary between Marshal Bazaine and the Germans. I had already transacted business with one Regnier, who appeared to me to be a very mysterious personage and who said to me: 'Be careful, madame, not to confuse me with the notorious Regnier.'

"That is how I suddenly learned Crawford's name. I never told my husband. I swear on my daughter's head. This is the first time he hears the name."

Addressing the presiding judge, Mme. Humbert went on, exclaiming:

"What I say is true. The Crawfords exist. The fortune exists, and I, Madam Humbert, will bring actions against the Crawfords."

HUMBERTS SENTENCED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PARIS, Aug. 22 The court sentenced Mme. Humbert and her husband each to five years' imprisonment and to a hundred franc fine.

Emil d'Aurignac was sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

Romain d'Aurignac was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

HAD NO FEAR

YOUNG MAN KISSED HIS SWEETHEART IN FRONT OF POLICE STATION.

The home guard in the police station were treated this morning to a case of "spooning" in the broad daylight that would turn the Charles River police black with horror.

A well dressed couple were walking up Market street about 11 o'clock arm in arm and engaged in frivolous conversation. They were followed by two young women walking with their arms about each other, and were apparently as giddy as the pair in front of them. The quartet were evidently of the same party and undoubtedly were strangers for they walked on the police station side of the street.

Just as they passed the door of the police station the young man suddenly threw his arms about the young woman's neck and bending down, totally oblivious to his surroundings, gave her a resounding smack upon the lips.

Matron Wallace of the police station who was walking along the street behind them threw up her hands and cried: "Did you ever see the beat of that?" While several policemen nearly fell out of the window, so strenuously did they "rubber."

QUIET DAY

ONLY TWO ARRESTS MADE BY THE POLICE.

Things were pretty quiet at the police station today, only two arrests having been made, both being for drunkenness.

One of the drunks was arrested on a warrant sworn out by his wife who is ill and who was afraid that he would do her bodily harm.

50,000 IDLE

Big Curtailment in New England Cotton Mills

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Aug. 22—Fully 50,000 textile operatives in New England will be idle next week through the curtailment by cotton mills and the closing of the majority of the numerous factories of the American Woolen company.

The largest number of idle mills will be in the city of Lawrence, where nearly 17,000 persons, almost one-quarter of the population, will be out of work.

Today the Pacific, Pemberton and Everett cotton mills shut down for two weeks. These large corporations employ 10,000 hands and the Washington Woolen mills, which are also closed, 6,500.

In Dover, N. H., where all the cotton and woolen mills are closed, nearly 5,000 will be idle and about the same number in the vicinity of Providence will be out through the woolen mills closing for a vacation. By the stoppage of cotton machinery 3,000 will be idle in Fall River, 1500 in Waltham, 2500 in Chicopee, 1500 in other western Massachusetts towns; 1,100 in Exeter, 3,000 in New Bedford and thousands in scattered mill villages.

WOMEN MASSACRED

Villages Were Destroyed by the Turkish Troops

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Aug. 22—According to aBelgrade dispatch to the Daily Mail the Turkish troops, under the pretext of pursuing revolutionary bands, have destroyed the villages of Armensk, Strebeni, Letschani, Beckepanja, Nolkazi, Zelinich, Patele and Banitza, massacring the women and children. The male inhabitants fled to the mountains and joined the insurgents, who are especially numerous in the Chegani mountain range, where there are also many women under the leadership of a female teacher named Tenkanamof.

The presence of the Russian fleet in Turkish waters has thoroughly frightened the sultan, says a Constantinople dispatch to the Times. Besides demanding the execution of reforms in Macedonia, Russia also demands the concession of the Black sea cable now held by the Eastern Telegraph company, a British concern.

SAW MILL BURNED

$30,000 Fire at Damarascotta, Maine

By Associated Press to The Sun

DAMARASCOTTA, Maine, Aug. 22.—A $30,000 saw mill at Sheepscot, owned by George Trask and containing a complete set of modern machinery, was totally destroyed by fire early today. There was no insurance. The mill, which was operated by water power, was one of the finest in the state. As the property burned at 1.30 a. m., and there was no conceivable cause it was generally believed to be of incendiary origin. About 20 men were thrown out of employment and it was considered improbable that the mill would be rebuilt. An extensive lumber business was carried on.

CRUISER PENNSYLVANIA

WAS NAMED BY THE DAUGHTER OF SENATOR QUAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22—An occasion which will be memorable in the history of this state transpired today when the giant armored cruiser Pennsylvania, named by the daughter of the state's senior senator and present leader, was launched at the yards of the William Cramp ship and engine building company. The maiden plunge of the formidable addition to the United States navy was witnessed by the largest and one of the most distinguished assemblages that was ever gathered at Cramp's ship yards. More favorable weather could not have been desired and the flag bedecked sea fighter gliding down the ways greeted by the acclamations of thousands of spectators and the shrill blasts of the myriad river craft made an inspiring scene. Under the towering prow of the Pennsylvania was erected a heavy timber superstructure from which nearly 2000 specially invited guests saw the launching. From the main stand rose a smaller platform upon which stood the christening party, including Miss Ceral Quay, daughter of U. S. Senator Quay, the ship's sponsor; Senators Quay and Penrose, Gov. Pennypacker, Mayor Weaver, Rear Admiral Sigsbee, U. S. N; Rear Admiral Melville, U. S. N., retired; Charles H. Cramp, Edwin S. Cramp and a number of ladies.

On the main stand were assembled prominent guests from Washington and Pennsylvania, the head of the various navy department bureaus and a number of foreign naval officers.

After the launching the guests were entertained at a luncheon.

The Pennsylvania is powered with a twin screw, vertical triple expansion engines and boilers of the Niclausse type, which are required to develop a mean speed of 22 knots an hour for four hours. The engines are estimated to develop a collective indicated horse power of 23,000. The contract price for the hull and machinery of the ship is $1,760,000.

ELEVEN ARRESTED

Planters are Charged With Whitecaping

By Associated Press to The Sun

WINNE, Ark., Aug. 22.—A deputy marshal has arrested eleven prominent white planters of Poynsett county on the charge of whitecapping. The prisoners will be taken to Helena to appear before the United States district court.

The negro laborers employed at a saw mill in Poynsett county were recently forced to leave under threats of violence by a band of white planters, causing the mill to suspend. The arrests were made at the instigation of the mill owner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22—U. S. District Attorney Judge Debaven and U. S. Circuit Judge Morrow have signed a decree relative to the issuance of writs of habeas corpus to Chinese seeking admission to the country. This will settle once and for all an important question and relieve the government many vexatious delays.

For a long time there has been a feeling in federal circles that much fraud has been perpetrated in the landing of Chinese who claimed to be native born.

By the decree just signed, no writ will be issued unless the petition for it is accompanied by an order of the commissioner of immigration showing that the right to land has been issued to land to the person in whose behalf the writ is to be issued.

AMBERGRIS SEIZED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 22—Deputy Collector of Customs W. R. Delaney and Inspector Stephen A. Brinker, have seized 100 pounds of ambergris, alleged to have ben stolen at Victoria three days ago. The value of the concoction is at the present wholesale market list $13 an ounce, making the seizure worth about $18,000. The small sloop in which the valuable cargo was brought over from the Canadian side was seized.

Hardly had the officers completed their work when Captain Grant, manager of the Canadian whaling fleet and Captain Adams, master of a whaler which had just returned to Victoria from a cruise, in which the ambergris was picked up in mid-ocean arrived here, claiming the property as their own and charging a sailor with the theft.

CLOTHIER WON

Did Some Good Tennis Playing

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 22.—The good weather continued and made good the proverbial luck of Newport week. It was a trifle windy but the air was cooler and fresher and the conditions as good as they had been on any other day. After five days of play, the big field was well weeded out and there were only a few matches left. That on the championship court was between Clothier and Harry Allen, while Huntington and E. P. Larned were having it out close by. Clothier was an easy favorite after his clever work yesterday in spite of the fact that Allen had once defeated him early in the season and had been playing very well all through the week. Allen depended a good deal on a reverse twist service and quick work all over the court, while Clothier, as usual, was dependent on getting settled in his position at the net. On the whole the match was looked upon as a fairly easy victory for the man who had disposed of Wright and Ward and with a yacht race on at New York the attendance was again rather poor.

Allen kept things fairly even for a while, but soon as Clothier got his net play in order he smashed through very fast. Points:

W. J. Clothier.....2 4 6 2 1 4 4 6 4—33—6
H. F. Allen.....4 1 4 4 4 2 1 4 0 -21 3

Allen made a stand in only one game of the second set when he got the ball to Clothier's feet. He was out pointed two to one and took but a single game. Several double faults were partly responsible for his poor showing. Points:

W. J. Clothier.....5 4 4 2 5 4 4—28—6
H. F. Allen.....3 1 0 4 3 0 2—13—1

Allen made scarcely a better stand in the third and last set than he had made in the one preceding. He was still liable to double fault and twice did so at critical times. The points were closer but Allen got only two games. Points:

W. J. Clothier.....2 4 4 4 4 1 4 4—27—6
H. F. Allen.....4 2 2 1 2 4 2 1—18—2

In the other match, E. P. Larned, the younger brother of the champion, defeated the veteran Huntington, in a brilliant match that stamps the Princeton boy as a most promising player. His network was splendid, particularly overhead, his smashing of lobs being as good as has been seen at all this week. His passing strokes were also good and the only weakness he showed was that his serve is a bit slow. Summary:

E. P. Larned beat R. P. Huntington, 6-0, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

ECZEMA

A Holy Horror

The agonizing torture of this itching, burning disease has at last been conquered. We have secured the selling privilege in this city for a medicament that not only relieves the awful itching and burning sensation of this terrible disease, but roots it all out of the skin entirely, leaving a clear, smooth, healthy covering for the body. Conclusive facts indisputable in every particular, have been presented to us, proving beyond the per-adventure of a doubt, that Eczema, Eczema of Infants, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Pimples, Barber's Itch, Milk Crust, Dandruff, Itching Piles, and all diseases of the skin and scalp can be quickly and permanently cleaned out of the skin by

The D. D. D. Remedy.

"About five years ago I noticed a slight eruption on my limbs, but in a very short time I was a sight to behold, from my head to my feet, and my nights were terrible. I was simply on fire. I tried a number of doctors here in this city, but with absolutely no results aside from easing the burning pain a little. A friend of mine who had been cured of a very bad case of Eczema by the D. D. D. Remedy advised me to try it, which I did, feeling good results from the first. I have been using the D. D. D. Remedy for about three months, using in all, about fifteen bottles, and today I am a well man. I also had dandruff in its worse form, and found the D. D. D. Remedy to be a wonder in curing this disease." F. M. NICHOLS,
Moore Apartment House.
James St., Syracuse, N. Y.

The D. D. D. Prescription comes in a sealed bottle with authentic label on each bottle; it is a liquid applied externally, does not grease nor will it stain or discolor the most delicate wearing apparel.

This prescription has our unqualified indorsement. For a considerable period of time we have been recommending it with most astonishingly effective results. The cures already effected are having a wide-spread influence in this community. If you have a skin affection, come and inquire about the D. D. D. Remedy. It will be the means of making you a happier human being.

RICE ARRESTED

Missing Lawyer's Guide in the Toils

POLICE HOLDING HIM ON ASSAULT CHARGE

He Says Rice Fell From Boat

By Associated Press to The Sun

CHICAGO, Aug. 22—The Tribune today says:

The mysterious disappearance at Walton Lake, Mich., of Attorney Albert W. Barnum of Chicago has been followed by teh arrest of a man who admits that he was in Mr. Barnum's company on the afternoon that he dropped from sight.

The prisoner who is being detained at East Georgetown, Mich., is Claude Rice, a guide with whom Mr. Barnum was last seen. The charge, that of assault and battery, is merely nominal.

According to Mr. Rice, he and Mr. Barnum went to Petosky, together, returning to Talbot's Place, a landing where Mr. Barnum's row-boat was moored. There, Rice says, Mr. Barnum entered the boat and started to row across the lake to his cottage.

When only a few feet from the wharf, according to Rice, Mr. Barnum fell out of the boat, and, instead of swimming back to the shore, struck out across the lake. Rice declares that he then went home without waiting to see what happened to the lawyer. When asked why he walked away from the lake when his companion was in the water, Rice said that he know Mr. Barnum to be a good swimmer and able to take care of himself.

MAN MURDERED

Because He Did Not Follow Orders

By Associated Press to The Sun

BUCHJAREST, Roumania, Aug. 22.—An Armenian, named Garabet Mardoroselan, has been murdered at Kalafal, on the Danube, by orders, it is believed, of the Macedonian committee. Mardoroselan lived for years at Kalafal, acting as general of the committee in facilitating the passage of arms in Bulgaria. The Roumanian authorities discovered documentary proof of his relations with the committee. It is reported that he was assassinated because of his failure to comply with some of the recent orders of the committee men and that the latter selected a relative of Mardoroselan to punish his offense with death.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

By Associated Press to The Sun

10.10 a. m.—Opening prices moved in a sluggish and irregular way on purely nominal transactions. Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie rose 1 1-2 on the declaration of a dividend and Iowa Central pfd. gained a point. Amongst the declines Reading was most conspicuous with a loss of 1 1-8 and Really pfd. declined 3-4.

11 a. m.—Dealings were too small to have any significance, the London holiday and the yacht race combining to cause dullness. Really pfd was forced down 2 3-4 on rumors that the next dividend will be passed. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie yielded to a point under last night on realizing and Amalgamated reacted sharply. Prices hardened again before the end of the hour.

Close—The increase in the loan account shown by the bank statement caused a spilling out of stocks and prices ran off a point for the grangers, Pacifics and Amalgamated. The movement was short lived and the handful of traders on the floor covered again. The closing was steady.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To the heir at law and all other persons interested in Emily Wilde Wilder of Lowell, in said county of Middlesex, minor.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court by Sarah Eller of Lowell, in the county of Middlesex, praying for the appointment of herself, or some other suitable person, as guardian.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate court to be held at Cambridge, in said county of Middlesex, on the first day of September, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why a guardian should not be appointed.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor and others interested, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said county or by delivering a copy thereof to the said next of kin at least seven days before said court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, first judge of said court, this seventh day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

S. H. FOLSOM, Register.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully libels and represents William H. Haines of Medford, in said county, that he was lawfully married to Jennie M. Haines, now of East Lempster, state of New Hampshire, at Lewiston, state of Maine, on the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1891, and thereafterwards your libellant and the said Jennie M. lived together as husband and wife in this commonwealth, to wit, at Boston, Fitchburg and Somerville; that your libellant has always been faithful to his marriage vows and obligations, but the said Jennie M., being wholly regardless of the same, at Claremont, state of New Hampshire, on or about the fifteenth day of February, A. D. 1903, and at divers other times and places both before and after said date, committed the crime of adultery with a certain man by the name of Powers and also with divers other persons; a further description of, is to your libellant unknown; also subjected your libellant to cruel and abusive treatment.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said Jennie M., also, that there has been born to them of this marriage the following children: Gerald F., Oct. 11, 1886; Gertha F., April 15, 1888; Roger V., Dec. 2, 1890; George M., Oct. 11, 1892, wherefore your libellant prays that the aforesaid children may be committed to his care and custody.

Dated this eighth day of August, A. D. 1903.

WILLIAM H. HAINES.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Superior Court, Aug. 10, A. D. 1903.

Upon the libel aforesaid it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before our justices of said court, at Cambridge, in said county, on the first Monday of September next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the county of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said last mentioned day, and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered letter to the residence of the libellee as set out in the libel, that she may then and there show cause, if any she have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

THEO. C. HURD, Clerk.

Attest, THEO. C. HURD, Clerk.

The sworn daily average circulation of the Lowell Sun for the month of July, 1903, was 15,459 A gain of 1952 copies per day over the average for the year of 1902.

Sworn to by Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman of The Sun, before me, Aug 1, 1903.

WILLIAM A. HOGAN, Notary Public.

☞ An advertisement placed in The Sun is of more value to the advertiser than if it were inserted in all the other newspapers in Lowell, and the cost of inserting it in The Sun is about ONE THIRD the price charged by the other papers.

DRIVE OUT THE POWDER MAGAZINES.

After the calamity brought upon this city by the great explosion, it should take but a short time to drive out every powder depot or magazine that can in any way be considered dangerous. The recommendations of Capt. Dunn of the United States army, an expert upon explosives, in regard to magazines still unexploded should be heeded, unless another explosion is desired. That magazine on Andrews street must go without delay.

THE COMMON AND LABOR DAY.

It is to be hoped that the Park Commission will be able to see its way clear to allow the laboring people the unrestricted use of the common on Labor Day, as has been the custom from the first year that the holiday was generally observed.

The legal objection involved was discovered by Former City Solicitor Qua, who found that when the land was given to the city for a park years ago, it was stipulated that no revenue should ever accrue from the use of the land, under penalty of its reversion to the original owners. It may be that the intent of this restriction would merely forbid the city from deriving revenue from the common, but the city never intended to rent the common to the laboring people. It does rent it, however, on July 4, to tents and shows, so that if this be legal, it is at least as legal to give the use of the common free to the labor unions, for Labor Day.

Despite the former city solicitor's finding, the common was used on the Labor Day following, and no one raised any objection, nor will any one this year, if the unions be allowed to occupy a portion of it with booths. These booths furthermore add to the enjoyment of the day, and if properly conducted, do no one any harm.

As the day is labor's great day of recreation, let labor have its fun unrestricted and relegate to the shelf the musty files of long ago that would place an embargo on the amenities of the occasion.

THE SUN'S UNRIVALLED BULLETIN SERVICE.

The Sun feels bound to say a word in behalf of its unique bulletin service on the boat race on Saturday. In the first place the models of the two yachts were moved over the course automatically, the 15 mile course being represented on a scale of 25 feet or 1 2-5 feet to the mile.

As the time limit for the race was five hours and a half, the boats might be expected to reach the stake boat in two hours and three quarters with an ordinary breeze, but this was far exceeded on account of the brisk breeze and accordingly the models on The Sun's illustrated bulletin were moved at a quicker pace to accord with the telegraphic bulletins flashed from the Associated Press boat in New York harbor.

The illustration could not be more perfect or more mathematically accurate than it was shown and carried out on The Sun's illustrated course.

The megaphone service led in speed in audibility and clearness, while our bulletin service was of the lightning character, giving the principal features of the race in less than half a minute after they were flashed across the wire.

Another feature in which The Sun stood alone was the splendid life size portraits of Sir Thomas Lipton and C. Oliver Iselin put out upon our large bulletins and showing the unique work of The Sun artist.

Another large bulletin picture showed a splendid crayon drawing of the America cup and as the Reliance forged ahead of the Shamrock. The Sun put out a six-foot colored picture of Uncle Sam throwing out his chest with a defiant expression and saying: "Well, I guess." Towards the close of the race The Sun artist sketched a colored picture of John Bull, illustrating his feelings of disappointment at the defeat of the Shamrock.

Altogether, this service was by far the best ever attempted in the city of Lowell and we doubt whether it has ever been equalled in any other city in the United States. The Sun will continue this service throughout the boat races and the people who want the first news of the race rely upon The Sun to give it in bulletins and by megaphone from The Sun building in Merrimack square.

The crowd that watched The Sun bulletins thronged both sidewalks and the portion of the street not occupied by car tracks. The crowd also extended along both sides of Bridge street to Paige and on East Merrimack street in front of the Runels building. The general verdict was that The Sun had no rival in speed, in accurate and graphic illustration of results, and this record will be kept up throughout the boat races.

SATURDAY'S BOAT RACE.

The first contest between the Reliance and the challenger for the America cup has been decided, and the Reliance won a signal victory. The points of superiority so manifest in Saturday's race it is safe to say will enable the Reliance to defeat the Shamrock in every other contest that may ensue. But two other victories are required to hold the cup on American soil and to defeat Sir Thomas Lipton for the third time. According to the rules the next contest will be sailed over a triangular course and there is little doubt that in this, as in the straightaway course, the Reliance will also lead. It is remarkable what great interest is shown in this contest. It has assumed an international importance as the respective boats represent respectively the ingenuity of the United States and England in the production of racing yachts.

Some people think that the contest is nonsensical, that it is a waste of time and money to bother with such rivalry, but it is not well to take life too seriously.

Such contests offer amusement and recreation to millions of people on this and the other side of the Atlantic. Indeed it may be said that this race is of world-wide interest. The emperor of Germany is almost as deeply interested in the outcome of the race as is the king of England and Sir Thomas Lipton. Other sovereigns of Europe are also deeply interested in contest for superiority in yacht racing.

It is no idle boast to say that since this trophy was won by the yacht America, in 1851, it has been nobly defended against all challenges.

It has been challenged no less than twelve times and raced for in 1870, 1871, 1876, 1881, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1893, 1895, 1899, 1901, and the present year, 1903.

It must be stated that Sir Thomas Lipton has made the most gallant contest for this cup that has been made during its history, and after repeated defeats he has shown such humor, such a sense of fairness and accepted defeat with such gentlemanly grace that he has won the esteem of every American sportsman. But this does not help him in his contest for the cup, except that it secures him the best of treatment and absolutely fair play.

There is not an American citizen in this country today who would wish to see Sir Thomas Lipton unfairly treated. They want to see a fair contest and if in such a contest Sir Thomas lifts the cup he will be congratulated by the united voice of the American people as heartily as by his fellow countrymen who cheer him on his courageous and highly expensive contest for his coveted trophy.

GOVERNOR DOLE WILL TRY AND FLOAT IT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

HONOLULU, Aug. 24—Gov. Dole and other territorial officers have decided to try and float the $2,000,000 loan authorized by the last legislature.

It is thought here that the local banks will take the entire issue. An exhaustive statement has been sent to President Roosevelt in response to his request for information before approving the loan.

The local chamber of commerce has requested Hawaii's representative in congress to ask that the territory be allowed to retain the customs revenues.

GOV. CARTER

WILL MARRY MISS GERTRUDE PARKER TOMORROW.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Sir Gilbert Thomas Carter, governor of the Bahamas, arrived in Boston last night, and on Tuesday afternoon will be married to Miss Gertrude Codman Parker, daughter of the late Francis V. Parker of Beacon street. In the evening Sir Gilbert and his wife will leave for New York on their wedding tour. Mr. and Mrs. Parker and their daughter passed last winter in Nassau, and in March Mr. Parker died there. Between the governor and the Parkers a strong friendship developed, resulting in a betrothal that greatly interested social circles on both sides of the Atlantic.

OVER $1,00,000,000

IN U. S. COMMERCE WITH NON-CONTIGUOUS TERRITORY.

Commerce between the United States and its non-contiguous territory amounted to over 100 million dollars in the fiscal year just ended. This figure of 100 millions includes about 5 million dollars' worth of gold bullion produced in Alaska and brought into the United States. Even excluding this, however, and including only merchandise in the calculation, the total amounts to $105,518,000.

This is the first opportunity which has been offered for an accurate measurement and analysis of the commerce between the United States and its non-contiguous territory since the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands and Porto Rico. The Hawaiian Islands were made a customs district of the United States when they were annexed, and as the law did not require the collection of statistics of commerce between the customs districts, a part of the people engaged in that commerce refused to supply such information to the bureau of statistics. When Porto Rico became a customs district of the United States a similar condition developed, except that the information was voluntarily supplied for publication by the steamship companies engaged in that trade. As a result a special law was enacted which applied to the commerce between the various ports of the United States and the non-contiguous territory, the regulations which were applied to foreign commerce, as far as relates to statistics of such commerce. This law went into effect at the beginning of the last fiscal year, and therefore the result of the fiscal year's operations is just available. The law, when enacted, was made broad enough to include all non-contiguous territory belonging to the United States. As a result it gave the statistics of the commerce between Alaska and the ports of the United States as well as that of Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippines, Guam, the Samoan islands, etc.

While the annual figures are the first of any official nature which the country has had of the commerce with Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands since their annexation, it is practicable to compare these with the figures of the commerce with these islands in any years prior to annexation because of the fact that commerce with them was always measured and reported when they were foreign territory. This is true also with the Philippines. In regard to Alaska, no accurate statistics of the commerce were gathered prior to the last year, but estimates were made for former years, which give a fair basis for comparison. It is practicable, then, to compare the commerce of 1902 with that of 1893, for all of this territory which has now become a part of the United States. This comparison shows that the imports from those various territories aggregated, in round numbers, 24 million dollars in 1893, and 59 millions in 1902, and that exports to that territory amounted to less than 8 millions in 1893 and over 37 millions in 1902.

STOLE BICYCLES

Boy Was Chained to the Floor

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 24.—Arabian methods of child punishment as practised in the home of Joseph Abrizlad, a Georgetown fruit stand keeper, have thoroughly aroused the Washington board of children's guardians. The police are looking for 8-year-old Ameer Abrizlad, who, after being chained to the floor by his father, escaped and is now at large.

The youngster is wise beyond his years, but has a passion for "borrowing" any bicycle on the street. Detective Howland, who has been hunting for a stolen bicycle, has suspected Ameer. When he demanded to see the boy, his mother stopped hanging up clothes long enough to remark: "He won't run away with any more wheels; his father has chained him down."

The detective went upstairs. Sleeping on the floor was an innocent-looking boy. Around one bare ankle was fastened a heavy dog chain, of which the other end was held to the floor by a staple. The links were an inch long and an eighth of an inch thick. The detective could not release the boy, but notified the children's guardians. An agent started out to break the fetters, but when at the house she found the trouble was saved her.

"He broke the chain," explained the mother, "and rode away on his father's bicycle."

A boy friend, whom he had informed of his predicament, called at the house last night, and smuggled to him a large nail. With the skill of a cracksman he forced the padlock and was free.

It is the intention of Miss Bryan to take up the settlement work and she will become a member of the Hull house staff early in the fall.

GARIBALDIAN VETERANS

WATCH OVER BODY OF THEIR LEADER'S SON.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Aug. 24.—The body of Menotti Garibaldi, the eldest son of the Italian patriot, who died Saturday, has been laid on a catafalque in the largest room of his apartment. A vigil is kept by Garibaldian veterans, some of whom have been unable to restrain their tears.

Menotti Garibaldi did not leave a will, but when he felt his last moments approaching, he called a friend and said:

"I have nothing to leave. I only beg you to tell Premier Zanardelli to provide for my destitute children." During the whole of the day, a stream of people passed reverently before the body of the dead man.

The funeral will take place next Tuesday, at the expense of the state, all the military and civil authorities attending. Innumerable telegrams of condolence have been received.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP

War Game Has Been Started in Portland, Me.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 24.—The bridges over the Nonesuch river, Scarboro, were "blown up" yesterday. This will not alarm anyone who wants to drive over them unless he is a naval man. If he is, he cannot go. The blowing of these bridges, of course, makes it impossible for a landing party to make good to the west of the river and having taken care of this the army will do the rest on the east side of the river. Since actual warfare is not legitimate until midnight Tuesday, it might seem inexplicable that bridges could be blown up and wireless stations captured before that time. In an interview last night with an Associated Press correspondent Gen. Chaffee said:

"These are merely precautionary measures, which it is legitimate to pursue during the period of preparation which we are allowed before war is actually declared."

The extreme outposts along the outer Cape shore, were thronged with visitors, but notwithstanding this, they were doing business. The camps have all been built up in such fine shape, that the regular army officers who have visited them, complimented the officers and men of Major Welch's volunteer battalion.

Lieut. Bigelow, commanding officer of the naval reserves, was an interested visitor to the camp at Two Lights, but for obvious reasons, he was not warmly welcomed.

Major Welch and his officers and those of the light batteries that are camped at Silver Springs, went out scouting yesterday, to pick out all the places where the navy would be likely to try to land. It seems to be the general belief that there are some cable cutters among this section of the navy and every precaution will be made to ward off their attacks.

The district which this part of he forces is to defend, extends from Pond Cove to Bowery Beach, while the other companies will spread out further along the coast. The light batteries will spread out also, one going to the Two Lights, and the other further along. The garrison at Fort Williams will furnish the detachment for duty at Delano Park, and will also furnish patrols for the whole country round about, to guard against rear attacks and landing parties that might be found roaming about. The work of protecting the rear of Fort Preble, devolves upon the First Massachusetts artillery, acting as infantry in case the enemy should happen to get ashore somewhere out in the far country and try to make a rear attack unobserved.

Col. Dunwoody, the chief signal officer, has built up a series of search lights and stations that the officers say has never been excelled in the world.

The lights are run upon a regular schedule and each one has its zone of action, no two crossing in any way. They are arranged to be run collectively, if necessary, but unless orders are given for this, the work is done in zone system, each one covering a certain part of the outlook.

A good instance of the work of the search light was given Saturday night, when one of the steamers employed by the government was sent outside with instructions to go as far out as it was thought advisable, and then after "dousing" all lights, try to steal in. This was done, but the steamer was not more than half way in from the lightship before the big searchlight at Two Lights picked her up and every other light was kept on the steamer until it came into the harbor and went to its tying up place.

There has been a great complaint by the volunteers over the commissary department and Major Welch, battalion commander, has registered a formal protest against the food that is furnished them. It is so far away that it is hard to haul rations out, but the state officials will hold the contractors to their contract.

Two companies of New York signalmen, ninety in all, arrived on special cars shortly after 5 o'clock last night, and were quartered for the night with the 107th company of coast artillery.

FOXEN EASY

Lowell Landed Frequently on His Curves

But New Bedford Got Only Three Little Hits off Bushey's Delivery—Grant and Joyce Did Some Fine Fielding—Big Crowd at Nashua Today

On Saturday Count Doe presented Foxen, the South Paw twirler, for the purpose of butchering the Lakelings to make a whaler's holiday, but Foxen butchered not and the Lakelings straightened out every curve he bent at them. A large and enthusiastic crowd looked on and they were satisfied to lose when they saw young Bushey mow down the heavy hitting New Bedfords as easily as though they were a lot of beginners. Bushey allowed them only three hits, though he let them hit the ball where they could for he had complete confidence in his fielders, and they were behind him to a man.

The two center fielders, Grant and Joyce, were the stars in the fielding game while Lake led both aggregations at the bat.

Lowell made three runs in the opening inning, when Hafford led off with a single to centre and was advanced by a bunt by Bigbie. Merritt hit to Foxen, who tried to get Hafford at third without success. Lake bunted, the ball going just a few feet in front of the plate. Foxen ran up, and Burrill also took a step or two after the ball. Then they both hesitated, and when Buster picked up the ball, Lake was almost to first. Buster shot the ball to Josslyn, who was on first bag and the ball hit Lake and went off to the bleachers. Before it could be returned, all three runners had scored.

New Bedford got one in this inning. Joyce drew a base and stole second. After Guiheen had gone out Mullaney hit a hard one that struck Bushey in the shoulder and bounced off, allowing Joyce to score.

In the fourth, Lowell added one on a bunt hit by Grant, a sacrifice by Barney, and a single by Connors. The home team got its second and last run in the fifth, when Foxen got a three-bagger and afterwards scored on a fumble by McLaughlin.

Lowell did an awful job on the home team in the sixth, making five runs. McLaughlin reached first on an error by Guiheen, and was sent down to second by a pretty sacrifice hit by Connors. Bushey hit fast at Allen for a single. Cross smashed the ball to center, and McLaughlin scored. Cross went to second on a rather slow play by center and right field, after which he came home on a single to left by Chic Hafford. Bigbie hit to left field and Mullaney failed to stop the ball. Hafford scored and Bigbie went to third. Merritt sent a line drive to short center, and Joyce made a wonderful catch. Bigbie ran off third, but when he saw the ball had been caught he hurried back. Joyce made a mistake in throwing the ball to third, and Bigbie, who is very fast on his feet, ran to the plate.

After that New Bedford wasn't in it, while Lowell made still another in the ninth. The score:

DIAMOND NOTES.

Whitinsville was trimmed by Lynn Saturday with Klobedanz and Runyan for a battery. Swope of Nashua, pitched for Lynn.

Merritt has caught 88 games this season, the league record.

Cross has won 17 out of the last 29 pitched. That will hold the "old man" critics for a few minutes.

HIGHLANDS WON

DEFEATED INDUSTRY IN ARCANUM GAME.

With three of its best men, McCann, Ready and Boyle absent, Industry Council crossed bats with the Highlands at the Fair Grounds, Saturday and received a good walloping.

There was nothing interesting about the game until a party of cows came along and took positions in the outfield. The Highlands, who were at bat, objected to the extra outfielders and when the cows were ordered off the field they refused to go while one of them, more bold than the rest, started to chew up one of the foul flags. First baseman Carter of the Highands, with the aid of a shepherd dog, succeeded in chasing the intruders away.

Stafford made his first appearance as an umpire and he wasn't the worst in the business, nor yet the best.

TOOK 10 INNINGS

FOR T. R. & T.'S TO DEFEAT SOUTH BOSTONS.

It took the T. R. and T.'s 10 innings to put away the South Bostons at Faulkner field, Saturday, and they were dead lucky to do it all, as they had less hits and more errors than the losing team. Tim McCarthy pitched a fine game, but got wretched support. He struck out 11 men and allowed 9 scattered hits, 4 of which were due to slow fielding. Errors were responsible for most of the scoring and the T. and R.'s won by bunching their eight hits. Hennessey, Fitzpatrick and Hoyle were the star performers for the home team. Kammerer and Whitely were the feature players for the visitors, the latter robbing Murphy of a sure two-bagger in the fourth by a circus catch of a line drive.

AMATEUR DIAMOND.

The Central A. C. went to Concord Saturday afternoon and defeated the home team by a score of 5 to 1. Joe Plowen, the pitcher of the winning team, won the game by a home run in the last inning.

The Sunnysides initiated the Odd Fellows, Saturday afternoon, and it is safe to say that the Odd Fellows did not like the degree work of the Sunnysides, for they went home humming, "Ain't That a Shame." The game was one sided, the Odd Fellows never having a look in after the first inning, and lost by the score of 20 to 8. The batting of O'Neil and Carney, and the pitching of Boyd were the features of the game.

The Clintons and Pawtucket Blues crossed bats on the Textile grounds Saturday afternoon and the Clintons won by a score of 14 to 12.

The features of the game were the pitching of Cummins for the Clintons and the batting of W. Mallinson and E. Cunningham of the winning team. Allard and Lew also showed up finely for the Clintons. The batteries were J. Cummins and Fred Mallinson for the Clintons and N. St. Thomas and J. Grotton for the Pawtucket Blues.

The Brooksides defeated the Palmers on the North Common Saturday afternoon by a score of 16 to 5. A home run by Allen with three men on bases was a feature of the Brookside game. Gagnon played a good game at short for the winning team. The Brooksides go to Bedford next Saturday to play the team that represents that town.

The Lincolns defeated the Orients of Chelmsford by a score of 10 to 5. The batteries were Stevens and McCaskill for the Lincolns and Redmond and Adams for Chelmsford. The feature of the game was the terrific batting of the Lincolns. Send challenges to J. J. Dunkin, 23 Lincoln street.

COLISEUM OPENING

Butler Defeated Lawson in Motor Paced Race

The Race Was Exciting Until Lawson Lost His Pace — Boston Riders Took the Best Prizes in the Amateur Races —O'Brien Won a Second and Fourth—Attendance Was Very Large

Despite the fact that many people claim that bicycle racing is dead in this city, they would not think so if they had been at the opening meet of the new coliseum bicycle track in Lakeview avenue, at the city line, Saturday night. Over three thousand people witnessed the races and probably another thousand would have done the same if the seating capacity had not been overtaxed. As it was the rush for seats was so great that the sale of tickets had to be stopped shortly after eight o'clock.

As previously stated in this paper the new coliseum track is one of the best built and fastest tracks in the country, and it only remains for some of the crack pace followers to break records on the local track. It is built of superior grade spruce and is eight laps to the mile. The strips are but one inch in width and are placed in such a manner that it will be impossible for the track to warp or get out of true.

The home stretches are banked at an angle of 30 degrees while the turns are built at an angle of 65 degrees. In order to allow fast time to be made. In many of the modern tracks there is what is known as a "camel hump" going from the stretch into the turn and then again from the turn into the stretch. The "camel hump" makes it difficult for a rider to hold his wheel, but on the local track the rider does not feel the turns, owing to the mode of construction.

Saturday night there was but one grandstand erected, that being on the home stretch, but work was started on the new grandstand this morning, and next Thursday evening when the next meet is pulled off the seating capacity of the coliseum will be doubled and 5000 people can be accommodated.

The attendance at Saturday night's meet only goes to show that the people of this city are very enthusiastic over the cycle racing game, especially if they can see races on a fast and modern track. When over two thousand people will turn out to see amateur races on a horse track surely twice that number will attend professional and amateur races on a modern track.

The people who were present Saturday evening were very enthusiastic over the racing and without doubt were well satisfied with the night's program.

The main event on the program was a fifteen mile motor paced race between Nat Butler, the old "Handicap King" and Gussie Lawson, the "Flying Swede."

The race was a novelty in this city and as the majority of the people had never seen any of the big fourteen horse power pacing machines in operation, it proved to be a great drawing card.

For the first six miles the race was nip and tuck with Lawson having a little the better of the argument, but by the overtaxing of his nerves, which are not strong at the present time owing to a recent illness, Lawson got weak and could not hold his pace. Before the little fellow got going again Butler had lapped him eight times and Nat won the race by over a mile.

Despite the fact that it was a rather one-sided affair after this, the noise of the motors going at a fast clip with a rider trailing behind, furnished plenty of excitement for the crowd.

Both the one-mile handicap and five mile open, amateur events, were well contested and interesting. McKinnon of Boston, proved to be the star amateur, winning the five mile open and getting second in the mile handicap. McDonald of Somerville, another speed merchant of ability, captured the mile handicap from scratch and finished third in the open race. O'Brien of Lowell, captured second in the open and fourth in the handicap, while Goyette, of this city, won a third, and Stoughton of Dorchester, also won a third.

MOTOR PACED RACE.

About nine o'clock the two big fourteen horse power motors were pushed on to the track, Saunders being on Butler's machine, while Tenzier operated the machine which furnished pace for Lawson. The motors went several miles in order to get warmed up and then Lawson and Butler made their appearance. Lawson caught his motor soon after getting on his wheel and rode several miles behind it before the race started. It was not long after Lawson got his pace that Butler was trailing behind Saunders.

On account of the big crowd around the arena it was deemed advisable to start the men on opposite ends of the track. Butler and Lawson drew for position and Lawson got the home-stretch, while Butler started from the back stretch.

After jockeying for a couple of miles for position the starting gun was fired and both riders started to tear around the track at a rapid rate of speed.

The first mile was cut out in a little over 1.21 and Lawson intended to push the pace from the start in order to gain a lap upon Butler. He rode like a fiend and every lap he went gained on Butler. In the third mile he had nearly caught Butler, but Billy Saunders turned on a little more juice and the big pacing machine was seen to take a shoot with Butler sticking close to it. But the pace was too hot for Nat and he soon dropped down to a slower gait, and once more Lawson gained. The little fellow continued to gain until the sixth mile when he was taken sick and dropped his pace. This was what Butler was waiting for and as soon as Lawson lost his machine Nat started to circle the track at a much faster rate of speed than before.

Butler lapped Lawson eight times before the latter could get his pace, and everyone knew that barring an accident the race would go to the Cambridge rider. After Lawson caught his pace he seemed to ride with increased vigor, but he had lost too many laps and was therefore out of the running. When Butler finished his fifteen miles Lawson was one mile and half a lap to the bad. The fastest mile during the race was the eighth, Butler circling the eight laps in 1.17 4-5.

All during the race the spectators were very enthusiastic and both riders had their admirers who cheered according to which was doing the better work. When Butler finished he received vociferous applause. The time for the fifteen miles was 21 minutes, 57 3-5 seconds.

Lawson received a number of bad falls in the recent Golden Wheel race held at Charles River track and owing his injuries and a sickness accompanying them were the cause of his rather poor showing, but despite this fact he rode a plucky race and received good applause for his work.

AMATEUR RACES.

The first race on the program was a one mile handicap which was pulled off in two heats. In the first heat McKinnon of Boston and Mike O'Brien of this city were on scratch. There were seven entries in this heat, four men to qualify. At the report of the pistol the riders got off and the limit men working well together fought the low marked men off for six laps, but on the seventh lap McKinnon, O'Brien and Frey Goyette got together and cutting out a lively sprint brought down the field and McKinnon finished first with Kinnon of Lowell second, Goyette third and O'Brien fourth. Owing to the fact that Kinnon finished on the running board below the black mark, which is the official distance, he was disqualified and Alton, the fifth man, qualified.

The second heat brought out seven starters, with McDonald of Somerville on scratch, Stoughton on 10 yards and Connors on 50. This heat was a little slower than the other, but on the last lap the riders got down to business and McDonald came in first, with Batchelder a close second and Connors and Stoughton third and fourth.

The final heat found eight starters in line, O'Brien, McKinnon and McDonald on scratch, Stoughton on 10 yards, Goyette on 35, Connors at 50 and Batchelder and Alton on 70. This was a pretty race the three scratch men working together and catching the field in two laps. A sleighride was then started and the jockeying for position was pretty. On the last lap McKinnon started to let it out, but he was closely followed by McDonald, who beat him out at the tape, Goyette and O'Brien had a battle for third position, but the former won out and Mike finished fourth.

Nine men started in the five-mile open, there being a special prize at the end of every mile. This was really five races in one, as there was a lively sprint for the mile prizes.

Two laps were allowed the rider to get into position and when the gun was fired Goyette was setting the pace. Fred started out on the fifth lap to speed it up and set a fast pace until the seventh, when Connors went to the front and held the lead, winning the first mile.

In the second mile Mahan took the lead and held it until the seventh lap, when McDonald forged ahead and won the mile prize. Connors took the pace at the beginning of the third mile, but Kearney, a local rider, caught the bunch napping and got quite a lead, the other riders letting him go, until Goyette unwound his gear and letting it out started after Kearney and beat him out by several inches for the prize at the end of the third mile.

Kearney tried to lap the field in the fourth mile and he was encouraged on by the spectators, but when he had gained half a lap McDonald went out after him. After catching him McDonald continued on his ride and it looked as though he was going to lap the field. But after winning the fourth mile prize he slowed down and waited for the other riders.

The last mile was probably the slowest for the men were jockeying for position, but they got going on the sixth lap and kept it up until the finish, McKinnon crossing the tape a few inches ahead of O'Brien, McDonald being third and Stoughton fourth.

THE SUMMARY.

The summary was as follows:

One-Mile Handicap—First heat won by McKinnon, Boston, scratch; Goyette, Lowell, 35 yards, second; O'Brien, Lowell, scratch, third; Alton, Lowell, 70 yards, fourth; time, 2 minutes 7 seconds. Second heat won by McDonald, Somerville, scratch; Batchelder, Lowell, 70 yards, second; Connors, Lowell, 50 yards, third; Stoughton, Dorchester, 10 yards, fourth; time, 2 minutes 11 1-5 seconds. Final heat won by McDonald, McKinnon second, Goyette third, O'Brien fourth. Time, 2.09

Five-Mile Open—Won by McKinnon, Boston; O'Brien, Lowell, second; McDonald, Somerville, third; Stoughton, Dorchester, fourth. Time, 12.21.

Lap Prizes—First mile won by Connors, second by McDonald, third by Goyette and fourth by McDonald.

15-Mile Motor Paced Race—Between Nat Butler and Gussie Lawson, won by Butler by one mile and 110 yards. Time, 21 minutes 57 3-5 seconds.

IS BISHOP NOW

Rev. Thomas Hendrick Consecrated at Rome

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Aug. 24.—The consecration of the Rev. Thomas A. Hendrick of Rochester, N. Y., as bishop of Cebu, P. I., was performed yesterday, by Cardinal Satolli, in the Church of the Franciscan missionary nuns. The occasion acquired special importance, because one of Cardinal Satolli's assistants at the function was Archbishop Harty, the metropolitan of the Philippine Islands, while contemporaneously Cardinal Satolli consecrated Mgr. Cavallari as titular bishop of Philadelphia, Asia Minor, whom the Pope has appointed pro-vicar of Venice.

Pius X will still keep to himself the patriarchate, thus avoiding a revival of the question whether the Italian government has the right to choose the patriarch of Venice, which it claimed when Cardinal Sarto was appointed to that post.

The scene yesterday was picturesque in the extreme, when red-robed cardinals, surrounded by the bishops and a number of nuns clad entirely in white, proceeded to the symbolic consecration. The students of the American College came to Rome from their villa at Castel Gandolfo, specially to assist at the ceremony.

A collation was afterward served in the refectory to 200 distinguished guests, including Mgr. Kennedy and Fr. David Flemming. Cardinal Satolli later gave a dinner in honor of Bishop Hendrick, at which Archbishop Harty, Bishop Cavallard and Mgrs. Kennedy and Fowler were present. Archbishop Harty has booked his passage on La Touraine, which will leave Havre for New York, Aug. 29.

Bishop Hendrick, who has received instructions regarding the Philippines from the papal secretary of state, will have a private audience of Pius X, and afterward will leave for Ireland, as he wishes to have Irish nuns and monks sent to his diocese of Cebu, for teaching purposes. He also desires that several Irish priests be sent, at least for a time.

MASSACHUSETTS HELP

HELD AN ENJOYABLE OUTING ON SATURDAY.

The employes of the Massachusetts cotton mills, representing the yard and machine shop, held an outing at Spalding park Saturday afternoon and the feature of the fun was a ball game between the Huguenots and the Hoodoos, captained respectively by Bert Hall and Ted Barnes, the Hugues representing the yard and the Hoodoos the machine shop, and the Huguenots won by a score of 16 to 6.

The teams were: Hoodoos, Edward Lefteral, John Welch, Peter McLaughlin, Fred Schemnerhorn, Samuel McAleer, Edward Barnes, Eldrich Seeley, Wilfred Heathcock, William Simpson.

Huguenots, Eben Vose, Charles Barden, Matthew Hill, Adam Mellee, Joseph Harvey, Thomas Finnegan, Robert Arnold, Will Clark and Fred Starky. Umpire Jack Henderson gave good satisfaction, and Ashley Welcome kept score.

A great game of quoits was played during the ball game, in which Frank McLeod and Henry Jacobs after defeating several others were badly trimmed by two fellows who said that it was so easy that they didn't care to give their names.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon, Jack Hayes being in charge, and he was ably assisted by William Heathcock, C. S. Tuttle, N. D. Keables, Charlie Boutilier and others.

There is talk of another game between teams representing the Prescott and Massachusetts sides.

IN TEWKSBURY

AUTOMOBILE FRIGHTENED HORSE AND WOMAN WAS HURT.

Mrs. Charles Clark was thrown from her wagon Saturday afternoon and had a narrow escape from serious injury. Her horse became frightened at a passing automobile. The front wheels broke away from the wagon, throwing Mrs. Clark to the street. She was assisted to her home and Dr. Rollins was summoned. She was badly shaken up, but not seriously injured.

PIONEER REFORMER

JOHN FOLEY DIED AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—John Foley, New York's pioneer reformer, who brought the famous injunction suit which ended in the rout of the "Tweed ring," died late Saturday night after a lingering illness at his home in Lexington avenue. His health was shattered 20 years ago by his persistent fight for good government. Of recent years his son has had charge of his gold pen manufactory under the Astor house.

John Foley had an interesting career. Beginning with his election as a supervisor in 1860, he started a single-handed fight against "Boss Tweed," and did not let up until the famous ring was swept away. He joined with Commodore Vanderbilt in the project to extend Madison avenue to Yorkville, and was active for years in an effort to have a rapid transit railway between City hall and Harlem.

CHELMSFORD

Mr. Ferdinand Scoboria of South Chelmsford, who soon expects to leave town, was pleasantly surprised by his friends Friday, and John B. Emerson, on behalf of the many friends of Mr. Scoboria, presented him with a case of brushes and a dress suit case. A social time followed the presentation.

The club of West Chelmsford girls who have been dressing dolls this summer for children's wards in various hospitals under the direction of Miss Myra Durgin, held their last meeting at Miss Durgin's home Friday afternoon, when the dolls were on exhibition. There were 27 dolls. Ice cream, cake and fruit were served by Miss Durgin to the girls and a very pleasant time was enjoyed. Miss Durgin leaves Monday for a week's rest. After she returns the dolls will be on exhibition at her home.

SCHWAB MAKES A VENTURE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—Charles M. Schwab, with C. H. Matthieson, is now in control of the Chicago Pneumatic Tube company. Control of the company was obtained by the purchase of the holdings of Max Pam and his friends.

Mr. Schwab, it is understood, bought from Mr. Pam about $800,000 par value of stock, paying for it $70 a share.

LORD SALISBURY

Former Premier of England is Dead

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Lord Salisbury died at 9.05 Saturday evening. He had been steadily failing for several days, and was only kept alive by the constant use of oxygen.

A sharp relapse set in at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, and he failed gradually until the end.

It is understood that Lord Salisbury recently expressed a wish to be buried beside his wife at Hatfield. A proposal will undoubtedly be made to bury him in Westminster Abbey, but this will be declined by the relatives in accordance with his lordship's wishes.

KILLED HIMSELF

Milo Spring Temporarily Insane

By Associated Press to The Sun

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 24.—A special to the Telegram from Ashland, says Milo W. Spring, aged 49, manager of the Olmstead and Tuttle properties, shot himself in the head with a revolver, Saturday night, and died within an hour. Mr. Spring had been suffering from a kidney disorder and that is given as the cause for his suicide.

During the evening, Mr. Spring with his wife and daughter, went on a long pleasure drive. Returning the three were in the kitchen. A revolver that he usually carried, lay on a table and Mr. Spring stepped toward it. His daughter noting a peculiar look in his eyes, slipped between him and the table. He put his hands on her shoulders, set her aside, took the revolver, raised it to his temple, and exclaiming, "See that," fired.

TO LEGALIZE STRIKES

LAW IS BEING PREPARED IN RUSSIA.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24—A law legalizing strikes is in preparation. A general strike which began August 20 at Ekatirinoslav was followed by a collision between strikers and the military in which eleven strikers were killed and twelve wounded.

The governor has since announced that work will be generally resumed on the railroads and in the factories today.

TWO SEIZURES

LIQUOR OFFICERS WERE BUSY ON THE SABBATH.

Sunday afternoon the liquor squad visited the premises numbered 619 Lakeview avenue and seized two cases of beer.

Another seizure was made at the premises numbered 244 Fletcher street. The seizure at this place consisted of a keg of beer.

One Certainty

Some Lowell People Fully Realize it Now

When the back aches from kidney ills,
When urinary troubles annoy you,
There's a certain way to find relief.
A sure way to be cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills will do it.
Lowell people endorse this claim.

Mr. G. S. Emerson, of 512 Westford street, says:

"A lapse of time has increased my appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills. The cure effected by that remedy in 1896 when I procured a supply at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, and took a course of the treatment, has been permanent. Other members of my family have used the remedy during that period, and add their endorsement to mine."

The Vagaries of Fashion In the Gay French Capital

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Every one here is raving over the simplicity of the embroidered linen and voile gowns. These are deservedly popular for morning wear, the skirts just clearing the ground. The trotteuse skirt, which is really extremely unbecoming, is reserved for athletic exercises in the country. Some of these linen gowns have flat embroidered hats to match. Red and white mixtures are popular, and green and white looks delightfully cool on hot mornings. Morning hats should accompany all these dresses, reserving the picture hats for fete or carriage wear. We in Paris do not care to trail around in the morning with lace frocks and picture hats, as a good many Englishwomen here do. It is not considered chic.

White pongee, trimmed with lace, makes a beautiful afternoon gown. Long and short coats, children's suits and jackets are also most satisfactory in this material, as it washes like muslin. White pongee lends itself to so many different styles that it enjoys a well earned popularity without being common. It is extremely suitable for sunburst effects, as it falls naturally into just the folds necessary to this plaiting. It can be combined with all kinds of heavy lace with good results, or in tucks with feather stitching. A pongee petticoat is most serviceable for wear with light summer gowns and it washes nicely.

Our afternoon and reception toilets are perfect wonders, both in extravagance of cost and beauty. Irish lace and fine guipure trim the crepe de chine and mousseline de soie gowns. Black chantilly, jet and silver paillettes and beautiful embroideries are extensively used. An exquisite toilet worn by a pretty Parisian was in cream soie de chine, with a pelerine collar of Irish point mixed with black chantilly and decorated with a design of Louis XV. bowknots in silver sequins and edged with a green and white silk fringe, while a soft belt of green peau de soie was caught with Louis XV. clasps. The accordion plaited skirt was decorated on the hips with the same Irish crochet and black chantilly, which was also inserted at the hem. The sleeves were made of the soie de chine and the two laces, revealing most beautiful undersleeves of accordion plaited cream chiffon.

A soft, voluminous effect in sleeves and skirts seems to be the aim of the leading costumers. The skirts are more gauged than ever, and the smarter ones are cut all in one piece, with about twelve yards of fullness around the feet. They are lovely in thin fabrics, but are too heavy in cloth. Cloth skirts are full in the back and smooth over the hips, whence they fall full to the ground.

At this time of year one sees many beautiful traveling costumes. A charming example is of green and blue Scotch plaid. The skirt touches the ground all around and is plaited from the hip downward, the top being composed of strappings of the plaid with red pipings and little buttons to match. The little sack bolero has a red turnover collar and cuffs and a red leather belt. With this is worn a perfectly flat hat, trimmed with blue and green wings.

Some smart toilets are seen at the Cercle de Puteau. A striking black taffeta costume worn by the Vicomtesse d'Origny was made with a Louis XVI. coat with a jabot of old point d'alencon, and falling from the elbow sleeves were frills of the same lace. A large black hat was worn with this, trimmed with beautiful ostrich feathers. Another dainty gown, worn by the Countess de Rostang, was of champagne volle with a very deep collar of cluny and Irish lace and a large picture hat, covered with pale mauve satin and trimmed with white ostrich feathers.

Some new fall hats are made entirely of feathers. One which I saw was a large turban shape, the outside of the brim being composed of iridescent cog feathers, while the crown and inside of the brim were of pale blue feathers. A large plume made of the cog feathers, fastened with a jet buckle to the blue crown, swept over the brim and round the side, resting on the hair behind.

Extraordinarily becoming are the 1830, or pelerine shaped, bodices and the full, gathered skirts. The waist looks small by contrast, without any lacing. Truly the modes of that period, when treated by the skillful modern couturiere, leaves nothing to be desired. Grace is the order of the day. Mantles are of really beautiful shapes. An opera cloak of large patterned green and gold brocade, lined with yellow satin, entirely covers the dress. The bell sleeves have under lace ones threaded with gold, also open. A large collar of tucked net with a gold lace bordering falls over the shoulders. Another cloak of white satin embroidered with pearls, large and voluminous also, has a vandyked lace collar. A pink chiffon is made with large sleeves, drawn in at the wrist and sashed at the outside of the arm with net introduced and long ends of the soft crape tied in front.

For the bridesmaid there has appeared a delightful new material, double chiffon, a compromise between the very transparent and the opaque; something which is quite as suitable for day wear as evening. Double chiffon appears to be quite perfect for its purposes. As it is not necessary to use so much of it as of single chiffon, it will not be found at all expensive, while it wears much longer. Again, double chiffon lends itself to laces, either heavy or light, quite delightfully. I first saw this most satisfactory material applied with Irish and guipure, and I have since seen it with almost every other kind of lace on the list. Very few know that chiffon, both single and double, washes nicely. Single chiffon, when washed and pulled into shape without ironing, looks quite like the double. I once saw a pretty cream blouse of apparently double chiffon which, I was told, had been a chiffon skirt.

I saw a very pretty evening frock the other night in the always possible black and white. It was of black cluny lace. Its newness consisted in the clever use of white chiffon on the black lace. The white chiffon was appliqued with black lace to finish the decollete, and accordion plaited frills of the chiffon on the sleeves were bordered by a very effective little double ruche consisting of a black ruche inside of a white one. The method of arrangement of the black and white made an uncommonly good frock for a stout person. A gown of black net over white had a design in jet and sequins down the front and around the bottom of the skirt. The bodice was made with a pelerine of jet and a deep pointed collar of white embroidered mousseline. A little cluster of white mousseline roses nestled just below it.

I have lately seen some especially good evening frocks, many in soft, gleaming satins in white and pale tints. A pretty brown haired woman wore a frock of pale pink satin with a cloud-like arrangement of pink tulle around the shoulders. There were pearls about her neck and the comb in her hair was set with diamonds and pink coral.

The convenient lace mittens are worn with evening dress as well as with day costumes. For garden parties and outdoor fetes they are indispensable, as they permit the free use of the fingers while covering the hand and arm. By securing a good pattern they may be made very easily of net and lace and decorated with colors and designs to match the gown. They possess the advantage of wearing pretty rings and well kept finger nails. Among the new gloves also are some beauties in fine silk, with an embroidered design in vines on the back of the hand and around the top of the wrist. I have seen them in pale shades of gray, drab, biscuit and champagne. Pale olive enters into the coloring of nearly all of these designs, with a "touch of light blue, pink and black.

The smartly dressed mondaine attired for outdoor sports certainly merits description, as every detail in the costume is as practical as it is smart. The favorite tennis dress is of white linon. A short skirt, the length of a trotteuse, is comfortably full at the hem. Strappings of white and pink spotted pique, finished with round gold buttons at intervals, border the kilting or the flounce "en forme." A white tucked chemisette with a pink cravat and a white panama hat, draped with a scarf of lace falling in ends behind, complete the costume.

A smart little red cloth coat, decorated with gold buttons, is generally donned when the game is finished. These bright jackets are very becoming. Some are tight fitting and some resemble the sack coat. The Princess d'Isenburg wore a becoming skirt of white linon, strapped with blue and white spotted linon, with a well cut, tailor made red coat and a panama hat trimmed with a blue and white figured scarf.

That we are wearing bonnets nobody can doubt, and bonnets with strings at that, and, not content with turning our toques into bonnets by the addition of strings, we are now adding strings to our hats—not narrow velvet ones, such as used to be worn on our Daily Vardens some time ago, but wide, soft ribbon and mousseline strings, tied in a big bow under the chin. These are extremely becoming to some faces and seem to belong to the hats of the present day.

CATHERINE TALBOT.

Pretty Homemade Collars.

The turnover embroidered collars which are now so much in vogue may be made at home for very much less than their market price, out of embroidered handkerchiefs. The borders, cut from opposite sides of the handkerchief, only require to be mounted on cambric bands, to go inside the neckband of the dress, and there they are, two as pretty and dainty collars as you could buy. The third collar is made by joining out the remaining edges of the embroidery handkerchief; but it need not look patched if a little care be taken. One piece is used to form the main part of the collar, the other is cut and makes the two corners, which must be joined to it on the slant and at such an angle as enables you to get a collar of the desired length. Perhaps you will be inclined to think the third collar is an impossibility, but it really only calls for a little ingenuity in the matter of putting on the corners, as you will soon find when you take the work in hand.

Some clever girls make pretty square sailor collars from embroidered handkerchiefs. In that case all four corners of the handkerchief are left intact, and from one side a piece like an inverted U is cut for the neck. If you are puzzled at this description, take a sailor collar and lay it out flat, and you will then easily see how to cut your handkerchief.

The Mohair Costume.

Mohair gowns are now to be seen in every color and of many different textures, so that it seems as though for every occasion a mohair gown is suitable. First and foremost, for a traveling gown a mohair is most desirable, as the material "sheds" the dust, does not easily get tumbled, and, in fact, will stand a lot of hard wear without looking shabby, and a good brushing off and sponging make it look like new. Black or blue in dark shades are the smartest colors to choose, and a coat is far better than a waist, for the material even in the softest weaves is too harsh to be easily made to fit well. But a long coat, with skirt to match and a waist of the same color, but different material, makes a smart costume.

Style In Belts.

The greatest novelties in belts are the new suede belts, the backs wide so that they drape prettily around the waist, joining on to the straight front and side pieces by means of large silver or gold rings. These are to be had in all colors, but with a blue serge nothing looks smarter than the natural colored suede. In kid, too, are some of the newest belts, so soft and supple that they may be drawn round the figure like a ribbon, or left straight, for they are shaped so as to be wider behind than in front. Colored patent leather belts are smart, but are not so easy to arrange as suede.

Early Fall Tailor Suit

THIS pretty costume can be made of tweed or light weight cloth. The strappings on the cuffs and shoulders are piped with satin and the bolero is finished with buttons to match. The sleeves are represented with the latest cuff, cut with the sleeve and plaited to fit the arm. The hat is made of the same material and has a touch of ribbon matching the necktie.

The Characteristic Blouse.

There is, perhaps, no more characteristic garment than the shirt waist or blouse of the up to date girl, and it should be most carefully chosen. Whether it be simple or elaborate must depend not only upon the state of the wearer's pocket, but still more on the occasion for which it is worn. One thing is essential to it, and that is its immaculate cleanliness and neatness.

The Convenient Coffee Coat.

The coffee coat is the piece de resistance in a small outfit. It smartens ordinary blouses (with low or "French" neck) for semievening toilet, and it can be worn out of doors to veil the blouse at garden parties or for smart calls.

Embellishing the House With an Indian Cozy Corner

A FASHIONABLE as well as a really artistic and unique effect in fitting up the library or sitting room can be obtained by the upbuilding of an Indian cozy corner. For this the chief essential may be said to be Navajo blankets, which serve alike for a couch covering and for rugs. These blankets range in price from $1 to $500. The finest specimens are old bayettas, which are very scarce and expensive, as no duplicates are produced in the present day. The colors used in these, especially the red, were obtained from cloth brought into Mexico by the Spanish and sold to the padres, who in turn sold it to the Indians at a handsome profit. This fine cloth was raveled and the thread woven into blankets.

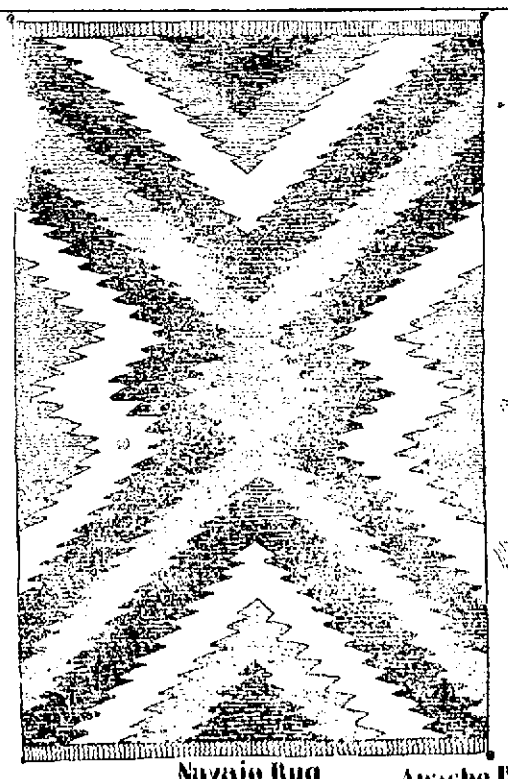

It will thus be seen that the cost of the materials was large in the beginning, and as it is long since any of this variety has been made the bayettas are quite rare. But they are very durable and the colors are absolutely unfading. Then there are the more common and less expensive blankets woven by the Navajo squaws of the present day. These Indians raise the sheep, make their own yarn and dye it with colors obtained from herbs and minerals. A bright reddish orange or flame color enters largely into the coloring; also scarlet, black, white and blue. The skill with which the savages blend the colors and weave the intricate patterns is wonderful and curious. Every thread is woven in and out the warp on the rough loom by hand and pressed down tightly with a little stick until the rug is as stiff as a board.

For a couch covered with one of these blankets there are sofa pillows made of sheepskins in red, green, orange and all the shades of tan and brown. Some are painted with Indian heads and some are worked in beads, so that you may repose with your cheek resting against the war paint and feathers of the bloodthirsty Geronimo or Rain-in-the-Face, while your feet are holding down Sitting Bull or some of his ilk. These cushion covers are made from a skin much larger than the cushion proper, the superfluous edges being slashed to make a deep fringe and the top and bottom covers laced together over the cushion with colored cord or ribbon passed through holes made in the leather. There are also cushions covered with wool materials in bright colored stripes and designs, filled with fir and pine needles, while some may be covered with beautiful Mexican drawn work, put on over a dark color.

The wall behind your couch may be draped with one of the bright colored Mexican serapes or shawls, the artistic value of which is beyond price, but intrinsically it is anywhere from $5 to $60. Or you may decorate the space with such interesting trifles as the "headache sticks" (war clubs) of the Sioux and Apache tribes. These harmless looking weapons are made of a smooth, oval stone as large as a good sized hen's egg, fastened in some ingenious manner to a strong stick about a foot long, which serves as a handle. The whole is then wound tightly with strips of thin leather and completely covered with designs in bright colored beads. The top of the handle is decorated with little tassels or fringes of slashed leather. However innocent and ornamental these playthings may look, upon examination you will decide that a good, hard tap administered by a strong and supple savage wrist would crack a skull of almost any density and cause as severe a headache as any quantity of lobster a la Newburg, or cold beans and hard cider overnight.

There are also Tuscarora and Winnebago tomahawks, which give you the shivers to gaze upon, even though they are hung by an inoffensive ribbon to the ornate peg in your coziest den. They remind you so forcibly of the Bindigeen depicted in the story book of "Jack the Giant Killer," at the thought of which you have not yet got over having little thrills of terror creep up your spine. To accompany these are lances of rawhide, feathered headdresses, decorated bows and arrows, Yaqui quirts or riding whips, Mogui scalp belts woven of bright colored wool, strings of wampum, which, by the way, is becoming quite scarce and expensive. You can spend as much as you please on this curious Indian shell money, as every tribe had its own coinage and there is a great variety. The most of it is, however, composed of little disks of curved shell, from an eighth to a quarter of an inch in diameter, strung through a hole in the center and separated at intervals by bits of turquoise or anthracite.

A medicine mask, hung at the head of your couch, might invite repose. These are also becoming as rare as they are hideous, with their Medusa-like cast of countenance, horrible rolling hue, wild eyes and lone, streaming hair from an enemy's scalp. There are also dainty squaw caps, buckskin leggings and moccasins embroidered with dyed porcupine quills and colored beads. Other pleasing ornaments are calumet pipes, hand carved and painted canes of a horribly murderous short, thick variety and various kinds of bead and porcupine quill work in pouches, head ornaments, knife sheaths, amulet bags and belts. These bead belts are simple and easily made. A tiny loom and outfit, including a book of designs and instructions, can be purchased from any of the Indian goods stores.

On a table covered with painted leather or a cloth of Mexican drawn work may be gathered a collection of horned toads, tarantulas, trapdoor spiders and centipeds, mounted to serve as paperweight; curiously decorated water bottles and pottery from the Maricopa, Zuni and Moqui tribes; quaint Pueblo idols, made of clay, representing gods of rain, plenty, peace and pain, with hideous distorted faces; paper weights in Mexican onyx.

Heads of chiefs in war paint and feathers on whole sheepskins may be tacked up around the wall with excellent decorative effect, and the beautiful baskets of the different tribes may be scattered about with as much profusion as the purse allows. The most beautiful of these baskets are made by the Moqui or Hopi tribes. These Indians live on the buttes of northern Arizona, and the beauty of coloring and symbolism of their baskets outrival all the other tribes. Their large ceremonial baskets make imposing ornaments. Then there are Hoopa acorn baskets; Pomo, Klamath, Shasta, Shoshone, Apache, Pima and a host of others, not omitting the sweet grass and splint baskets of the northern Indian. The latter baskets are easily woven, and the materials can also be obtained from the Indian goods stores. Indeed, the making of these baskets, as well as some of the more difficult kinds, has become quite a fad. There is no difficulty in making them if a book of instructions is obtained, and in some places classes are formed for teaching the art.

The little birch bark canoes, baskets and boxes are both pretty and ornamental. Some of these fashioned by the northern Indians are worked with porcupine quills in red, blue, green, purple and white in queer artistic designs. Among the most highly prized treasures of my childhood was a little workbox made from the brown inner bark of the birch, embroidered thickly with porcupine quill work in bright colors, especially the cover, which had strong hinges of the quills. I have seen, too, ornamental toboggans, snowshoes and other articles of a similar make.

A corner shelf to hold some of the smaller things may be covered with a piece of sheepskin, with a slashed fringe hanging from it and festooned with one of the necklaces made of black hawks' beaks, tipped with vermilion and strung with large beads alternating with the beaks. Or perhaps you would prefer a necklace of buffaloes' teeth, stained red and strung also with beads between. The gory looking teeth have a disagreeably human appearance, and in these days when the necklace holds dominion one can imagine the sensation an up to date and faddish dame would make should she appear with one of them depending from her fair neck.

A corner furnished in this way might not be a cheap one, but it would be very odd and interesting.

What To Eat

ICE CREAM WITH HOT CHOCOLATE—A delicious and simple dessert is composed of ice cream and hot chocolate sauce. Break up the chocolate, put it in an agate saucepan and melt over the fire, stirring it well until it is a thick, smooth paste. Have the ice cream in brick form. Cut in slices and when they are on the plates put two or three tablespoonfuls of the chocolate sauce over each slice.

TONGUE TOASTETTES.—Keep the remains of cold boiled tongue, hang it up until quite dry and hard, then grate as much as is requisite. Put this into a saucepan with enough cream to make it into a nice paste, add pepper and salt to taste. Warm up and serve on small squares of buttered toast.

CUCUMBER SOUP.—Peel a large cucumber and lay it in cold water for about half an hour; then divide into pieces an inch thick. Place these in a stewpan with salt and pepper to taste, two onions, a sprig of parsley and sufficient veal or fowl stock to cover all. Simmer till the cucumber is tender, then take away the onion and parsley and pass the rest through a sieve. Fry together, without browning, one ounce each of butter and flour; on to this pour the cucumber puree. Bring to the boil while stirring, then add sufficient milk to make the soup of the right consistency. Just before serving add a beaten egg with a tablespoonful of cream. Have ready dice of cucumber, which have previously been boiled in salted water till tender, and serve in the soup.

CHEESE CUSTARDS.—Butter some small cups thoroughly and cut some thin slices of bread and butter into small dice, arranging them in a pattern on the side of the cups. Scatter grated cheese—parmesan, if possible—over all. Make a custard with the yolks of two eggs and three-quarters of a pint of milk. At the last minute before cooking add the whites beaten to a stiff froth. Season with salt, white pepper and cheese. Fill up the molds and steam very slowly till set. Turn out to serve and garnish with chopped parsley or truffles.

LAWRENCE MEN

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY AT BRUNSWICK, ME.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BRUNSWICK, Me., Aug. 24.—Deputy Sheriff John Leonard arrived on the pullman train last night, from New Castle, with four prisoners, James G. Stevenson, aged 20; Charles Hogan, 19, John Wood, 18, and Harry Lasley, 18, all of Lawrence, Mass., who are charged with entering the residence of M. H. Blackwell, Saturday, and stealing a pocketbook and other goods.

Deputy Sheriff Leonard caught them yesterday, a mile west of New Castle. They confessed to the larceny, some of the property being found in their possession.

A charge of vagrancy will also be made against them. It is thought that they may be connected with some of the other breaks recently made in this town.

DYNAMITE EXPLODED

ATTEMPT MADE TO WRECK A TRAIN.

By Associated Press to The Sun

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 24.—An apparent attempt to wreck two passenger trains on the Missouri Pacific railroad was made near Quindaro, Kan., Saturday night.

A charge of dynamite was exploded under the engine of a train from St. Joseph and an open switch was placed for one outbound.

The latter train was uninjured and the incoming train escaped with only the headlights and the windows of the cab of the engine shattered.

The dynamite was placed on the track at a place known as Big Eddy. When the train reached Big Eddy it was running at the rate of 50 miles an hour.

When the engine was stopped it was found that a large hole had been blown out under one of the rails and one-half of a tie was gone. There were 110 passengers on the train.

HOTELS RAIDED

State Police at Lake Wachusett

GAMBLING MACHINES SEIZED IN SOME PLACES

Beer and Whiskey Also Seized

By Associated Press to The Sun

FITCHBURG, Aug. 24.—District police officers Neal, Lettney, Molt, Chittendon, Hodges, and Hammond raided the Jennison House and Wachusett Lake House, in Princeton, on opposite sides of Wachusett lake, yesterday afternoon, and seized large quantities of beer and liquor at each place.

At the Jennison House they seized a gambling machine known as a musical cabinet, in which nickels are played on numbers. Marcellus C. Terry was arrested and locked up at the police station here.

No arrest was made at Wachusett Lake House, but Sever E. Beaulieu was named in the search warrant, as proprietor of the house.

The raids were made on four Fitchburg police court warrants, obtained by George C. Nell. Two warrants were taken out for each place, one for liquor and one for gambling implements.

Officers Neal and Molt searched the Wachusett Lake House and seized 90 bottles of lager and a small quantity of whisky. Officers Lettenay, Chittendon, Hodges and Hammond raided the Jennison House and found 190 bottles of lager and a gallon of whiskey. In a building described as the bowling alley they found and seized a gambling machine. The liquor and machine were loaded into an express team and turned over to the custody of the Fitchburg police.

Evans E. Davis, agent of the New England watch and ward society, raided the Jennison House six weeks ago, and seized two gambling machines, similar to the one seized yesterday, and Terry then paid a fine of $25 in the Fitchburg police court on the charge of keeping gaming implements.

The raids yesterday were the result of an investigation by the state officers on complaints made to Chief Rufus R. Wade, that the laws relative to liquor selling and gambling were not being enforced by town officials and that there were gross violations at both resorts, which are within a short distance of the State reservation.

TWO MEN KILLED

NEWSPAPER TRAIN GOING MILE A MINUTE DITCHED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 24—A special train of the New York Central railroad carrying New York city newspapers, was wrecked at Gulf bridge in this city yesterday.

Engineer Robert Lilley and fireman Peter Conley, both of Albany, were killed. A number of others were injured, none, however, fatally.

The train, which was running at the rate of a mile a minute, was composed of an engine and three express cars.

The front car, in which were all of those injured, followed the engine down the slope.

The bodies of engineer Lilley and fireman Conley were burned in the wreckage, but were later recovered.

SCREAMED AT NIGHT WITH PAIN

Suffered With Nervous Prostration Over Three Years.

Read this testimonial over and over until you have learned every word so that you can repeat it at the family circle. It is just as it came from the lips of Mrs. Josephine Camire, an estimable lady residing at 39 Lilley avenue, Lowell, Mass.

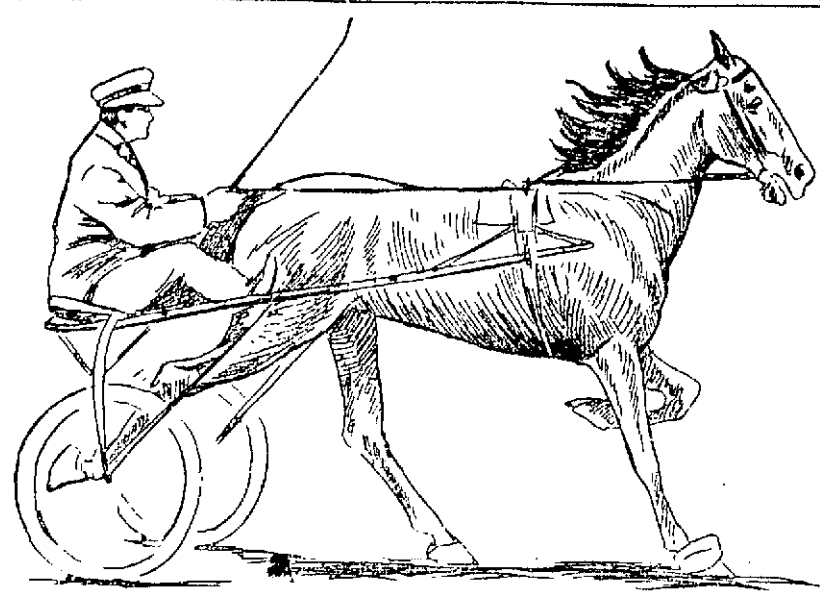

She was permanently cured by Dr. Bartlett's Vital Force, and it is more valid proof that it cures where other remedies failed completely.

"For more than three years I was a sufferer from nervous prostration. My nerves were completely unstrung about all the time and the least excitement caused me to collapse altogether. The various advertised medicines were all persistently tried and much money was expended covering a period of five years. I was treated professionally during all my years of suffering and the attendance of even the best specialists failed to give me nothing more than a slight relief. I even went to the General hospital in Boston, but it proved fruitless, the physicians there not helping me at all. A terrible pain in my right side accompanied my nervous troubles, and at times I used to wake up in the night screaming with pain. The pain in my side was neuralgia. Many sleepless nights were spent all these years. My appetite was gone and I considered myself a broken-down woman, notwithstanding that I dragged myself about the house when able to be up at all, and did my housework the best I could. Felt tired all of the time and after the winter of 1899, being confined to my bed all of the winter, I was wretched both in body and mind. I was about to give up in despair, when I was advised to consult Dr. Bartlett. He gave me a bottle of Vital Force right away, and nothing else. This was last spring. I noticed a decided improvement in my condition at the close of a couple of weeks. I continued to take this wonderful medicine and continued to improve. My nerves became quieted, I found my old-time strength returning, my appetite increased and joy of all joys came to me when I found the terrible pain which had been my companion for many years leave me altogether. I now consider myself strong, and sleep as well as I did before the beginning of my nervous trouble, and no one knows what I suffered and what I am now free from but myself. If there are other women in the world whose nerves are shattered and all run down, I want to say to one and all take Dr. Bartlett's Vital Force, for surely what it has done for me it will do for others."

CARS CRASHED

Women Fainted and 30 Passengers Injured

By Associated Press to The Sun

MALDEN, Aug. 24.—There was a serious electric car collision on Salem street at 9.45 last night, when a beach car of the Boston & Northern crashed into the rear of a Boston elevated car, bound to Maplewood, from Sullivan square terminal.

The elevated car had stopped at a white post opposite the entrance to Salem street cemetery to let passengers off. The car bound for Revere beach, containing five passengers, with motorman Michael Foley and conductor Charles Wilkinson, which was following closely, struck it with great force. There was a loud crash which brought the residents of that section to the scene.

Foley was pinned in the wreck and had his right foot so badly crushed that it may have to be amputated.

There were about 30 passengers in the head car. They received a severe shaking up, and several women fainted.

There was great excitement for a few moments, as it was thought a large number of passengers had been badly injured, but the police reported that all the injured except Foley were able to go to their homes unassisted.

Motorman Foley claims the brake on his car would not hold, and that he did everything in his power to prevent the collision. He was taken to the Malden hospital.

The rear car was badly wrecked, the entire front being stove in, while the heavy car of the Boston Elevated was only slightly damaged.

SAD ACCIDENT

Charles Giroux Fractured Skull and Spine

WHILE DIVING AT LONG POND

Struck His Head on Sunken Rock

Charles Giroux, janitor of the Pawtucket school, and one of Lowell's best known and most popular young French-American residents, was probably fatally injured while in bathing at Long Pond, Saturday evening.

Mr. Giroux is a member of the Fleur de Lis club, which has a summer cottage on the shores of Long Pond, and on Saturday about 5 o'clock, went down to the pond to swim. When at a point where the water is supposed to be very deep, he dived into the water and striking his head on a sharp sunken rock, dislocated and fractured his spinal column and sustained a fracture of the skull.

At first it was thought he was testing his ability to remain under water, but some of his companions noting the position of his body in the dark waters, quickly pulled him out. He was unconscious and bleeding badly and was carried to the club house.

Dr. P. Brunnelle was sent for and he arrived in an hour while a clergyman from the Oblate rectory also went out to the camp and administered the last rites of the Catholic church to the unfortunate man.

Dr. Brunnelle found Giroux to be suffering from the injuries as above mentioned, and still unconscious upon his arrival at the camp. Later he was carried to Lowell to the home of his brother, John Giroux, 417 Moody street, and yesterday morning he was taken to St. John's hospital, where an operation was performed on his spine.

His chances for recovery are decidedly slim and in the event of his recovery it is feared that he will be crippled for life.

Giroux is about 29 years of age and is unmarried. He resides at 32 Cullaru street. He is a brother of Alderman David A. Giroux.

The hose race will be a feature of the Y. M. C. I. carnival Thursday.

WATER BOARD

WILL TACKLE MILL SUPPLY PROBLEM TONIGHT.

The water board will meet this evening with the city engineer to formulate some plan for supplying the Locks & Canals system with city water. The valves between the two systems will remain permanently closed.

A mill man of many years' experience, suggests that if the mills furnish city drinking water to operatives, they also furnish ice and thus save a waste of water. "At present," he said, "the pipes are kept warm by proximity to the steam pipes and the water is hot when it first comes out of the faucet. Hence it is allowed to run and much is wasted. It would be cheaper for the mills to supply ice."

WITH A SCREAM

MAN THREW UP HIS HANDS AND DROWNED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

HINGHAM, Aug. 24—James Burns of Dorchester was drowned in five feet of water at Hockley stream, West Hingham, yesterday morning, within sight of several friends.

About 10 Burns said he was going to bathe and shortly afterwards he appeared on the beach clad in a pair of overalls. When about 10 paces from shore he shouted to his friends on the bank: "I'll show you how to swim." He proceeded to wade into the water until it reached the middle of his chest, when of a sudden he gave a scream, threw up his hands and sank.

Boards and ropes were thrown toward the spot, but he did not rise, and so dragging was begun.

About 2 Frank Whalen and Thomas White of East Weymouth recovered the body about 50 feet up stream from where Burns sank.

Medical Examiner Spooner pronounced it a case of accidental drowning.

Burns was 21 years old and was employed by Charles Eaton of Dorchester. He leaves a sister, who is married, and resides in Dorchester.

FOR TEN DAYS

WOMAN HAS BEEN HICCOUGHING BUT WILL RECOVER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 24—Elizabeth, the 16-year old daughter of William Anderson, has been hiccoughing for ten days. The hiccoughs began after a hearty meal.

Up to last Thursday she has had fits of hiccoughing and hysteria lasting from two to four hours. She was taken on Thursday to the Greenwich emergency hospital, where she now is.

Greenwich physicians say it is the worst case they have ever seen. The hysteria continues, but the hiccoughing spells now last but an hour at a time, and the doctors say she will recover.

MUST NOT TALK

INJUNCTION GRANTED AGAINST AN OMAHA MAN.

By Associated Press to The Sun

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 24—Many peculiar injunctions have been issued by Omaha judges, but the one granted by Judge Slabaugh of the District court Saturday is considered a record-breaker.

By its terms John McRae, a well known citizen, is enjoined from speaking to his wife or any of his children.

He was warned by the court that if he failed to observe the order he would have to pay the penalty of being in contempt. It is said this is the first injunction of the kind ever issued by a court in this country.

Mrs. McRae has instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, charging cruelty.

JOSEPH JEFFERSON

THE EMINENT ACTOR SAYS

Paw Paw Made a New Stomach for Him

It Cured Him

Of Dyspepsia and a Severe Stomach Trouble

Mr. Joseph Jefferson, veteran actor, never discovers new plays, but he is constantly discovering new ways of renewing health and of making millions.

Now he has discovered the Paw Paw.

Not that the Paw Paw hasn't been known before, or that it hasn't been used in just the way he is putting it to use.

But when a man as eminent, as notable as Mr. Jefferson seemingly discovers anything, or takes hold of it and loudly sings its praises, that thing is bound to become better known.

In the dictionary this fruit will be found spelled with three "p's" or with two. For those who belong to the botanical cult, it will be of interest to know that it is a tropical American tree of the passion flower family with fruit.

The fruit tastes like a muskmelon that is too ripe. You can eat as much as you want or as little as you want.

Now what doctor can say that for his medicine?

The actor says two weeks of eating this fruit is worth three stomach specialists, a stomach pump used daily, a hundred bottles of soda mint tablets, a lifetime of pepsin and years of strict diet.

He is not selfish with his find, for he tells without hesitation those of the tourists whom he knows what the Paw Paw will do for the stomach.

The excellence of all this is that the statement is true.

This little fruit has always been a great aid to digestion and a renewal of the stomach.

It hasn't suddenly become so because Mr. Jefferson discovered it.

Ever since the latter days of the seventeenth century the pirates that sailed the Caribbean seas, the Spanish hidalgoes who made merry in their porticoed houses amid the orange trees, and the sinuous, brainy Seminoles, who were as much a part of that middle jungle as the alligators and the rattlesnakes, knew the value of this sweet smelling fruit.

All of these not only used the fruit, but made the leaves of value, too.

When a piece of meat was tough, when a bird was old, it was put between the leaves of the Paw Paw until it became juicy and tender.

Everything was submitted to the action of these leaves. There was nothing so tough that two of these leaves couldn't soften it.

A strip of the leaf was dropped into the boiling pot and smuggled into the roasting pan.

It gave to the food the right quality, and if preceded or succeeded by the fruit, man ate well and laughed merrily afterward without recourse to any one of the thousand of articles that man takes today to insure peace between his stomach and his food.

Everyone knew of it in that old country. But Spaniards and Indians keep their secrets; to them, now as always, the person from the outer states was a foreigner.

But now that Mr. Jefferson has discovered the real spring of Ponce de Leon, think you he will keep it a secret?

He cannot. He hasn't the native quality of secrecy.

He praises the Paw Paw on the white bench, in the written letter, in the warm March surf, in the dance room, down at the casino, where the Hawaiians play their wierd music at Palm Beach, Fla.

He will insist upon making the Paw Paw famous.

"Keep this up Jefferson," said his friend the other day, "and you will be really Rip Van Winkle in age."

"I'll go him one better," said Jefferson, "for if I keep on eating Paw Paw I'll live merrily during those years that he slept."—Philadelphia Sunday Press.

What Paw Paw did for Mr. Jefferson Munyon's Paw Paw will do for you. It will enable you to eat what you like and all you like, as it positively cures dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It will vitalize your blood and put your liver into a healthy condition.

REGAINED SIGHT

CHILD MADE TO SEE BY USE OF RADIUM.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—By the use of radium, the mysterious substance which scientists pronounce the greatest discovery of modern time, Tillie Spitznadel, a child of 11, who for eight years has been totally blind, has been made to see.

Her sight has not been fully restored, but yesterday she was able to distinguish moving objects and easily to discern light from darkness.

Dr. Amon R. Jenking, of 17 State street, attached to the Merchant marine hospital service, and William J. Hammer, a consulting electrical engineer, of 153 West 46th street, performed the experiments. They are preparing to continue them, but until the result is definitely known they are reluctant to discuss the case. The progress thus far made leads them to hope for success.

If the sight of Tillie Spitznadel is fully restored it will be strong proof that the blind can be made to see.

OFFICE, LOWELL, MASS.

Pledged to Absolute Sale

The Firm of J. H. Burke & Co., Centralville, to be dissolved, its Business closed out and its affairs wound up.

ALL WITHOUT RESERVE OR LIMIT TO THE HIGHEST BIDDERS, on the respective premises (except first parcel to be sold) regardless of weather conditions, at the appointed hours, Wednesday and Thursday, September 2d and 3d, 1903.

The realties comprise the large and modern business and tenement block at the corner of Coburn and West Third streets; the store house and stable property, West Third street; the thirteen-tenement block, 76-82 West Third street; the four-tenement block, 72-74 West Third street; the two-family house and cottage on the southerly corner of West Third and Albion streets; four lots of land on the easterly side of West Third street, between Bridge and Albion streets; cottage house 13 and 15 Coburn street; lot of land on Bridge street, nearly opposite Thirteenth street; six lots of land on Humphrey street and the Critchett land in Dracut. The grocery stock is one of the largest and most complete in Lowell. There are three horses, four wagons, three pungs, four sets of harness, etc.

WEDNESDAY AT 1.45 O'CLOCK P.M.

THE CRITCHETT LAND, Dracut, not to be sold upon the premises, but at the block at the corner of Coburn and West Third streets, Lowell. It must be looked over by intending purchasers before the hour of sale. To examine the land, leave Lakeview avenue about opposite and slightly beyond the paper mills, or between numbers 1311 and 1321 Lakeview avenue, through the yard of the house numbered 1321, taking the middle path. There is about seven acres of it, covered with a scattered growth of young oaks, with some birch. The center is high, very sightly, and an attractive spot. It is but a short way in from Lakeview avenue, over a right of way that at present is more or less overgrown. It once had a set of buildings, now gone, and during the lifetime of Mr. Critchett most of it was under cultivation. The soil is fertile and strong, and it will not cost much to put it back where it was a few years ago. It is nearly all fenced.

AT 2 O'CLOCK, P. M.

The solid, substantial and comparatively new three-story, gravel roofed block of modern construction, numbered 19-25 Coburn street, 84-88 West Third street, and within 125 feet of Lakeview avenue. It has three well lighted, steam heated stores and six flats. Two of the stores have water closets and so has each of the flats. The entire building is lighted by gas and in first class condition. It is in every respect as good and complete a block, of its type, as there is in Lowell. The six flats are rented for $52 a month; the three stores now occupied by the firm would easily rent for $60 a month. The lot has an area of about 4836 square feet, with a frontage of 88 feet on Coburn street and 86 feet on West Third street; it is not all occupied by the block, which can be extended on the Coburn street frontage.

AT 2.20 O'CLOCK, P. M.

The store house and stable property, south of and adjoining the above lot, comprises a frame two and one-half story building, 75x20 feet, built for heavy storage, stable and wagon house uses; the street or storage end is 22x20 feet; the stable or opposite end is 22x20 feet, with one box and three ordinary stalls; between the storage and stable is the open front wagon shed, 31x20 feet, with storage overhead; under each end is a cellar. The lot has a frontage of 52 feet on West Third street; a depth of 76 feet and an area of 2372 square feet. This building was erected with the thought in mind of its possible conversion into a tenement block.

AT 2.40 O'CLOCK P. M.

The large block of three full stories, with slated pitch roof, 76-82 West Third street, and adjoining and south of the preceding lot. It is a good building in good condition; has thirteen tenements, keeps rented, and brings $20.25 a week, which is all collected. There are seven water closets. The lot has a frontage of 60½ feet, a depth of 80 feet, an area of 4735 square feet, and a frontage of 81 feet on a 12 foot passageway on the southerly side. This is an excellent paying parcel of renting realty.

AT 2.50 O'CLOCK P. M.

The four-family house, 72 and 74 West Third street. It has two and one half stories, is well constructed, finely arranged and a desirable property, that rents for $35 every month. This is one of the most satisfactory properties the firm owns. It is lighted by gas, and each tenement has a water closet. The lot has an area of about 2500 square feet, a street frontage of 30 feet and a frontage of over 80 feet on a 12 foot passageway.

AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

The snug, compact and well paying corner property ($22 a month) consisting of the two family houses, 67 and 69 West Third street, the cottage house, 5 Albion street, and about 2650 square feet of land, 36 feet on West Third street and 75 feet on Albion street. The premises are lighted by gasc, have two bath rooms and three water closets, all in prime condition.

AT 3.10 O'CLOCK P. M.

Four level and attractive lots of land, having frontages of 40 and 45 feet on West Third street and depths of 115 feet; are the only lots of land remaining upon the street unimproved; sidewalks and sewers are all in and assessments paid; they are surrounded by a good class of renting property and property that pays well. It seems to us that the demand for these should be sharp, for the simple reason of their location, close proximity to business, mills, etc., the good neighborhood, and the fact that they are less than ten minutes' walk from Merrimack square. We were about to begin to improve them, but the sudden decision to wind up our business has stopped us.

AT 3.40 O'CLOCK P. M.

The double cottage and lot of land 13 and 15 Coburn street. It rents all the time and is sure to bring $3.50 or more every week. The street frontage of the lot is 43 feet, the area about 1812 square feet and the shape irregular. There are two water closets and other conveniences upon the premises. This property will pay for itself every few years.

AT 4.10 O'CLOCK P. M.

6000 square feet of land on Bridge street between Jewett and Richardson streets, or adjoining the residence of Oscar A. Hall, No. 952 Bridge street, and opposite the Amos B. French estate. The street before the lot is paved, the electric cars pass every few minutes, it is the first unimproved lot on the west side of the street from Central bridge, has a frontage of 60 feet, a depth of 100 feet and is ready for a building.

AT 5 O'CLOCK P. M.

Six lots of land on Humphrey street, north of 18th and 19th streets. Humphrey street is accepted, has sewer past the lots with assessments paid, sidewalks from Methuen street nearly to the lots, also gas and water. The Bridge street cars are within three or four minutes' walk, and the Christian Hill line is to be extended through Beacon street to Eighteenth street, so as to be still nearer. Humphrey street is improved or built upon, from Methuen street nearly to the lots, and much of the territory to the east is thickly settled with pretty and comfortable homes. The lots have areas of from 5000 to 6374 square feet, and frontages of from 58 to 77 feet; four are on the westerly and two on the easterly side of the street. They are high, dry, have extended views, are in a pleasant neighborhood, accessible and handy to down town.

THURSDAY, AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M.

In lots to suit purchasers, all the groceries, store fixtures, horses, wagons, pungs, harnesses, etc.

The purchaser of the Critchett land must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers the sum of $100 just as soon as the lot is struck off. The purchaser of the block at the corner of Coburn and West Third streets must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $550 just as soon as that lot is struck off. STAGING FELL

Edward Quinn May Have Concussion of Brain

Edward Quinn, an old employe of the city, was injured while at work on the Court street sewer Saturday afternoon and Dr. Welch, who is attending him, is afraid that he is suffering from concussion of the brain.

While he was coming up out of the sewer excavation, the staging collapsed and he was thrown into the pit. He was unconscious when fellow employes reached him and he was removed to a nearby field where he remained unconscious for two hours. Then he was obliged to walk to his home on South Highland street.

His left arm is powerless and he is injured internally. He has been employed by the city for nineteen years. Fourteen years ago he was injured by the explosion of some dynamite.

FUNERALS

McMAHON—The funeral of John McMahon took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late home, 502 Gorham street. The last rites of the church were said at the Catholic cemetery by Rev. W. H. Grant. At the church, the choir under the direction of John Warburton, sang appropriate music. There were a large number of floral tributes, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held. The bearers were: John, James, Michael and Daniel McMahon, sons of the deceased; James Morrison and John McMahon, nephews. Burial took place in the Catholic cemetery, in charge of Undertaker MacDermott.

BRENNAN—The funeral of Joseph L. Brennan was held Saturday afternoon from the home of his parents, Lawrence and Mary Brennan, 168 Mammoth road, Collinsville. The service was at 2 o'clock and was largely attended. There were many floral offerings. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery of Lowell, under the direction of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

HOLDEN—The funeral of Alice Holden was held yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents, 98 John street, and burial was in the Catholic cemetery, in charge of Undertaker C. H. Molloy.

HEAPS—The funeral of John Heaps was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home of his parents, 123 Hampshire street, and burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertaker Molloy. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful.

HORAN—The funeral of Richard F. Horan took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from the home of his mother, Mrs. Catherine Horan, 24 Swift street. The funeral cortege proceeded to the Sacred Heart church, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated, at 9 o'clock by Rev. John P. Reynolds, O. M. I.

The choir was in attendance and the Gregorian mass was sung. During the service appropriate solos were rendered by members of the choir. There was a profusion of beautiful and appropriate floral offerings in evidence, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held by his many friends and acquaintances.

The bearers were John and Walter Finnegan, William Devine, John Craig, John Haley and Joseph Curran, chums and playmates of the deceased.

The interment was in the Catholic cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Reynolds, O. M. I. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers John J. O'Connell & Co.

PADDOCK—The funeral of William Paddock took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of his parents, John and Annie, 25 Winter street. The interment was in the Catholic cemetery, and was under the direction of Funeral Director Thomas J. McDermott.

TYERS—The funeral of Alice T. Tyers, child of Walter and Delia, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her parents, 36 Union street. The interment was in the Catholic cemetery, and was under the direction of Funeral Director Thomas J. McDermott.

TOO MUCH LIQUOR

Judge Hadley Expressed Himself Today

Said There is Too Much Drunkenness in Lowell—Old Time Crowd in Police Court

"There is too much drunkenness in Lowell—too many in court for a Monday morning. The police should be more on the alert this is a poor showing for a no-license town. It would seem that there is no need for thirsty ones to go to Woburn, Lawrence, or Nashua."—Judge Hadley in police court today.

Thirty-four drunks, including several women, were lined up in the dock and on the side seats. Several of them were old offenders, but the court was merciful and dispensed quite a number of suspended sentences, placing the defendants on probation.

James H. Carmichael appeared for Elizabeth Hayes and Mary J. Bailey. Both women were charged with drunkenness, second and third offence, and were placed on probation.

Thomas Purcel, for drunkenness, received a six months' sentence to the workhouse; Margaret Maguire, workhouse three months; Patrick J. Miskella, workhouse four months.

Patrick McNally, Mary Stewart, Samuel Stewart, John St. John, Frank Halowell, and Philip H. Breen were fined $6 each. The $5 victims were James Peacock and Cordelia Harrison.

LIQUOR IN WEST KENWOOD.

The people in West Kenwood are determined that Peter Degereault shall discontinue the illegal sale of liquor at that place.

They say he not only sells liquor but maintains a nuisance. They have petitioned selectmen of Dracut praying that Degereault's case be attended to.

Sunday afternoon Officers Black and Tully of Dracut paid Degereault a visit and seized some beer and whiskey. Degereault was in police court this forenoon and paid a fine of $75.

John Adamriski, Stanians Palmel, Joseph Ynsiski and Andrew Greth, four Poles arrested at a Polish wedding in Suffolk street Saturday evening were charged with drunkenness and were fined $3 each. Eight first offenders were fined $2 each and four were released.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON

ELECTED HONORARY MEMBER OF EUREKA YACHT CLUB.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Sir Thomas Lipton has been elected an honorary member of the Eureka Yacht club of Newark, N. J., for rescuing Rear Commodore Zeigler and a party of friends from a cat-boat which was disabled July 2 last. The boat met disaster in a squall while sailing near the Erin's anchorage at Sandy Hook. Sir Thomas headed the rescuing party in a launch from his yacht.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE

INTERESTING MEETING PREPARES FOR BIG DEMONSTRATION.

A largely attended meeting of the United Irish League was held in their quarters at Barristers Hall on Sunday evening. Steps were taken to have the coming celebration in Huntington hall a great success. Prominent speakers are being secured for the occasion. A literary program was gone into. Miss Della Conway gave a delightful talk on the future prospects of Ireland and also indulged in some flattering remarks on the splendid work of the officers of this organization. Miss Maggie Curry added much to the evening's entertainment and was ably seconded by Miss Mamie McNulty.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

By Associated Press to The Sun

WALL STREET, 10.10 a. m.—Only a few orders appeared for execution at the opening of the stock market this morning and the resulting changes were irregular and generally narrow. Northern Pacific was lifted ⅝ and Amalgmated and Union Pacific ⅜. St. Paul rose ½ and then ran off ⅜.

11 a. m.—Prices declined gradually below last week's close, the loss reaching 1 and 1⅜ in St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Amalgamated, American Car and Metropolitan Street Railway, and 1¾ in Realty pfd. Offerings of stock were small. A steadier tone developed before 11 o'clock and some good recoveries were made.

Noon—A rally carried a number of prominent stocks over a range of from 1 to 2 points, but only a few moved a point either way from Saturday's level. Locomotive and Canadian Pacific rose 1¼. Anaconda fell four and Chicago Great-western pfd., Wisconsin Central, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie, New Iowa Central pfd. and Chicago Terminal a point.

Bonds were heavy.

Miss Mary Keyes, of 372 Broadway, fell while alighting from a carriage near her home Saturday noon and broke her leg in two places.

Mr. William R. Kennedy of Warwick street is spending his vacation in New York city.

STRUCK A POLE

GREEK INJURED ON THE LAWRENCE ROAD.

Anton Michaelus, a Greek, residing in this city, had a narrow escape from being badly hurt while riding on an electric car from Lawrence to this city about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Michaelus was standing on the running board of the car, which was well crowded. At a point about a mile the other side of Dewey Grove, he tried to shift places with a companion and in doing so his head struck against a pole and he was thrown violently to the ground. When picked up he was unconscious and remained in that condition about 10 minutes. When he did recover, however, he did not appear to be suffering any great pain, and upon the arrival of the car in Merrimack square he was able to walk home unassisted.

BOWDEN ALIVE

FRIENDS BELIEVED THAT HE WAS DEAD.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—After giving him up for dead, relations at Plainfield, N. J., of Col. John T. Bowden, who disappeared in the Philippines two years ago, have received word that he is alive. This information was given them by a discharged soldier who has just returned from Luzon. He says Bowden, after recovering from a fever and securing his discharge, decided to visit the interior before coming home. He is believed to be still alive and efforts will be made to find him.

PRESENTED A RING.

A pleasant surprise party was given last Saturday evening, at the home of Mrs. Isaac Gillespie, 12 London street, in honor of Mrs. Mary Billingham's birthday. Friends from Malden, Andover, and Swampscott were present, as were also her friends and relatives from this city. During the evening a beautiful ring was given her.

The many friends of Mr. Fred P. Murphy will be pleased to hear that he is enjoying himself at Cottage City, where he is visiting friends from New York. He will be joined later by his brother, Edward M. Murphy, M. D.

200 KILLED

Bulgarians Made Attack on a Turkish Town

By Associated Press to The Sun

VIENNA, Aug. 24.—Neue Freie Presse's Constantinople correspondent telegraphs that a band of Bulgarians has attacked the Turkish town of Urgas, south of Inkola on the east coast of Turkey and have blown up the government buildings with dynamite. It is reported that 200 persons were killed.

KILLED THE GARRISON.

By Associated Press to The Sun

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 24.—According to Turkish advices, when the insurgents captured Vasilike, in the eastern part of the vilayet of Adrianople, they killed the garrison, consisting of 50 soldiers, and about one hundred of the inhabitants.

The insurgents are now threatening Midia (sixty miles northwest of Constantinople, on the Black sea) and are reported also to be attacking the important town of Kirk Killoseh (thirty two miles from Adrianople.)

Christian, Greek and Mussulman refugees have arrived at the mouth of the Bosphorus from the neighborhood of Midia, fearing a massacre there. They have been sheltered in the lazarette at Anadela-Kavak and are being fed by the authorities.

The lighthouse at Kuru-Burun, in Inidia bay, has been abandoned by its keepers because of the nearness of the insurgents.

The Italian embassy has notified the Porte that it will hold it responsible for any injury which may be done to the consul of Italy at Monastir and demands the punishment of those who insulted the consul recently by calling him a "Giaour," (infidel.)

WOMEN AND CHILDREN MASSAC'

By Associated Press to The Sun

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 24.—The Turks are reported to have massacred all the women and children in twenty-two villages of the districts of Florina and Monastir, and to have afterwards burned the villages. They are also alleged to have killed a number of prisoners.

The streets of Krushevo, are said to be strewn with dead, and the survivors are afraid to burry the bodies, fearing to incur the suspicion of the Turk.

Following the proclamation of the revolution throughout the village of Adrianople, the insurgents cut all the telegraph lines connecting the city of Adrianople with the eastern part of the vilayet.

There are unconfirmed rumors here that fighting and massacres are proceeding in the streets of Adrianople.

CRICKET MEETING

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE MERRIMACK VALLEY.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Merrimack Valley Cricket League was held on Saturday evening last at the Lawrence club house with John Walker in the chair in the absence of the president.

The secretary reported that up to the present he had not received a reply from Col. Butler Ames with regard to the cup which he had offered, through Mr Thatcher, to give to the league. It was, therefore, decided to take no action on the matter until something further on the subject is heard. It was resolved that the secretary should communicate with the Mohair club with reference to the game to be played at the end of the season between them as the winners of the pennant and a picked team from the remaining clubs in the competition.

WRIST FRACTURED

Rev. Fr. Reynolds Was Badly Injured

HE FELL DOWN FLIGHT OF STAIRS

In the Street Railway Building

Rev. John P. Reynolds, O. M. I., pastor of the Sacred Heart church, met with a painful accident this morning.

He was coming down the stairs leading from the street railway office when his foot caught in the edge of one of the steps and he was thrown down the entire flight of steps.

He received a bad gash on the forehead and his spectacles were broken. A carriage was called and he was removed to St. John's hospital, where the wound was dressed.

At the hospital it was also found that Fr. Reynolds' wrist was broken. That he was not more seriously injured is extremely fortunate, for the steps down which he fell have a steel covering and at the landing he struck on a steel mat. Fr. Reynolds in falling tried to break the fall by throwing out his hand and that is how he happened to fracture his wrist. It is said that others have had narrow escapes from bad falls down the same stairs.

CO. C WON SHOOT.

There was a competitive shoot held at the Dracut rifle range Saturday afternoon, the teams having been made up from members of Companies C, G and M of this city, L of Natick and Troop F, cavalry, Co. C, defeated the Natick team by one point and won the shoot.

WOMEN FAINTED

Accident on an Elevated Train

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A peculiar accident caused a panic on a crowded elevated motor train bound from Jamaica to Brooklyn. More than a thousand men and women fought to escape from the train which was a sheet of fire for several minutes. The trouble was caused by a metal step of one of the cars coming in contact on a curve with the third-rail. This short circuited the entire rain and sparks fairly rained from every piece of metal on the cars. The passengers, who were returning from a day on Long Island, were mad with fright in an instant. They rushed towards the doors, which the guards instantly closed, and fought to get out. One man was pushed through a glass door and badly cut. Women fainted by the dozen, but the fire continued to pour on the luckless passengers until the train reached a station and the step which caused the trouble removed.

Ambulances were called and surgeons attended dozens of persons including many women who had fainted and were carried to the platforms.

SUNDAY SERMONS

PREACHED FROM DIFFERENT PULPITS YESTERDAY.

At the First Congregational church, Sunday,, General Secretary W. A. Morse of the Y. M. C. A. spoke ably on the skeptic, referring to his own experience as a skeptic and telling forcibly what he now believes and why.

Rev. H. B. Foster, pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian church, preached yesterday morning on the law of compensation.

The series of the seasonal Sunday evening services drew another large audience at the First Trinitarian church, last evening, and Rev. Mr. Kennett delivered a highly entertaining lecture on "Yellowstone Park, the Wonderland of America."

These audiences have not only contributed generously to defray the expenses of the lectures, which have been large, but have contributed to the relief of one of the families suffering from the explosion at South Lowell. This church contributed immediately to the relief fund $51, and now sends $30.87, directly to Mrs. C. W. Moore, 475 School street.

Rev. N. C. Mallory, a former pastor of the Fifth street Baptist church, occupied its pulpit yesterday, and a large congregation, numbering many of his old neighbors and friends, gathered to greet him.

Rev. Mr. Mallory recalled, with deep feeling, the fact that the church had been rebuilt under his pastorate, and said that its welfare had always been dear to him.

CARNIVAL AT FAIR GROUNDS.

Great interest has been aroused in the carnival at the Fair Grounds next Thursday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Y. M. C. I. of Belvidere. The afternoon entertainment will start promptly at 2 o'clock. There will be races of various kinds, including horse racing, automobile races, hose races, etc. Also a balloon ascension and parachute jump. In the evening the track will be lighted by electricity and made as bright as day. There will be professional running races open to the world, bicycle races and other attractions of a like nature. A grand vaudeville entertainment of acrobatic feats and a chorus of 100 voices, male and female, will be one of the attractions of the evening. A gigantic pavilion of 3000 square feet has been erected for dancing, which will be free to all purchasing admittance. In addition there will be a grand display of fireworks. Admission 25c, children 15c.

RACE BULLETINS

How The Sun Excelled in Giving the News

It would be futile to set an estimate upon the multitude that watched The Sun bulletins on the yacht race Saturday. Suffice to say that Merrimack square was densely crowded and that the vast majority had their eyes steadily fixed upon The Sun's illustrated bulletin service of the race.

The Sun had illustrated the straightaway course and had models of the yachts moving with precision as indicated by the despatches flashed over the wire. These cute little yachts held the same relative positions as did the big yachts on the course in New York harbor and they moved like clock-work over the miniature course from the starting line and back. Our envious rival across the street casts a sneer at this method of illustration although vastly superior to its method of using the model boats as big sticksplus by taking them out and sticking them in at intervals to represent their progress. If boats moved like grasshoppers that method of illustration would be all right. Yet our neighbor today asserts that its miniature boats actually sailed. The Shamrock on the bulletin course across the way must have struck a hidden reef as it had not reached the finish line on Sunday morning. But perhaps this is unimportant.

What is important, however, and what is palpably false, is the statement by the paper across the way that it beat The Sun in speed. There was not a single instance of an important bulletin in which The Sun did not beat its rival. This is so well known that it requires a good deal of effontery to make any statement to the contrary.

The Sun's telephone service also excelled, and combined with the bulletin bulleting and the large pictures illustrating the race and the enthusiasm associated with it, demonstrated The Sun's superiority in such cases.

Towards the close of the contest the young men in charge of the bulletin service on the other side of the street got so badly rattled that they broke down completely and did little else than watch The Sun bulletins and listen to the resonant announcements from The Sun megaphone.

The Sun will repeat the performance tomorrow and the public is invited to see how far it leads its rival in the important matter of speed in giving the news.

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. That daughter is a precious legacy, and the responsibility for her future is largely in the hands of the mother. The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the mother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When a young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance in this hour of trial.

Case of a New York Girl of Interest to Every Mother and Daughter in the Land.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: — I hope you will publish this letter, for I want all mothers to know how much good your medicine did my young daughter. Her health broke down about six months ago, and although she is large for her age, I did not understand what was wrong with her; the doctor did not, either, for he treated her for her heart, which pained her a good deal; but he did not do her any good, and we were afraid heart trouble would carry her off. Every day she kept getting whiter and thinner. She had no appetite, and she sat around without any ambition, and was always too tired to do anything. All night long she would moan in her sleep, as though in terrible pain.

"I felt terribly discouraged; I was spending money for doctor's bills right along, but she was receiving no help. At that time I was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I read in one of your books about young girls. I decided to drop the doctor, and give her your medicine. I wish you could see the change in her, and the pink cheeks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given her. She had taken but half a bottle when menstruation started again and her heart trouble went away like magic. I had her continue the medicine, and now she is fat, rosy, and perfectly healthy. Menstruation is regular and painless, and I owe my thanks to you and to your wonderful medicine for her good health."—MRS. MARGARET PHELAN, 673 Tenth Avenue, New York City.

SPECIAL ADVICE TO YOUNG WOMEN FREE.

From her vast experience in treating female ills, extending over 20 years, Mrs. Pinkham has gained a knowledge which is of untold value to every ailing young woman. Her advice never fails to help. If you need such help write her. Address Lynn, Mass.

A medicine that has restored so many women to health and can produce proof of the fact must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which cannot be equalled by any other medicine the world has ever produced.

It is well to remember these facts when some druggist tries to get you to buy something which he says is "just as good." That is impossible, as no other medicine has such a record of cures as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so do not experiment with untried medicines, but insist upon the one you know is best.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial, which will prove its absolute genuineness.

SUBURBANITES

The commuter who bolts down a few mouthfuls of food and hurries to catch the train, usually catches dyspepsia as well.

The "coffee and roll" road to ill health is not necessary, for there is an easy, pleasant way to get back to health and shake off all the coffee diseases by shifting to Postum Food Coffee. "For a number of years I was a business woman, rising early and swallowing a roll and a cup of coffee just in time to catch a train. A feeling of nausea or palpitation and a continual dullness in the eyes and head invariably followed my coffee breakfasts, until one day a good angel in the guise of a woman friend bade me try Postum Food Coffee in place of coffee.

"Always trying to be progressive in my daily life, I accepted the advice and the result was I found Postum a delicious clear coffee color beverage, suited to the stomach and satisfying to the appetite. After using Postum faithfully for a month, I was surprised at the result in my health. All symptoms of dyspepsia or nervousness had disappeared and because of this marked benefit I reasoned that if such a simple and inexpensive remedy could prove such benefit in my case, why was it not my duty to let other sufferers know about Postum. So I began to try to help my friends and I have helped many to shake off sickness by recommending Postum in place of coffee.

"There was one who was a victim of nervous dyspepsia and who craved coffee to such an extent that he invariably drank it in spite of medical advice not to do so, and I could not persuade him to change, so I got his wife to give him Postum in the morning for a few days without saying anything to him about it. The result was really wonderful. He did not detect the change, but noticed that the got over his indigestion. Then we told him the truth about it and now he takes his Postum regularly, and is so far relieved of his nervousness that his physician predicts a speedy cure. He likes the Postum just as well as he used to love the coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Barbers' Union Proposes a Novel Scheme

To Compel Non-Union Barbers to Join Their Forces—Want National Body to Start Five Cent Shops

The Barbers' union of this city, after appealing in vain to the employes of several of the bigger shops of the city to join their union have decided upon drastic measures to force the non-union members of the craft into line.

At the meeting of the union yesterday, it was decided after considerable discussion, to appoint a committee of five to confer with the treasurer of the national body whose headquarters are in New York, to see if the national body will sanction and stand behind the establishment of a number of union 5 cent shops in Lowell for the purpose of breaking up what they consider the non-union combine.

The idea is to establish a number of five cent shops in the immediate vicinity of non-union shops and give strictly first-class work for five cents, the national treasury to supply the necessary funds to start the shops, and the shops to be abandoned only when all the barbers in the principal shops have become members of the union.

The local union is not positive that the national body will sanction the proposition, but it is going to make the attempt at all events. The Barbers' union in addition to its trade union feature also pays a sick benefit of $5 per week and a death benefit of $100.

"ONE MAN" WORK

Causes Kick Among City Councilmen

A number of members of the city council, representing both branches, were discussing municipal affairs at city hall, this morning, and the conversation turned to the recent inspection of the cartridge shop by the special committee of the city council. Said one of the members: "It's funny how everything in connection with the investigations of the explosion are done so quietly, not that due publicity was not given to the meeting after it had taken place. I understand that the members of the committee were not notified of the meeting until a very short time before it took place. No one at city hall knew anything about it and only one newspaper was let into the secret. Yet when the committee arrived at the cartridge shop they were given to understand that they were expected."

One of the members of the special committee then said: "I didn't know anything about the meeting until the last minute. There's too much of this one man committee work about city hall to satisfy me. The committee didn't know anything about the arrangements until the day of the meeting."

Mr. Dunfey of the city auditor's office is disgusted to think that the city hall was defeated by the police and is organizing a new team that he is confident will defeat the coppers.

McMANNUS' PICNIC

WOMEN AND BABIES WILL BE BARRED.

Constable McManus stated today that he will allow no children under five years of age to attend the children's picnic tomorrow, nor will he allow women with children to attend. Said the poor man's friend: "I don't want any accidents and hence I don't want any children under five years of age on the cars. Furthermore, there are 3000 children going and there will be no room for women on the cars. There will be women enough on the grounds to attend to the children, but we don't want any as guests."

There not being room for all the cars in Merrimack square, a car will leave Gorham street, from in front of Peter J. Brady's store, another will leave Mammoth road, from in front of Senator McKinley's store, a third will leave Broadway, at the city stables, and the fourth will leave the corner of Broadway and School streets. All cars will leave at 8 o'clock sharp. The first car will contain Mayor Howe, Constable McManus and the Lowell Cadet band, which will discourse sweet music all the way to the picnic grounds.

Constable McManus desires publicly to express his heartfelt gratitude to any and all who in the slightest way assisted him in his plans.

"KISSING CASE"

Young Man Paid a Fine of $20

By Associated Press to The Sun

WALTHAM, Mass., Aug. 24—The so-called "kissing" case involving Matthew Peterson and Miss Flora Smith, who were arrested a week ago, charged with violating the Park Commissioners' regulations governing the conduct of persons while canoeing on the Charles river, in the park reservation, terminated today in the placing of a fine of $20 upon Peterson and the filing of the case against Miss Smith. The charge was heard last week and was continued. Today a lawyer representing the defence entered a plea of nolo contendere and the case was disposed of as indicated.

OHIO DEMOCRATS

Will Hold a Big Convention

By Associated Press to The Sun

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 24.—Prominent democrats are in conference here today. For weeks there have been contests of considerable intensity in state convention of tomorow and next day. For weeks there has been contentions of considerable intensity in the 88 counties, between Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, and John L. Zimmerman of Springfield, the two candidates for the gubernatorial nomination to secure delegates. Both come here claiming a majority of the 680 delegates. Both base their claims on securing the 145 delegates whose seats are contested. These contests will be settled tomorrow, and all the preliminary agitation is over the organization of the convention.

LOST HIS LIFE

Man Tried to Save His Dog

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Six persons were drowned Sunday at various pleasure resorts about New York. The list includes one woman, Rodolph Tausch, one of the victims, lost his life in the Harlem river by trying to save his valuable collie dog. They were swept underneath a barge by the swift tide and sank together in view of hundreds of spectators, the man's arms clasped around the dog's body.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

COUGHLIN'S MOTHER LEFT HIM PRAYING AT HOME.

By Associated Press to The Sun

Coughlin's mother went to church and left him praying in his room. Upon returning at about 10 o'clock she found him lying dead in a pool of blood with a crucifix in his left hand and an open razor near his body.

Coughlin had been acting queerly for some time and is supposed to have been insane.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

MAN SET FIRE TO HIS CLOTHING.

By Associated Press to The Sun

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 24.—William Hinchcliff committed suicide at Sinclairville, by setting fire to his clothing, which he had previously saturated with kerosene oil. The flames quickly enveloped him, and when they were extinguished he was unconscious and died a few hours later. He was a former member of Chautauqua county democratic committee at one postmaster of Sinclairville post office and editor of the Sinclairville Commercial. He was in the Howanda insane hospital for a short time, a year ago, but was discharged as cured.

BADLY BITTEN

SON OF ALBERT LYBRAND ATTACKED BY DOG.

A BOY BANDIT

Held up and Robbed Two Boys

HE DID A REGULAR JESSE JAMES JOB

Believed to be Runaway Lad

By Associated Press to The Sun

WALTHAM, Aug. 24—Two boys reported to the police yesterday morning that they had been held up Saturday afternoon by a lad of about 14 years.

Both holdups took place in the same locality, but at different times.

He said he was walking along the tracks of the Central Massachusetts railroad, near the Lyman estate, when a lad of about his age stepped out and, pointing a revolver at his head, demanded that he give up what he had in his pockets.

He had 17 cents, which he gave to the highwayman. This did not appear to satisfy the young desperado, who compelled him to hand over his gold-filled watch and a razor strop.

The youthful burglar, with a threat to kill young Hunt if he told of the affair, ran through the fields towards Lyman's pond.

Later in the afternoon Paul Atwood reported that he met a youth near the same place and was compelled to turn his pockets inside out by the boy, who demanded that he hand over what he had in his clothes.

The Atwood boy said his assailant threatened to shoot him if he told anyone what had happened.

Both boys gave the police a good description of the youthful highwayman, and they are satisfied that they know him, and will have him in custody in short order.

The suspected youth was in court a short time ago on a charge of breaking and entering, but the case was placed on file. His parents live in Fall River, and when released on the burglary case he was turned over to his mother, with the understanding that he would return to Fall River.

The boy ran away from his mother a few minutes after leaving the court-room and since then has been hovering about town. He has been seen several times by the policemen, but they have been unable to catch him.

SENATOR DEPEW HOME.

SALISBURY'S COFFIN CLOSED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

HATFIELD, England, Aug. 24—Lord Salisbury's coffin has been finally closed. The servants and family will act as bearers at the funeral, which will occur at the end of the week, when Lieut. Col. Lord Edward Cecil, military secretary of the Egyptian army and fourth son of the deceased statesman, reaches England from Egypt.

GUESTS OF PRESIDENT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Aug. 24.—Governor Murphy and Senators Kean and Dryden of New Jersey, will be guests of the president at Sagamore Hill this afternoon. They come to invite the president to attend the unveiling of the statue in the memory of the New Jersey soldiers who fell at the battle of Antietam.

RELIANCE'S LEAD

Shamrock III Was Beaten by 7 m. 3 s.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—"Sister of 10,000 sail and swiftest of them all."

This was what the Reliance proved herself Saturday in the first finish race for the America cup between her and the Shamrock III. Over a 30-mile course to windward and return, in a 12-knot breeze, she beat the Shamrock just 9 minutes on elapsed time. As she allows the Shamrock 1 minute and 57 seconds, she beat her, on corrected time, by 7 minutes and 3 seconds.

On the 15-mile beat out to the windward mark the Reliance beat the Shamrock 3 minutes and 21 seconds. The Reliance sailed the distance in 2 hours 9 minutes and 56 seconds, while the Shamrock covered it in 2 hours 13 minutes and 17 seconds. On the run back to the finish line, the Reliance beat the Shamrock 5 minutes and 39 seconds. The Reliance covered the last 15 miles in 1 hour 22 minutes and 21 seconds, and the Shamrock covered it in 1 hour and 28 minutes.

With the exception of a short time that the yachts were near the shore, in the vicinity of the turning mark, the breeze was blowing at the rate of about 12 miles an hour. When the yachts were sailing in the lighter breeze near the turning mark the sea was quite smooth, but during the rest of the race, which meant practically all of it, there was a short chop, and at times there were some deeper hollows for both to dive into.

JUMPED FROM CAR

GIRL IS UNCONSCIOUS AND MAY DIE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., Aug. 24.—Lillian Baker, a domestic in the family of William Howes of this place, is unconscious and probably dying as the result of jumping from a trolley car while it was in motion at Cottage City last night. She was thrown to the ground by her jump and her head struck a concrete road causing unconsciousness from which she has not recovered.

DANISH DEFAULTER

IS ON HIS WAY TO NEW YORK.

By Associated Press to The Sun

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 24—In custody of United States Marshal John Shine and Captain of Detectives John Martin of San Francisco, Julius Jorgensen, the alleged Danish defaulter, has started for New York, there to be turned over to the Danish authorities to be returned to Copenhagen. Jorgensen's two children, whom he took with him, when he left Denmark, with. It is charged 40,000 marks of his employer's coin, and Miss Johanna Moeller, are with him.

"COULDN'T SLEEP FROM THE TERRIBLE ITCHING."

"FIRST NIGHT I USED ZEMA-CURA I SLEPT WELL."

"I gratefully recommend your wonderful medicine, 'Zema-Cura.' For three months I suffered the most ACUTE annoyance with that dreadful disease, Eczema. Couldn't sleep from the terrible itching. Had about given up all hope of being cured, when in despair I bought a bottle of Zema-Cura. The first night after the first application I enjoyed a sound and refreshing sleep, the first restful sleep in three months. I bought three bottles in all and am to-day entirely cured."

WILLIAM JOHNSON,
Pres't Pittsburg Mfg. Co.,
Twenty-Eighth and Railroad Sts.,
Pittsburg, Pa.

Why should any Eczema sufferer continue to suffer when Zema-Cura will positively cure him? You take no risk in using Zema-Cura. It is absolutely safe. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it. It is the only SAFE, SURE CURE for Eczema known to medical science.

ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp.

DANGER!

Many of the lotions and salves alleged to be cures for Eczema and other skin diseases are positively a menace to sufferers. They contain OPIATES to allay irritation, and the awful effects resulting from their use are often worse than the disease itself. Such compounds may apparently relieve, but THEY DO NOT CURE, and the danger of using them is terrible to contemplate.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR ZEMA-CURA. No other remedy is even similar to it. ZEMA-CURA is a scientific prescription, and has been used with great success for years by eminent physicians in the treatment of skin diseases. The genuine ZEMA-CURA has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health; it is an absolutely SAFE remedy; mothers can use it on their babies without the slightest fear. Imitations contain opiates and other drugs and chemicals extremely dangerous; avoid them as you would the plague.

If you have the slightest difficulty in procuring Zema-Cura from your druggist, write direct to the ZEMA-CURA CO., 7 West 22d St., New York, and it will be shipped postpaid on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle. Write to-day regarding your case and receive complete, careful advice FREE.

CHASED BY MOB

Burglar Fired at the Girl Leader

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Shooting wildly at a pursuing mob led by a plucky girl, Thomas Dorson, a burglar, surprised in the home of P. Tecumseh Sherman, lawyer and clubman and son of the late General Sherman, at No. 130 East Thirty-first street, made a vain endeavor last night to avoid arrest. No one was injured.

Miss Doris, while alone in the house, heard a noise on the third floor and investigated. In Mr. Sherman's bedroom she saw a man standing over the dresser. In the centre of the room was a bundle.

Frightened by what she saw she cried out:

"Who are you? What are you doing here?"

"If you make an outcry I will kill you," said the man, pointing a revolver at her.

She fled down the stairs, but the burglar caught her on the second floor and threw her down to the first floor. Then he jumped over her, and, opening the door, ran into the street.

Her cries of "Stop thief!" attracted several men at the corner of Lexington avenue, and as the chase progressed the crowd grew.

When Dorson, the burglar, was half way between Third and Second avenues he deliberately turned around and fired at his pursuers. No one was struck, but scores dodged into basements and hallways. But not so Kate Doris and several others. With the girl in the lead they kept on.

Patrolman O'Donnell heard the shot and captured Dorson.

"Officer, arrest that man. He's just robbed our house," cried Miss Doris.

O'Donnell took the prisoner to the station house. The girl going along as complainant. Captain Shire complimented her on her pluck. He asked if she had been injured.

"If you'd seen me run you wouldn't think I was hurt," she replied.

Eleven silver forks, sixteen silver tablespoons, ten silver knives, four gold cuff buttons set with diamonds and ten necktie were found on Dorson, who is fifty-four years old, and said he lived at No. 530 West Eighteenth street.

LOSES SAILOR

Vanderbilt's Man Nearly Killed a Stranger

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Because one of the best sailors on William K. Vanderbilt Jr.'s turbine yacht Tarantula, is locked up in the Raymond street jail, Brooklyn, for nearly killing a chance acquaintance, the young millionaire's fleet steamer will go out short-handed today to see the yacht race.

There isn't another yacht sailor unengaged who can be found by Captain Tabor, the English skipper of the Tarantula, and all efforts to get young Thomas Lent out of jail on bail, so that the Vanderbilts may go to the race in proper style, have been unavailing thus far.

Lent's home is at No. 155 Twenty-fifth street, Brooklyn. From his boyhood he has been a sailor on large and small yachts, and when the Tarantula came here and some of her English crew decided to go back to England, Lent was engaged for the season. He proved himself an able and willing seaman and is very highly spoken of by his captain and shipmates.

Unfortunately for Lent, a few nights ago he met a young man, Joseph Mulvy, who lives at No. 139 Twenty-fifth street, in a saloon in the Erie Basin district and they quarrelled. According to Lent's story which is corroborated by eye-witnesses, Mulvy struck Lent first.

Lent admits that he returned the blow with interest, knocking Mulvy down. Then he helped Mulvy home, and on Thursday went out on the Tarantula and performed his duties as usual, while the Vanderbilts were viewing the yacht race.

Young Mulvy, who is a small and rather weak man, and in poor health, did not at first show any ill effects from the fight, but on Thursday he became unconscious, and his aunt, Miss Mary Warden, went to Brooklyn police headquarters and made a complaint against Lent.

The warrant was given to Detectives Gomeringer and O'Rourke to serve, and they went to the Tarantula's dock and waited for the yacht to come back from the race. As soon as the swift turbine craft hove in sight the officers went out in a launch and boarded her. Lent went with them willingly, and when arraigned before Magistrate Dudley in the Butler street court, yesterday morning, admitted striking Mulvey, but produced witnesses to prove that Mulvy struck him first.

The magistrate asked for a report on Mulvy' scondition, and when he learned that it was serious, refused to admit Lent to bail until Dr. Ferchland, who is attending Mulvy, would certify that he is out of danger.

Last night Lent was still in the Raymond street jail, and Captain Tabor was trying to get Dr. Ferchland to give a certificate of the nature the justice had asked for, that he might have his full complement of men when the Tarantula goes out today. Dr. Ferchland, however, while saying that Mulvy probably would be all right in a few days, declined to certify that he was out of danger, so the Tarantula must go to sea short-handed today.

LAYING MINES

Work Will be Done Tonight

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 22.—Tonight all civilian employes at the various forts will be laid off for a week and from tonight until a week from tonight no persons will be allowed inside the forts or camps except those who have business there.

It seemed to be the general belief that the mines were being placed in position last night, but such was not the case. The mine-field has all been plotted out and the mines are all ready, but they will not be put down until after the stroke of midnight tonight.

Major Murray has made a request of skippers that they keep away from the boats engaged in laying the mines, and from the mines themselves, for although they will not explode, a vessel striking against the mines will make the electric indicators on shore ring and will mix matters up greatly.

WANTS $25,000

Woman Sues Man Who Took Her Riding

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Minnie Marren, who keeps a boarding house at 215 West Thirty-eighth street, has begun a suit in the supreme court against John J. Ilmer for $25,000 damages for injuries received in an accident to the defendant's automobile on June 23.

Mrs. Marren and three others were returning from Coney Island on that day, in their automobile as the defendant's guests. At Bedford avenue and Sterling place, Brooklyn, the auto swung into the curb, turned upside down and pinned the plaintiff beneath it.

Mrs. Marren charges that the "defendant carelessly, recklessly and negligently operated the automobile at a high and unlawful rate of speed."

Madame Humbert Made Sensational Speech in Court

By Associated Press to The Sun

PARIS, Aug. 22—In the course of a speech in court today Madame Therese Humbert announced that the real name of Crawford was Regnier, who was the intermediary between Prince Bismarck and Marshal Bazaine at the time of the surrender of Metz.

There was a great crowd present at the trial today. Among the throng were a number of American lawyers and tourists.

The prisoners were brought into court at noon. They maintained the same outward aspect of calm. Mme. Humbert walked in haughtily and surveyed the crowd with a scornful air.

Advocate Hesse addressed the court at length in defence of d'Aurignac. He severely criticised the declaration of M. Autocarre, the former French ambassador at Madrid, that he did not know Mme. Humbert.

At the conclusion of the pleading Mme Humbert arose amid an intense hush throughout the court room to make her promised revelations. She seemed to be laboring under a great effort and paused after her first emphatic statement that the Crawfords and the millions existed. Then she began formally:

"Gentlemen of the Jury: When I wanted the address of M. Crawford he answered: 'You cannot know me. I am not called Crawford. I am not known by that name.'

"Then what name?" I asked.

"He replied: 'My fortune was made during the war of 1870 left re-investments of rentes, which were then very low and a large quantity was bought here.'

"His name is Regnier, the intermediary between Marshal Bazaine and the Germans. I had already transacted business with one Regnier who appeared to me to be a very mysterious personage and who said to me: 'Be careful, madame, not to confuse me with the notorious Regnier.'

"That is how I suddenly learned Crawford's name. I never told my husband. I swear on my daughter's head. This is the first time he hears the name."

Addressing the presiding judge, Mme Humbert went on, exclaiming:

"What I say is true. The Crawfords exist. The fortune exists, and I, Madam Humbert, will bring actions against the Crawfords."

HUMBERTS SENTENCED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PARIS, Aug. 22—The court sentenced Mme. Humbert and her husband each to five years' imprisonment and to a hundred franc fine.

Emil d'Aurignac was sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

Romain d'Aurignac was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

YOUNG MAN KISSED HIS SWEETHEART IN FRONT OF POLICE STATION.

The home guard in the police station were treated this morning to a case of "spooning" in the broad daylight that would turn the Charles River police black with horror.

A well dressed couple were walking up Market street about 11 o'clock arm in arm and engaged in frivolous conversation. They were followed by two young women walking with their arms about each other, and were apparently as giddy as the pair in front of them. The quartet were evidently of the same party and undoubtedly were strangers for they walked on the police station side of the street.

Just as they passed the door of the police station the young man suddenly threw his arms about the young woman's neck and bending down, totally oblivious to his surroundings, gave her a resounding smack upon the lips.

Matron Wallace of the police station who was walking along the street behind them threw up her hands and cried: "Did you ever see the best of it?" While several policemen nearly fell out of the window, so strenuously did they "rubber."

QUIET DAY

ONLY TWO ARRESTS MADE BY THE POLICE.

Things were pretty quiet at the police station today, only two arrests having been made, both being for drunkenness.

Big Curtailment in New England Cotton Mills

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Fully 50,000 textile operatives in New England will be idle next week through the curtailment by cotton mills and the closing of the majority of the numerous factories of the American Woolen company.

The largest number of idle mills will be in the city of Lawrence, where nearly 17,000 persons, almost one-quarter of the population will be out of work.

Today the Pacific, Pemberton and Everett cotton mills shut down for two weeks. These large corporations employ 16,000 hands and the Washington Woolen mills, which are also closed, 6,500.

In Dover, N. H., where all the cotton and woolen mills are closed, nearly 5,000 will be idle and about the same number in the vicinity of Providence will be out through the woolen mills closing for a vacation. By the stoppage of cotton machinery 2,000 will be idle in Fall River, 1500 in Waltham, 2500 in Chicopee, 1500 in other western Massachusetts towns; 1,100 in Exeter, 3,000 in New Bedford and thousands in scattered mill villages.

Villages Were Destroyed by the Turkish Troops

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Aug. 22—According to a Belgrade dispatch to the Daily Mail the Turkish troops, under the pretext of pursuing revolutionary bands, have destroyed the villages of Armensk, Streberi, Letschani, Beckepanja, Nolkazi, Zellnich, Patele and Banitza, massacreing the women and children. The male inhabitants fled to the mountains and joined the insurgents, who are especially numerous in the Chegani mountain range, where there are also many women under the leadership of a female teacher named Tenkanamnof.

The presence of the Russian fleet in Turkish waters has thoroughly frightened the sultan, says a Constantinople dispatch to the Times. Besides demanding the execution of reforms in Macedonia, Russia also demands the concession of the Black sea cable now held by the Eastern Telegraph company, a British concern.

SAW MILL BURNED

$30,000 Fire at Damarascotta, Maine

By Associated Press to The Sun

DAMARASCOTTA, Maine, Aug. 22.—A $30,000 saw mill at Sheepscot, owned by George Trask and containing a complete set of modern machinery, was totally destroyed by fire early today. There was no insurance. The mill, which was operated by water power, was one of the finest in the state. As the property burned at 1.30 a. m. and there was no conceivable cause it was generally believed to be of incendiary origin. About 20 men were thrown out of employment and it was considered improbable that the mill would be rebuilt. An extensive lumber business was carried on.

CRUISER PENNSYLVANIA

WAS NAMED BY THE DAUGHTER OF SENATOR QUAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22—An occasion which will be memorable in the history of this state transpired today when the giant armored cruiser Pennsylvania, named by the daughter of the state's senior senator and present leader, was launched at the yards of the William Cramp ship and engine building company. The maiden plunge of the formidable addition to the United States navy was witnessed by the largest and one of the most distinguished assemblages that was ever gathered at Cramp's ship yards. More favorable weather could not have been desired and the flag bedecked sea fighter gliding down the ways greeted by the acclamations of thousands of spectators and the shrill blasts of the myriad river craft made an inspiring scene. Under the towering prow of the Pennsylvania was erected a heavy timber superstructure from which nearly 2000 specially invited guests saw the launching. From the main stand rose a smaller platform upon which stood the christening party, including Miss Cecil Quay, daughter of U. S. Senator Quay, the ship's sponsor; Senators Quay and Penrose, Gov. Pennypacker, Mayor Weaver, Rear Admiral Sigsbee, U. S. N; Rear Admiral Melville, U. S. N., retired; Charles H. Cramp, Edwin S. Cramp and a number of ladies.

On the main stand were assembled prominent guests from Washington and Pennsylvania, the head of the various navy department bureaus and a number of foreign naval officers.

After the launching the guests were entertained at a luncheon.

The Pennsylvania is powered with a twin screw, vertical triple expansion engines and boilers of the Nicklausse type, which are required to develop a mean speed of 22 knots an hour for four hours. The engines are estimated to develop a collective indicated horse power of 23,000. The contract price for the hull and machinery of the ship is $1,769,000.

ELEVEN ARRESTED

Planters are Charged With Whitecaping

By Associated Press to The Sun

WINNE, Ark., Aug. 22.—A deputy marshal has arrested eleven prominent white planters of Poynsett county on the charge of whitecapping. The prisoners will be taken to Helena to appear before the United States district court.

The negro laborers employed at a saw mill in Poynsett county were recently forced to leave under threats of violence by a band of white planters, causing the mill to suspend. The arrests were made at the instigation of the mill owner.

MILLS CLOSED

LACK OF ORDERS

FORCED BLEACHERY TO GO ON SHORT TIME.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NORWICH, Conn., Aug. 22—Because of a lack of orders the Norwich Bleachery of the United States Finishing company has been placed on a half-time basis. The cotton mills, on account of the difficulty in obtaining raw material at profitable figures are curtailing production and the bleachery has only work sufficient to keep the machinery busy three days each week.

Notices have been posted at two of the mills of the Ballouville Manufacturing company, announcing a shutdown on August 29 for one week.

FRAUD CHARGED

IN THE LANDING OF ALLEGED NATIVE CHINESE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22—U. S. District Attorney Judge Dehaven and U. S. Circuit Judge Morrow have signed a decree relative to the issuance of writs of habeas corpus to Chinese seeking admission to the country. This will settle once and for all an important question and relieve the government many vexatious delays.

For a long time there has been a feeling in federal circles that much fraud has been perpetrated in the landing of Chinese who claimed to be native born.

By the decree just signed, no writ will be issued unless the petition for it is accompanied by an order of the commissioner of immigration showing that the right to land has been issued to land to the person in whose behalf the writ is to be issued.

AMBERGRIS SEIZED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 22—Deputy Collector of Customs W. R. Delaney and Inspector Stephen A. Brinker, have seized 100 pounds of ambergris, alleged to have been stolen at Victoria three days ago. The value of the concoction is at the present wholesale market list $13 an ounce, making the seizure worth about $48,000. The small sloop in which the valuable cargo was brought over from the Canadian side was seized.

Hardly had the officers completed their work when Captain Grant, manager of the Canadian whaling fleet and Captain Adams, master of a whaler which had just returned to Victoria from a cruise, in which the ambergris was picked up in mid-ocean arrived here, claiming the property as their own and charging a sailor with the theft.

CLOTHIER WON

Did Some Good Tennis Playing

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 22.—The good weather continued and made good the proverbial luck of Newport week. It was a trifle windy but the air was cooler and fresher and the conditions as good as they had been on any other day. After five days of play, the big field was well weeded out and there were only a few matches left. That on the championship court was between Clothier and Harry Allen, while Huntington and E. P. Larned were having it out close by. Clothier was an easy favorite after his clever work yesterday in spite of the fact that Allen had once defeated him early in the season and had been playing very well all through the week. Allen depended a good deal on a reverse twist service and quick work all over the court, while Clothier, as usual, was dependent on getting settled in his position at the net. On the whole the match was looked upon as a fairly easy victory for the man who had disposed of Wright and Ward and with a yacht race on at New York the attendance was again rather poor.

Allen kept things fairly even for a while, but soon as Clothier got his net play in order he smashed through very fast. Points:

W. J. Clothier.....2 4 6 2 1 4 4 6 1—30—6
H. F. Allen.....4 1 4 4 4 2 1 4 0—24—3

Allen made a stand in only one game of the second set when he got the ball to Clothier's feet. He was out pointed two to one and took but a single game. Several double faults were partly responsible for his poor showing. Points:

W. J. Clothier.....5 4 4 2 5 4 4—28—6
H. F. Allen.....3 1 0 4 3 0 2—13—1

Allen made scarcely a better stand in the third and last set than he had made in the one preceding. He was still liable to double fault and twice did so at critical times. The points were close but Allen got only two games. Points:

W. J. Clothier.....2 4 4 4 4 4 4—27—6
H. F. Allen.....4 2 2 1 2 4 2 1—18—2

In the other match, E. P. Larned, the younger brother of the champion, defeated the veteran Huntington, in a brilliant match that stamps the Princeton boy as a most promising player. His network was splendid, particularly overhead, his smashing of lobs being as good as has been seen at all this week. His passing strokes were also good and the only weakness he showed was that his serve is a bit slow. Summary:

E. P. Larned beat R. P. Huntington, 6-0, 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.

LEAVING TOWN.

By Associated Press to The Sun

WALTHAM, Mass., Aug. 22.—Many of the employes of the Boston cotton mills are leaving town for a vacation to Canada and elsewhere. The mills shut down last night for two weeks on account of the cotton shortage, throwing out 1500 hands.

ECZEMA

A Holy Horror

The agonizing torture of this itching, burning disease has at last been conquered. We have secured the selling privilege in this city for a medicament that not only relieves the awful itching and burning sensation of this terrible disease, but roots it all out of the skin entirely, leaving a clear, smooth, healthy covering for the body. Conclusive facts indisputable in every particular, have been presented to us, proving beyond the per-adventure of a doubt, that Eczema, Eczema of Infants, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Pimples, Barber's Itch, Milk Crust, Dandruff, Itching Piles, and all diseases of the skin and scalp can be quickly and permanently cleaned out of the skin by

The D. D. D. Remedy.

"About five years ago I noticed a slight eruption on my limbs, but in a very short time I was a sight to behold, from my head to my feet, and my nights were terrible. I was simply on fire. I tried a number of doctors here in this city, but with absolutely no results aside from easing the burning pain a little. A friend of mine who had been cured of a very bad case of Eczema by the D. D. D. Remedy advised me to try it, which I did, feeling good results from the first. I have been using the D. D. D. Remedy for about three months, using in all, about fifteen bottles, and today I am a well man. I also had dandruff in its worse form, and found the D. D. D. Remedy to be a wonder in curing this disease." F. M. NICHOLS,
Moore Apartment House.
James St., Syracuse, N. Y.

The D. D. D. Prescription comes in a sealed bottle with authentic label on each bottle; it is a liquid applied externally, does not grease nor will it stain or discolor the most delicate wearing apparel.

This prescription has our unqualified indorsement. For a considerable period of time we have been recommending it with most astonishingly effective results. The cures already effected are having a wide-spread influence in this community. If you have a skin affection, come and inquire about the D. D. D. Remedy. It will be the means of making you a happier human being.

RICE ARRESTED

Missing Lawyer's Guide in the Toils

POLICE HOLDING HIM ON ASSAULT CHARGE

He Says Rice Fell From Boat

By Associated Press to The Sun

CHICAGO, Aug. 22—The Tribune today says:

The mysterious disappearance at Walton Lake, Mich., of Attorney Albert W. Barnum of Chicago has been followed by teh arrest of a man who admits that he was in Mr. Barnum's company on the afternoon that he dropped from sight.

The prisoner who is being detained at East Georgetown, Mich., is Claude Rice, a guide with whom Mr. Barnum was last seen. The charge, that of assault and battery, is merely nominal.

According to Mr. Rice, he and Mr. Barnum went to Petosky, together, returning to Talbot's Place, a landing where Mr. Barnum's row-boat was moored. There, Rice says, Mr. Barnum entered the boat and started to row across the lake to his cottage.

When only a few feet from the wharf, according to Rice, Mr. Barnum fell out of the boat, and, instead of swimming back to the shore, struck out across the lake. Rice declares that he then went home without waiting to see what happened to the lawyer. When asked why he walked away from the lake when his companion was in the water, Rice said that he knew Mr. Barnum to be a good swimmer and able to take care of himself.

MAN MURDERED

Because He Did Not Follow Orders

By Associated Press to The Sun

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Aug. 22.—An Armenian, named Garabet Mardorosolan, has been murdered at Kalafal, on the Danube, by orders. It is believed, of the Macedonian committee. Mardorosolan lived for years at Kalafal, acting as general of the committee in facilitating the passage of arms in Bulgaria. The Roumanian authorities discovered documentary proof of his relations with the committee. It is reported that he was assassinated because of his failure to comply with some of the recent orders of the committee men and that the latter selected a relative of Mardorosolan to punish his offense with death.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

By Associated Press to The Sun

10.10 a. m.—Opening prices moved in a sluggish and irregular way on purely nominal transactions. Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie rose 1 1-2 on the declaration of a dividend and Iowa Central pfd. gained a point. Amongst the declines Reading was most conspicuous with a loss of 1 1-8 and Realty pfd. declined 3-4.

11 a. m.—Dealings were too small to have any significance, the London holiday and the yacht race combining to cause dullness. Realty pfd was forced down 2 3-4 on rumors that the next dividend will be passed. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie yielded to a point under last night on realizing and Amalgamated reacted sharply. Prices hardened again before the end of the hour.

Close—The increase in the loan account shown by the bank statement caused a spilling out of stocks and prices ran off a point for the grangers, Pacifics and Amalgamated. The movement was short lived and the handful of traders on the floor covered again. The closing was steady.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To the next of kin and all other persons interested in Emily Wilde Winder of Lowell, in said county of Middlesex, minor.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court by Sarah Fifer of Lowell, in the county of Middlesex, praying for the appointment of herself, or some other suitable person, as guardian.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said county of Middlesex, on the first day of September, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why a guardian should not be appointed.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor and others interested, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, or by delivering a copy thereof to the said next of kin at least seven days before said court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, first judge of said court, this seventh day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

S. H. FOLSOM, Register.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully libels and represents William H. Haines of Medford, in said county, that he was lawfully married to Jennie M. Haines, now of East Lempster, state of New Hampshire, at Lewiston, state of Maine, on the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1881, and thereafterwards your libellant and the said Jennie M. lived together as husband and wife in this commonwealth, to wit, at Boston, Fitchburg and Somerville; that your libellant has always been faithful to his marriage vows and obligations, but the said Jennie M., being wholly regardless of the same, at Claremont, state of New Hampshire, on or about the fifteenth day of February, A. D. 1900, and at divers other times and places both before and after said date, committed the crime of adultery with a certain man by the name of Powers and also with divers other persons; a further description of is to your libellant unknown; also subjected your libellant to cruel and abusive treatment.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said Jennie M., also, that there has been born to them of this marriage the following children: Gerald F., Oct. 11, 1886; Gertha F., April 15, 1888; Hester V., Dec. 7, 1890; George M., Oct. 11, 1892, wherefore your libellant prays that the aforesaid children may be committed to his care and custody.

Dated this eighth day of August, A. D. 1903.

WILLIAM H. HAINES.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Superior Court, Aug. 10, A. D. 1903.

Upon the libel aforesaid it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before our justices of said court, at Cambridge, in said county, on the first Monday of September next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon to be published in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the county of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said last mentioned day, and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered letter to the residence of the libellee as set out in the libel, that she may then and there show cause, if any she have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

THEO. C. HURD, Clerk.

Attest. THEO. C. HURD, Clerk.

DRIVE OUT THE POWDER MAGAZINES.

After the calamity brought upon this city by the great explosion, it should take but a short time to drive out every powder depot or magazine that can in any way be considered dangerous. The recommendations of Capt. Dunn of the United States army, an expert upon explosives, in regard to magazines still unexploded should be heeded, unless another explosion is desired. That magazine on Andrews street must go without delay.

THE COMMON AND LABOR DAY.

It is to be hoped that the Park Commission will be able to see its way clear to allow the laboring people the unrestricted use of the common on Labor Day, as has been the custom from the first year that the holiday was generally observed.

The legal objection involved was discovered by Former City Solicitor Qua, who found that when the land was given to the city for a park years ago, it was stipulated that no revenue should ever accrue from the use of the land, under penalty of its reversion to the original owners. It may be that the intent of this restriction would merely forbid the city from deriving revenue from the common, but the city never intended to rent the common to the laboring people. It does rent it, however, on July 4, to tents and shows, so that if this be legal, it is at least as legal to give the use of the common free to the labor unions, for Labor Day.

Despite the former city solicitor's finding, the common was used on the Labor Day following ,and no one raised any objection, nor will any one this year, if the unions be allowed to occupy a portion of it with booths. These booths furthermore add to the enjoyment of the day, and if properly conducted, do no one any harm.

As the day is labor's great day of recreation, let labor have its fun unrestricted and relegate to the shelf the musty files of long ago that would place an embargo on the amenities of the occasion.

THE SUN'S UNRIVALLED BULLETIN SERVICE.

The Sun feels bound to say a word in behalf of its unique bulletin service on the boat race on Saturday. In the first place the models of the two yachts were moved over the course automatically, the 15 mile course being represented on a scale of 25 feet or 1 2-5 feet to the mile.

As the time limit for the race was five hours and a half, the boats might be expected to reach the stake boat in two hours and three quarters with an ordinary breeze, but this was far exceeded on account of the brisk breeze and accordingly the models on The Sun's illustrated bulletin were moved at a quicker pace to accord with the telegraphic bulletins flashed from the Associated Press boat in New York harbor.

The illustration could not be more perfect or more mathematically accurate than it was shown and carried out on The Sun's illustrated course.

The megaphone service led in speed in audibility and clearness, while our bulletin service was of the lightning character, giving the principal features of the race in less than half a minute after they were flashed across the wire.

Another feature in which The Sun stood alone was the splendid life size portraits of Sir Thomas Lipton and C. Oliver Iselin put out upon our large bulletins and showing the unique work of The Sun artist.

Altogether, this service was by far the best ever attempted in the city of Lowell and we doubt whether it has ever been equalled in any other city in the United States. The Sun will continue this service throughout the boat races and the people who want the first news of the race rely upon The Sun to give it in bulletins and by megaphone from The Sun building in Merrimack square.

The crowd that watched The Sun bulletins thronged both sidewalks and the portion of the street not occupied by car tracks. The crowd also extended along both sides of Bridge street to Paige and on East Merrimack street in front of the Runels building. The general verdict was that The Sun had no rival in speed, in accurate and graphic illustration of results, and this record will be kept up throughout the boat races.

SATURDAY'S BOAT RACE.

The first contest between the Reliance and the challenger for the America cup has been decided, and the Reliance won a signal victory. The points of superiority so manifest in Saturday's race it is safe to say will enable the Reliance to defeat the Shamrock in every other contest that may ensue. But two other victories are required to hold the cup on American soil and to defeat Sir Thomas Lipton for the third time. According to the rules the next contest will be sailed over a triangular course and there is little doubt that in this, as in the straightaway course, the Reliance will also lead. It is remarkable what great interest is shown in this contest. It has assumed an international importance as the respective boats represent respectively the ingenuity of the United States and England in the production of racing yachts.

Some people think that the contest is nonsensical, that it is a waste of time and money to bother with such rivalry, but it is not well to take life too seriously.

Such contests offer amusement and recreation to millions of people on this and the other side of the Atlantic. Indeed it may be said that this race is of world-wide interest. The emperor of Germany is almost as deeply interested in the outcome of the race as is the king of England and Sir Thomas Lipton. Other sovereigns of Europe are also deeply interested in contest for superiority in yacht racing.

It is no idle boast to say that since this trophy was won by the yacht America, in 1851, it has been nobly defended against all challenges.

It has been challenged no less than twelve times and raced for in 1870, 1871, 1876, 1881, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1893, 1895, 1899, 1901, and the present year, 1903.

It must be stated that Sir Thomas Lipton has made the most gallant contest for this cup that has been made during its history, and after repeated defeats he has shown such humor, such a sense of fairness and accepted defeat with such gentlemanly grace that he has won the esteem of every American sportsman. But this does not help him in his contest for the cup, except that it secures him the best of treatment and absolutely fair play.

There is not an American citizen in this country today who would wish to see Sir Thomas Lipton unfairly treated. They want to see a fair contest and if in such a contest Sir Thomas lifts the cup he will be congratulated by the united voice of the American people as heartily as by his fellow countrymen who cheer him on his courageous and highly expensive contest for his coveted trophy.

OVER $1,00,000,000

IN U. S. COMMERCE WITH NON-CONTIGUOUS TERRITORY.

Commerce between the United States and its non-contiguous territory amounted to over 100 million dollars in the fiscal year just ended. This figure of 100 millions includes about 5 million dollars' worth of gold bullion produced in Alaska and brought into the United States. Even excluding this, however, and including only merchandise in the calculation, the total amounts to $95,719,000.

This is the first opportunity which has been offered for an accurate measurement and analysis of the commerce between the United States and its non-contiguous territory since the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands and Porto Rico. The Hawaiian Islands were made a customs district of the United States when they were annexed, and as the law did not require the collection of statistics of commerce between the customs districts, a part of the people engaged in that commerce refused to supply such information to the bureau of statistics. When Porto Rico became a customs district of the United States a similar condition developed, except that the information was voluntarily supplied for publication by the steamship companies engaged in that trade. As a result a special law was enacted which applied to the commerce between the various ports of the United States and the non-contiguous territory, the regulations which were applied to foreign commerce, as far as relates to statistics of such commerce. This law went into effect at the beginning of the last fiscal year, and therefore the result of the fiscal year's operation is just available. The law, when enacted, was made broad enough to include all non-contiguous territory belonging to the United States. As a result it gave the statistics of the commerce between Alaska and the ports of the United States as well as that of Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippines, Guam, the Samoan islands, etc.

While the annual figures are the first of any official nature which the country has had of the commerce with Porto Rico and the Hawaiian islands since their annexation, it is practicable to compare these with the figures of the commerce with these islands in any years prior to annexation because of the fact that commerce with them was always measured and reported when they were foreign territory. This is true also with the Philippines. In regard to Alaska, no accurate statistics of the commerce were gathered prior to the last year, but estimates were made for former years, which give a fair basis for comparison. It is practicable, then, to compare the commerce of 1903 with that of 1893, for all of this territory which has now become a part of the United States. This comparison shows that the imports from these various territories aggregated, in round numbers, 29 million dollars in 1893, and 59 millions in 1903, and that exports to that territory amounted to less than 8 millions in 1893 and over 37 millions in 1903.

STOLE BICYCLES

Boy Was Chained to the Floor

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 24.—Arabian methods of child punishment as practised in the home of Joseph Abrizlad, a Georgetown fruit stand keeper, have thoroughly aroused the Washington board of children's guardians. The police are looking for 9-year-old Ameer Abrizlad, who, after being chained to the floor by his father, escaped and is now at large.

The youngster is wise beyond his years, but has a passion for "borrowing" any bicycle on the street. Detective Howland, who has been hunting for a stolen bicycle, has suspected Ameer. When he demanded to see the boy, his mother stopped hanging up clothes long enough to remark: "He won't run away with any more wheels; his father has chained him down."

The detective went upstairs. Sleeping on the floor was an innocent-looking boy. Around one bare ankle was fastened a heavy dog chain, of which the other end was held to the floor by a staple. The links were an inch long and an eighth of an inch thick. The detective could not release the boy, but notified the children's guardians. An agent started out to break the fetters, but when at the house she found the trouble was saved her.

"He broke the chain," explained the mother, "and rode away on his father's bicycle."

A boy friend, whom he had informed of his predicament, called at the house last night, and smuggled to him a large nail. With the skill of a cracksman he forced the padlock and was free.

It is the intention of Miss Bryan to take up the settlement work and she will become a member of the Hull house staff early in the fall.

GARIBALDIAN VETERANS

WATCH OVER BODY OF THEIR LEADER'S SON.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Aug. 24.—The body of Menotti Garibaldi, the eldest son of the Italian patriot, who died Saturday, has been laid on a catafalque in the largest room of his apartment. A vigil is kept by Garibaldian veterans, some of whom have been unable to restrain their tears.

Menotti Garibaldi did not leave a will, but when he felt his last moments approaching, he called a friend and said:

"I have nothing to leave. I only beg you to tell Premier Zanardelli to provide for my destitute children." During the whole of the day, a stream of people passed reverently before the body of the dead man.

The funeral will take place next Tuesday, at the expense of the state, all the military and civil authorities attending. Innumerable telegrams of condolence have been received.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP

War Game Has Been Started in Portland, Me.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 24.—The bridges over the Nonesuch river, Scarboro, were "blown up" yesterday. This will not alarm anyone who wants to drive over them unless he is a naval man. If he is, he cannot go. The blowing of these bridges, of course, makes it impossible for a landing party to make good to the west of the river and having taken care of this the army will do the rest on the east side of the river. Since actual warfare is not legitimate until midnight Tuesday, it might seem inexplicable that bridges could be blown up and wireless stations captured before that time. In an interview last night with an Associated Press correspondent Gen. Chaffee said:

"These are merely precautionary measures, which it is legitimate to pursue during the period of preparation which we are allowed before war is actually declared."

The extreme outposts along the outer Cape shore, were thronged with visitors, but notwithstanding this, they were doing business. The camps have all been built up in such fine shape, that the regular army officers who have visited them, complimented the officers and men of Major Welch's volunteer battalion.

Lieut. Bigelow, commanding officer of the naval reserves, was an interested visitor to the camp at Two Lights, but for obvious reasons, he was not warmly welcomed.

Major Welch and his officers and those of the light batteries that are camped at Silver Springs, went out scouting yesterday, to pick out all the places where the navy would be likely to try to land. It seems to be the general belief that there are some cable cutters among this section of the navy and every precaution will be made to ward off their attacks.

The district which this part of he forces is to defend, extends from Pond Cove to Bowery Beach, while the other companies will spread out further along the coast. The light batteries will spread out also, one going to the Two Lights, and the other further along. The garrison at Fort Williams will furnish the detachment for duty at Delano Park, and will also furnish patrols for the whole country round about, to guard against rear attacks and landing parties that might be found roaming about. The work of protecting the rear of Fort Preble, devolves upon the First Massachusetts artillery, acting as infantry in case the enemy should happen to get ashore somewhere out in the far country and try to make a rear attack unobserved.

Col. Dunwoody, the chief signal officer, has built up a series of search lights and stations that the officers say has never been equalled in the world.

The lights are run upon a regular schedule and each one has its zone of action, no two crossing in any way. They are arranged to be run collectively, if necessary, but unless orders are given for this, the work is done in zone system, each one covering a certain part of the outlook.

A good instance of the work of the search light was given Saturday night, when one of the steamers employed by the government was sent outside with instructions to go as far out as it was thought advisable, and then after "dousing" all lights, try to steal in. This was done, but the steamer was not more than half way in from the lightship before the big searchlight at Two Lights picked her up and every other light was kept on the steamer until it came into the harbor and went to its tying up place.

There has been a great complaint by the volunteers over the commissary department and Major Welch, battalion commander, has registered a formal protest against the food that is furnished them. It is so far away that it is hard to haul rations out, but the state officials will hold the contractors to their contract.

Two companies of New York signalmen, ninety in all, arrived on special cars shortly after 5 o'clock last night, and were quartered for the night with the 107th company of coast artillery.

FOXEN EASY

Lowell Landed Frequently on His Curves

But New Bedford Got Only Three Little Hits off Bushey's Delivery—Grant and Joyce Did Some Fine Fielding—Big Crowd at Nashua Today

On Saturday Count Dee presented Foxen, the South Paw twirler, for the purpose of butchering the Lakelings to make a whaler's holiday, but Foxen butchered not and the Lakelings straightened out every curve he bent at them. A large and enthusiastic crowd looked on and they were satisfied to lose when they saw young Bushey mow down the heavy hitting New Bedfords as easily as though they were a lot of beginners. Bushey allowed them only three hits, though he let them hit the ball where they could for he had complete confidence in his fielders, and they were behind him to a man.

The two center fielders, Grant and Joyce, were the stars in the fielding game while Lake led both aggregations at the bat.

Lowell made three runs in the opening inning, when Hafford led off with a single to centre and was advanced by a bunt by Bigbie. Merritt hit to Foxen, who tried to get Hafford at third without success. Lake bunted, the ball going just a few feet in front of the plate. Foxen ran up, and Burrill also took a step or two after the ball. Then they both hesitated, and when Buster picked up the ball, Lake was almost to first. Buster shot the ball to Josslyn, who was on first bag and the ball hit Lake and went off to the bleachers. Before it could be returned, all three runners had scored.

New Bedford got one in this inning. Joyce drew a base and stole second. After Gulheen had gone out Mullaney hit a hard one that struck Bushey in the shoulder and bounced off, allowing Joyce to score.

In the fourth, Lowell added one on a bunt hit by Grant, a sacrifice by Barney, and a single by Connors. The home team got its second and last run in the fifth, when Foxen got a three-bagger and afterwards scored on a fumble by McLaughlin.

Lowell did an awful job on the home team in the sixth, making five runs. McLaughlin reached first on an error by Gulheen, and was sent down to second by a pretty sacrifice hit by Connors. Bushey hit fast at Allen for a single. Cross smashed the ball to center, and McLaughlin scored. Cross went to second on a rather slow play by center and right field, after which he came home on a single to left by Chic Hafford. Bigbie hit to left field and Mullaney failed to stop the ball. Hafford scored and Bigbie went to third. Merritt sent a line drive to short center, and Joyce made a wonderful catch. Bigbie ran off third, but when he saw the ball had been caught he hurried back. Joyce made a mistake in throwing the ball to third, and Bigbie, who is very fast on his feet, ran to the plate.

After that New Bedford wasn't in it, while Lowell made still another in the ninth. The score:

DIAMOND NOTES.

Whitinsville was trimmed by Lynn Saturday with Klobedanz and Bunyan for a battery. Swope of Nashua pitched for Lynn.

Merritt has caught 88 games this season, the league record.

Cross has won 17 out of the last 20 pitched. That will hold the "old man" critics for a few minutes.

HIGHLANDS WON

DEFEATED INDUSTRY IN ARCANUM GAME.

With three of its best men, McCann, Ready and Boyle absent, Industry Council crossed bats with the Highlands at the Fair Grounds, Saturday and received a good walloping.

There was nothing interesting about the game until a party of cows came along and took positions in the outfield. The Highlands, who were at bat, objected to the extra outfielders and when the cows were ordered off the field they refused to go while one of them, more bold than the rest, started to chew up one of the foul flags. First baseman Carter of the Highlands, with the aid of a shepherd dog, succeeded in chasing the intruders away.

Stafford made his first appearance as an umpire and he wasn't the worst in the business, nor yet the best.

TOOK 10 INNINGS

FOR T. R. & T.'S TO DEFEAT SOUTH BOSTONS.

It took the T. R. and T.'s 10 innings to put away the South Bostons at Faulkner field, Saturday, and they were dead lucky to do it all, as they had less hits and more errors than the losing team. Tim McCarthy pitched a fine game, but got wretched support. He struck out 11 men and allowed 9 scattered hits, 4 of which were due to slow fielding. Errors were responsible for most of the scoring and the T. and R.'s won by bunching their eight hits. Hennessey, Fitzpatrick and Hoyle were the star performers for the home team. Kammerer and Whitely were the feature players for the visitors, the latter robbing Murphy of a sure two-bagger in the fourth by a circus catch of a line drive.

AMATEUR DIAMOND.

The Central A. C. went to Concord Saturday afternoon and defeated the home team by a score of 5 to 4. Joe Plowen, the pitcher of the winning team, won the game by a home run in the last inning.

The Sunnysides initiated the Odd Fellows, Saturday afternoon, and it is safe to say that the Odd Fellows did not like the degree work of the Sunnysides, for they went home humming, "Ain't That a Shame." The game was one sided, the Odd Fellows never having a look in after the first inning, and lost by the score of 20 to 8. The batting of O'Neil and Carney, and the pitching of Boyd were the features of the game.

The Clintons and Pawtucket Blues crossed bats on the Textile grounds Saturday afternoon and the Clintons won by a score of 14 to 12.

The features of the game were the pitching of Cummins for the Clintons and the batting of W. Mallinson and E. Cunningham of the winning team. Allard and Lew also showed up finely for the Clintons. The batteries were J. Cummins and Fred Mallinson for the Clintons and N. St. Thomas and J. Grotton for the Pawtucket Blues.

The Brooksides defeated the Palmers on the North Common Saturday afternoon by a score of 16 to 5. A home run by Allen with three men on bases was a feature of the Brookside game. Gagnon played a good game at short for the winning team. The Brooksides go to Bedford next Saturday to play the team that represents that town.

The Lincolns defeated the Orients of Chelmsford by a score of 10 to 6. The batteries were Stevens and McCaskill for the Lincolns and Redmond and Adams for Chelmsford. The feature of the game was the terrific batting of the Lincolns. Send challenges to J. J. Dunkin, 23 Lincoln street.

COLISEUM OPENING

Butler Defeated Lawson in Motor Paced Race

The Race Was Exciting Until Lawson Lost His Pace — Boston Riders Took the Best Prizes in the Amateur Races —O'Brien Won a Second and Fourth—Attendance Was Very Large

Despite the fact that many people claim that bicycle racing is dead in this city, they would not think so if they had been at the opening meet of the new coliseum bicycle track in Lakeview avenue, at the city line, Saturday night. Over three thousand people witnessed the races and probably another thousand would have done the same if the seating capacity had not been overtaxed. As it was the rush for seats was so great that the sale of tickets had to be stopped shortly after eight o'clock.

As previously stated in this paper the new coliseum track is one of the best built and fastest tracks in the country, and it only remains for some of the crack pace followers to break records on the local track. It is built of superior grade spruce and is eight laps to the mile. The strips are but one inch in width and are placed in such a manner that it will be impossible for the track to warp or get out of true.

The home stretches are banked at an angle of 30 degrees, while the turns are built at an angle of 65 degrees, in order to allow fast time to be made. In many of the modern tracks there is what is known as a "camel hump" going from the stretch into the turn and then again from the turn into the stretch. The "camel hump" makes it difficult for a rider to hold his wheel, but on the local track the rider does not feel the turns, owing to the mode of construction.

Saturday night there was but one grandstand erected, that being on the home stretch, but work was started on the new grandstand this morning, and next Thursday evening when the next meet is pulled off the seating capacity of the coliseum will be doubled and 5000 people can be accommodated.

The attendance at Saturday night's meet only goes to show that the people of this city are very enthusiastic over the cycle racing game, especially if they can see races on a fast and modern track. When over two thousand people will turn out to see amateur races on a horse track surely twice that number will attend professional and amateur races on a modern track.

The people who were present Saturday evening were very enthusiastic over the racing and without doubt were well satisfied with the night's program.

The main event on the program was a fifteen mile motor paced race between Nat Butler, the old "Handicap King" and Gussie Lawson, the "Flying Swede."

The race was a novelty in this city and as the majority of the people had never seen any of the big fourteen horse power pacing machines in operation, it proved to be a great drawing card.

For the first six miles the race was nip and tuck with Lawson having a little the better of the argument, but by the overtaxing of his nerves, which are not strong at the present time owing to a recent illness, Lawson got weak and could not hold his pace. Before the little fellow got going again Butler had lapped him eight times and Nat won the race by over a mile.

Despite the fact that it was a rather one-sided affair after this, the noise of the motors going at a fast clip with a rider trailing behind, furnished plenty of excitement for the crowd.

Both the one-mile handicap and five mile open, amateur events, were well contested and interesting. McKinnon of Boston, proved to be the star amateur, winning the five mile open and getting second in the mile handicap, McDonald of Somerville, another speed merchant of ability, captured the mile handicap from scratch and finished third in the open race. O'Brien of Lowell, captured second in the open and fourth in the handicap, while Goyette, of this city, won a third, and Stoughton of Dorchester, also won a third.

MOTOR PACED RACE.

About nine o'clock the two big fourteen horse power motors were pushed on to the track, Saunders being on Butler's machine, while Tenzler operated the machine which furnished pace for Lawson. The motors went several miles in order to get warmed up and then Lawson and Butler made their appearance. Lawson caught his motor soon after getting on his wheel and rode several miles behind it before the race started. It was not long after Lawson got his pace that Butler was trailing behind Saunders.

On account of the big crowd around the arena it was deemed advisable to start the men on opposite ends of the track. Butler and Lawson drew for position and Lawson got the home-stretch, while Butler started from the back stretch.

After jockeying for a couple of miles for position the starting gun was fired and both riders started to tear around the track at a rapid rate of speed.

The first mile was cut out in a little over 1.21 and Lawson intended to push the pace from the start in order to gain a lap upon Butler. He rode like a fiend and every lap he went gained on Butler. In the third mile he had nearly caught Butler, but Billy Saunders turned on a little more juice and the big pacing machine was seen to take a shoot with Butler sticking close to it. But the pace was too hot for Nat and he soon dropped down to a slower gait, and once more Lawson gained. The little fellow continued to gain until the sixth mile when he was taken sick and dropped his pace. This was what Butler was waiting for and as soon as Lawson lost his machine Nat started to circle the track at a much faster rate of speed than before.

Butler lapped Lawson eight times before the latter could get his pace, and everyone knew that barring an accident the race would go to the Cambridge rider. After Lawson caught his pace he seemed to ride with increased vigor, but he had lost too many laps and was therefore out of the running. When Butler finished his fifteen miles Lawson was one mile and half a lap to the bad. The fastest mile during the race was the eighth, Butler circling the eight laps in 1.17 4-5.

All during the race the spectators were very enthusiastic and both riders had their admirers who cheered according to which was doing the better work. When Butler finished he received vociferous applause. The time for the fifteen miles was 21 minutes, 57 3-5 seconds.

Lawson received a number of bad falls in the recent Golden Wheel race held at Charles River track and owing to injuries and a sickness accompanying them were the cause of his rather poor showing, but despite this fact he rode a plucky race and received good applause for his work.

AMATEUR RACES.

The first race on the program was a one mile handicap which was pulled off in two heats. In the first heat McKinnon of Boston and Mike O'Brien of this city were on scratch. There were seven entries in this heat, four men to qualify. At the report of the pistol the riders got off and the limit men working well together fought the low marked men off for six laps, but on the seventh lap McKinnon, O'Brien and Frey Goyette got together and cutting out a lively sprint brought down the field and McKinnon finished first, with Kinnon of Lowell second, Goyette third and O'Brien fourth. Owing to the fact that Kinnon finished on the running board below the black mark, which is the official distance, he was disqualified and Alton, the fifth man, qualified.

The second heat brought out seven starters, with McDonald of Somerville on scratch, Stoughton on 10 yards and Connors on 50. This heat was a little slower than the other, but on the last lap the riders got down to business and McDonald came in first, with Batchelder a close second and Connors and Stoughton third and fourth.

The final heat found eight starters in line, O'Brien, McKinnon and McDonald on scratch, Stoughton on 10 yards, Goyette on 35, Connors at 50 and Batchelder and Alton on 70. This was a pretty race the three scratch men working together and catching the field in two laps. A sleighride was then started and the jockeying for position was pretty. On the last lap McKinnon started to let it out, but he was closely followed by McDonald, who beat him out at the tape. Goyette and O'Brien had a battle for third position, but the former won out and Mike finished fourth.

Nine men started in the five-mile open, there being a special prize at the end of every mile. This was really five races in one, as there was a lively sprint for the mile prizes.

Two laps were allowed the rider to get into position and when the gun was fired Goyette was setting the pace. Fred started out on the fifth lap to speed it up and set a fast pace until the seventh, when Connors went to the front and held the lead, winning the first mile.

In the second mile Mahan took the lead and held it until the seventh lap, when McDonald forged ahead and won the mile prize. Connors took the pace at the beginning of the third mile, but Kearney, a local rider, caught the bunch napping and got quite a lead, the other riders letting him go, until Goyette unwound his gear and letting it out started after Kearney and beat him out by several inches for the prize at the end of the third mile.

Kearney tried to lap the field in the fourth mile and he was encouraged on by the spectators, but when he had gained half a lap McDonald went out after him. After catching him McDonald continued on his ride and it looked as though he was going to lap the field. But after winning the fourth mile prize he slowed down and waited for the other riders.

The last mile was probably the slowest for the men were jockeying for position, but they got going on the sixth lap and kept it up until the finish, McKinnon crossing the tape a few inches ahead of O'Brien, McDonald being third and Stoughton fourth.

THE SUMMARY.

The summary was as follows:

One-Mile Handicap—First heat won by McKinnon, Boston, scratch; Goyette, Lowell, 35 yards, second; O'Brien, Lowell, scratch, third; Alton, Lowell, 70 yards, fourth; time, 2 minutes 7 seconds. Second heat won by McDonald, Somerville, scratch; Batchelder, Lowell, 70 yards, second; Connors, Lowell, 50 yards, third; Stoughton, Dorchester, 10 yards, fourth; time, 2 minutes 11 1-5 seconds. Final heat won by McDonald, McKinnon second, Goyette third, O'Brien fourth. Time, 2.09.

Five-Mile Open—Won by McKinnon, Boston; O'Brien, Lowell, second; McDonald, Somerville, third; Stoughton, Dorchester, fourth. Time, 12.21.

Lap Prizes—First mile won by Connors, second by McDonald, third by Goyette and fourth by McDonald.

15-Mile Motor Paced Race—Between Nat Butler and Gussie Lawson, won by Butler by one mile and 110 yards. Time, 21 minutes 57 3-5 seconds.

IS BISHOP NOW

Rev. Thomas Hendrick Consecrated at Rome

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Aug. 24.—The consecration of the Rev. Thomas A. Hendrick of Rochester, N. Y., as bishop of Cebu, P. I., was performed yesterday, by Cardinal Satolli, in the Church of the Franciscan missionary nuns. The occasion acquired special importance, because one of Cardinal Satolli's assistants at the function was Archbishop Harty, the metropolitan of the Philippine Islands, while contemporaneously Cardinal Satolli consecrated Mgr. Cavallari as titular bishop of Philadelphia, Asia Minor, whom the Pope has appointed pro-vicar of Venice.

Pius X will still keep to himself the patriarchate, thus avoiding a revival of the question whether the Italian government has the right to choose the patriarch of Venice, which it claimed when Cardinal Sarto was appointed to that post.

The scene yesterday was picturesque in the extreme, when red-robed cardinals, surrounded by the bishops and a number of nuns clad entirely in white, proceeded to the symbolic consecration. The students of the American College came to Rome from their villa at Castel Gandolfo, specially to assist at the ceremony.

A collation was afterward served in the refectory to 200 distinguished guests, including Mgr. Kennedy and Fr. David Flemming. Cardinal Satolli later gave a dinner in honor of Bishop Hendrick, at which Archbishop Harty, Bishop Cavallard and Mgrs. Kennedy and Fowler were present. Archbishop Harty has booked his passage on La Touraine, which will leave Havre for New York, Aug. 29.

Bishop Hendrick, who has received instructions regarding the Philippines from the papal secretary of state, will have a private audience of Pius X, and afterward will leave for Ireland, as he wishes to have Irish nuns and monks sent to his diocese of Cebu, for teaching purposes. He also desires that several Irish priests be sent, at least for a time.

MASSACHUSETTS HELP

HELD AN ENJOYABLE OUTING ON SATURDAY.

The employes of the Massachusetts cotton mills, representing the yard and machine shop, held an outing at Spalding park Saturday afternoon and the feature of the fun was a ball game between the Huguenots and the Hoodoos, captained respectively by Bert Hall and Ted Barnes, the Hugues representing the yard and the Hoodoos the machine shop, and the Huguenots won by a score of 16 to 6.

The teams were: Hoodoos, Edward Lecteral, John Welch, Peter McLaughlin, Fred Schemnerhorn, Samuel McAleer, Edward Barnes, Eldrich Seeley, Wilfred Heathcock, William Simpson.

Huguenots, Eben Vose, Charles Barden, Matthew Hill, Adam McIlee, Joseph Harvey, Thomas Finnegan, Robert Arnold, Will Clark and Fred Starky. Umpire Jack Henderson gave good satisfaction, and Ashley Welcome kept score.

A great game of quoits was played during the ball game, in which Frank McLeod and Henry Jacobs after defeating several others were badly trimmed by two fellows who said that it was so easy that they didn't care to give their names.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon, Jack Hayes being in charge, and he was ably assisted by William Heathcock, C. S. Tuttle, N. D. Keables, Charlie Boutilier and others.

There is talk of another game between teams representing the Prescott and Massachusetts sides.

IN TEWKSBURY

AUTOMOBILE FRIGHTENED HORSE AND WOMAN WAS HURT.

Mrs. Charles Clark was thrown from her wagon Saturday afternoon and had a narrow escape from serious injury. Her horse became frightened at a passing automobile. The front wheels broke away from the wagon, throwing Mrs. Clark to the street. She was assisted to her home and Dr. Rollins was summoned. She was badly shaken up, but not seriously injured.

PIONEER REFORMER

JOHN FOLEY DIED AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—John Foley, New York's pioneer reformer, who brought the famous injunction suit which ended in the rout of the "Tweed ring," died late Saturday night after a lingering illness at his home in Lexington avenue. His health was shattered 20 years ago by his persistent fight for good government. Of recent years his son has had charge of his gold pen manufactory under the Astor house.

John Foley had an interesting career. Beginning with his election as a supervisor in 1869, he started a single-handed fight against "Boss Tweed," and did not let up until the famous ring was swept away. He joined with Commodore Vanderbilt in the project to extend Madison avenue to Yorkville, and was active for years in an effort to have a rapid transit railway between City hall and Harlem.

CHELMSFORD

Mr. Ferdinand Scoboria of South Chelmsford, who soon expects to leave town, was pleasantly surprised by his friends Friday, and John B. Emerson, on behalf of the many friends of Mr. Scoboria, presented him with a case of brushes and a dress suit case. A social time followed the presentation.

The club of West Chelmsford girls who have been dressing dolls this summer for children's wards in various hospitals under the direction of Miss Myra Durgin, held their last meeting at Miss Durgin's home Friday afternoon, when the dolls were on exhibition. There were 27 dolls. Ice cream, cake and fruit were served by Miss Durgin to the girls and a very pleasant time was enjoyed. Miss Durgin leaves Monday for a week's rest. After she returns the dolls will be on exhibition at her home.

SCHWAB MAKES A VENTURE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—Charles M. Schwab, with C. H. Matthieson, is now in control of the Chicago Pneumatic Tube company. Control of the company was obtained by the purchase of the holdings of Max Pam and his friends.

Mr. Schwab, it is understood, bought from Mr. Pam about $800,000 par value of stock, paying for it $70 a share.

LORD SALISBURY

Former Premier of England is Dead

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Lord Salisbury died at 9.05 Saturday evening. He had been steadily failing for several days, and was only kept alive by the constant use of oxygen.

A sharp relapse set in at 3 o'clock Saturday morning, and he failed gradually until the end.

It is understood that Lord Salisbury recently expressed a wish to be buried beside his wife at Hatfield. A proposal will undoubtedly be made to bury him in Westminster Abbey, but this will be declined by the relatives in accordance with his lordship's wishes.

KILLED HIMSELF

Milo Spring Temporarily Insane

By Associated Press to The Sun

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 24.—A special to the Telegram from Ashland, says Milo W. Spring, aged 49, manager of the Olmstead and Tuttle properties, shot himself in the head with a revolver, Saturday night, and died within an hour. Mr. Spring had been suffering from a kidney disorder and that is given as the cause for his suicide.

During the evening, Mr. Spring with his wife and daughter, went on a long pleasure drive. Returning the three were in the kitchen. A revolver that he usually carried, lay on a table and Mr. Spring stepped toward it. His daughter noting a peculiar look in his eyes, slipped between him and the table. He put his hands on her shoulders, set her aside, took the revolver, raised it to his temple, and exclaiming, "See that," fired.

LAW IS BEING PREPARED IN RUSSIA.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24—A law legalizing strikes is in preparation. A general strike which began August 20 at Ekattrinoslav was followed by a collision between strikers and the military in which eleven strikers were killed and twelve wounded.

The governor has since announced that work will be generally resumed on the railroads and in the factories today.

TWO SEIZURES

LIQUOR OFFICERS WERE BUSY ON THE SABBATH.

Sunday afternoon the liquor squad visited the premises numbered 619 Lakeview avenue and seized two cases of beer.

One Certainty

Some Lowell People Fully Realize it Now

When the back aches from kidney ills,
When urinary troubles annoy you,
There's a certain way to find relief.
A sure way to be cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills will do it.
Lowell people endorse this claim.

Mr. G. S. Emerson, of 512 Westford street, says:

"A lapse of time has increased my appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills. The cure effected by that remedy in 1896 when I procured a supply at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, and took a course of the treatment, has been a course of the treatment, has been permanent. Other members of my family have used the remedy during that period, and add their endorsement to mine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

The Vagaries of Fashion In the Gay French Capital

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Every one here is raving over the simplicity of the embroidered linen and voile gowns. These are deservedly popular for morning wear, the skirts just clearing the ground. The trotteuse skirt, which is really extremely unbecoming, is reserved for athletic exercises in the country. Some of these linen gowns have flat embroidered hats to match. Red and white mixtures are popular, and green and white looks delightfully cool on hot mornings. Morning hats should accompany all these dresses, reserving the picture hats for fete or carriage wear. We in Paris do not care to trail around in the morning with lace frocks and picture hats, as a good many Englishwomen here do. It is not considered chic.

White pongee, trimmed with lace, makes a beautiful afternoon gown. Long and short coats, children's suits and jackets are also most satisfactory in this material, as it washes like muslin. White pongee lends itself to so many different styles that it enjoys a well earned popularity without being common. It is extremely suitable for sunburst effects, as it falls naturally into just the folds necessary to this plaiting. It can be combined with all kinds of heavy lace with good results, or in tucks with feather stitching. A pongee petticoat is most serviceable for wear with light summer gowns and it washes nicely.

Our afternoon and reception toilets are perfect wonders, both in extravagance of cost and beauty. Irish lace and fine guipure trim the crepe de chine and mousseline de soie gowns. Black chantilly, jet and silver paillettes and beautiful embroideries are extensively used. An exquisite toilet worn by a pretty Parisian was in cream soie de chine, with a pelerine collar of Irish point mixed with black chantilly and decorated with a design of Louis XV. bowknots in silver sequins and edged with a green and white silk fringe, while a soft belt of green peau de soie was caught with Louis XV. clasps. The accordion plaited skirt was decorated on the hips with the same Irish crochet and black chantilly, which was also inserted at the hem. The sleeves were made of the soie de chine and the two laces, revealing most beautiful undersleeves of accordion plaited cream chiffon.

A soft, voluminous effect in sleeves and skirts seems to be the aim of the leading costumers. The skirts are more gauged than ever, and the smarter ones are cut all in one piece, with about twelve yards of fullness around the feet. They are lovely in thin fabrics, but are too heavy in cloth. Cloth skirts are full in the back and smooth over the hips, whence they fall full to the ground.

At this time of year one sees many beautiful traveling costumes. A charming example is of green and blue Scotch plaid. The skirt touches the ground all around and is plaited from the hip downward, the top being composed of strappings of the plaid with red pipings and little buttons to match. The little sack bolero has a red turnover collar and cuffs and a red leather belt. With this is worn a perfectly flat hat, trimmed with blue and green wings.

Some smart toilets are seen at the Cercle de Puteau. A striking black taffeta costume worn by the Vicomtesse d'Origny was made with a Louis XVI. coat with a jabot of old point d'alencon, and falling from the elbow sleeves were frills of the same lace. A large black hat was worn with this, trimmed with beautiful ostrich feathers. Another dainty gown, worn by the Countess de Rostang, was of champagne voile with a very deep collar of cluny and Irish lace and a large picture hat, covered with pale mauve satin and trimmed with white ostrich feathers.

LATE SUMMER PARISIAN MODES.

Some new fall hats are made entirely of feathers. One which I saw was a large turban shape, the outside of the brim being composed of iridescent coq feathers, while the crown and inside of the brim were of pale blue feathers. A large plume made of the coq feathers, fastened with a jet buckle to the blue crown, swept over the brim and round the side, resting on the hair behind.

Extraordinarily becoming are the 1830, or pelerine shaped, bodices and the full, gathered skirts. The waist looks small by contrast without any lacing. Truly the modes of that period, when treated by the skillful modern couturiere, leaves nothing to be desired. Grace is the order of the day. Mantles are of really beautiful shapes. An opera cloak of large patterned green and gold brocade, lined with yellow satin, entirely covers the dress. The bell sleeves have under lace ones threaded with gold, also open. A large collar of tucked net with a gold lace bordering falls over the shoulders. Another cloak of white satin embroidered with pearls, large and voluminous also, has a vandyked lace collar. A pink chiffon is made with large sleeves, drawn in at the wrist and slashed at the outside of the arm with net introduced and long ends of the soft crape tied in front.

For the bridesmaid there has appeared a delightful new material, double chiffon, a compromise between the very transparent and the opaque; something which is quite as suitable for day wear as evening. Double chiffon appears to be quite perfect for its purposes. As it is not necessary to use so much of it as of single chiffon, it will not be found at all expensive, while it wears much longer. Again, double chiffon lends itself to laces, either heavy or light, quite delightfully. I first saw this most satisfactory material applied with Irish and guipure, and I have since seen it with almost every other kind of lace on the list. Very few know that chiffon, both single and double, washes nicely. Single chiffon, when washed and pulled into shape without ironing, looks quite like the double. I once saw a pretty cream blouse of apparently double chiffon which, I was told, had been a chiffon skirt.

I saw a very pretty evening frock the other night in the always possible black and white. It was of black cluny lace. Its newness consisted in the clever use of white chiffon on the black lace. The white chiffon was appliqued with black lace to finish the decolletage, and accordion plaited frills of the chiffon on the sleeves were bordered by a very effective little double ruche consisting of a black ruche inside of a white one. The method of arrangement of the black and white made an uncommonly good frock for a stout person. A gown of black net over white had a design in jet and sequins down the front and around the bottom of the skirt. The bodice was made with a pelerine of jet and a deep pointed collar of white embroidered mousseline. A little cluster of white mousseline roses nestled just below it.

I have lately seen some especially good evening frocks, many in soft, gleaming satins in white and pale tints. A pretty brown haired woman wore a frock of pale pink satin with a cloudlike arrangement of pink tulle around the shoulders. There were pearls about her neck and the comb in her hair was set with diamonds and pink coral.

The convenient lace mittens are worn with evening dress as well as with day costumes. For garden parties and outdoor fetes they are indispensable, as they permit the free use of the fingers while covering the hand and arm. By securing a good pattern they may be made very easily of net and lace and decorated with colors and designs to match the gown. They possess the advantage of revealing pretty rings and well kept finger nails. Among the new gloves also are some beauties in fine silk, with an embroidered design in vines on the back of the hand and around the top of the wrist. I have seen them in pale shades of gray, drab, biscuit and champagne. Pale olive enters into the coloring of nearly all of these designs, with a touch of light blue, pink and black.

The smartly dressed mondaine attired for outdoor sports certainly merits description, as every detail in the costume is as practical as it is smart. The favorite tennis dress is of white linen. A short skirt, the length of a trotteuse, is comfortably full at the hem. Strappings of white and pink spotted pique, finished with round gold buttons at intervals, border the kilting or the flounce "en forme." A white tucked chemisette with a pink cravat and a white panama hat, draped with a scarf of lace falling in ends behind, complete the costume.

A smart little red cloth coat, decorated with gold buttons, is generally donned when the game is finished. These bright jackets are very becoming. Some are tight fitting and some resemble the sack coat. The Princess d'Isenburg wore a becoming skirt of white linen, strapped with blue and white spotted linen, with a well cut, tailor made red coat and a panama hat trimmed with a blue and white figured scarf.

That we are wearing bonnets nobody can doubt, and bonnets with strings at that, and, not content with turning our toques into bonnets by the addition of strings, we are now adding strings to our hats—not narrow velvet ones, such as used to be worn on our Dolly Vardens some time ago, but wide, soft ribbon and mousseline strings, tied in a big bow under the chin. These are extremely becoming to some faces and seem to belong to the hats of the present day.

CATHERINE TALBOT.

Pretty Homemade Collars.

The turnover embroidered collars which are now so much in vogue may be made at home for very much less than their market price, out of embroidered handkerchiefs. The borders, cut from opposite sides of the handkerchief, only require to be mounted on cambric bands, to go inside the neckband of the dress, and there they are, two as pretty and dainty collars as you could buy. The third collar is made by joining out the remaining edges of the embroidery handkerchief; but it need not look patched if a little care be taken. One piece is used to form the main part of the collar, the other is cut and makes the two corners, which must be joined to it on the slant and at such an angle as enables you to get a collar of the desired length. Perhaps you will be inclined to think the third collar is an impossibility, but it really only calls for a little ingenuity in the matter of putting on the corners, as you will soon find when you take the work in hand.

Some clever girls make pretty square sailor collars from embroidered handkerchiefs. In that case all four corners of the handkerchief are left intact, and from one side a piece like an inverted U is cut for the neck. If you are puzzled at this description, take a sailor collar and lay it out flat, and you will then easily see how to cut your handkerchief.

The Mohair Costume.

Mohair gowns are now to be seen in every color and of many different textures, so that it seems as though for every occasion a mohair gown is suitable. First and foremost, for a traveling gown a mohair is most desirable, as the material "sheds" the dust, does not easily get tumbled, and, in fact, will stand a lot of hard wear without looking shabby, and a good brushing off and sponging make it look like new. Black or blue in dark shades are the smartest colors to choose, and a coat is far better than a waist, for the material even in the softest weaves is too harsh to be easily made to fit well. But a long coat, with skirt to match and a waist of the same color, but different material, makes a smart costume.

Style In Belts.

The greatest novelties in belts are the new suede belts, the backs wide so that they drape prettily around the waist, joining on to the straight front and side pieces by means of large silver or gold rings. These are to be had in all colors, but with a blue serge nothing looks smarter than the natural colored suede. In kid, too, are some of the newest belts, so soft and supple that they may be drawn round the figure like a ribbon, or left straight, for they are shaped so as to be wider behind than in front. Colored patent leather belts are smart, but are not so easy to arrange as suede.

Early Fall Tailor Suit

THIS pretty costume can be made of tweed or light weight cloth. The strappings on the cuffs and shoulders are piped with satin and the bolero is finished with buttons to match. The sleeves are represented with the latest cuff, cut with the sleeve and plaited to fit the arm. The hat is made of the same material and has a touch of ribbon matching the necktie.

The Characteristic Blouse.

There is, perhaps, no more characteristic garment than the shirt waist or blouse of the up to date girl, and it should be most carefully chosen. Whether it be simple or elaborate must depend not only upon the state of the wearer's pocket, but still more on the occasion for which it is worn. One thing is essential to it, and that is its immaculate cleanliness and neatness.

The Convenient Coffee Coat.

The coffee coat is the piece de resistance in a small outfit. It smartens ordinary blouses (with low or "French" neck) for semievening toilet, and it can be worn out of doors to veil the blouse at garden parties or for smart calls.

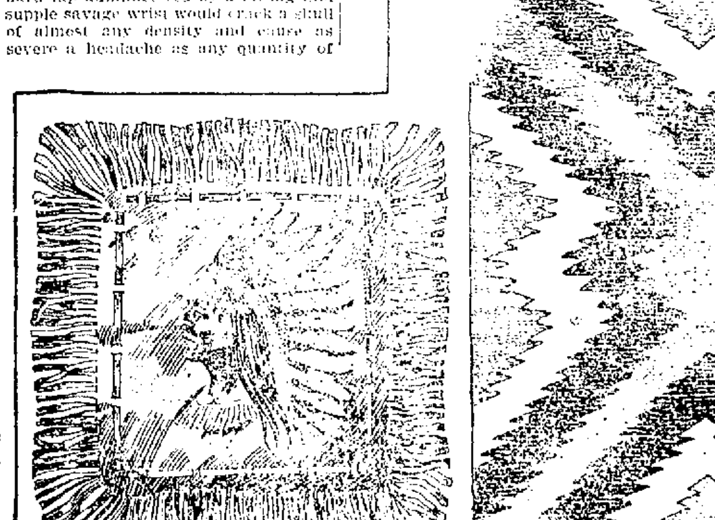

Embellishing the House With an Indian Cozy Corner

A FASHIONABLE as well as a really artistic and unique effect in fitting up the library or sitting room can be obtained by the upbuilding of an Indian cozy corner. For this the chief essential may be said to be Navajo blankets, which serve alike for a couch covering and for rugs. These blankets range in price from $1 to $500. The finest specimens are old bayettas, which are very scarce and expensive, as no duplicates are produced in the present day. The colors used in these, especially the red, were obtained from cloth brought into Mexico by the Spanish and sold to the padres, who in turn sold it to the Indians at a handsome profit. This fine cloth was raveled and the thread woven into blankets.

It will thus be seen that the cost of the materials was large in the beginning, and as it is long since any of this variety has been made the bayettas are quite rare. But they are very durable and the colors are absolutely unfading. Then there are the more common and less expensive blankets woven by the Navajo squaws of the present day. These Indians raise the sheep, make their own yarn and dye it with colors obtained from herbs and minerals. A bright reddish orange or flame color enters largely into the coloring; also scarlet, black, white and blue. The skill with which the savages blend the colors and weave the intricate patterns is wonderful and curious. Every thread is woven in and out the warp on the rough loom by hand and pressed down tightly with a little stick until the rug is as stiff as a board.

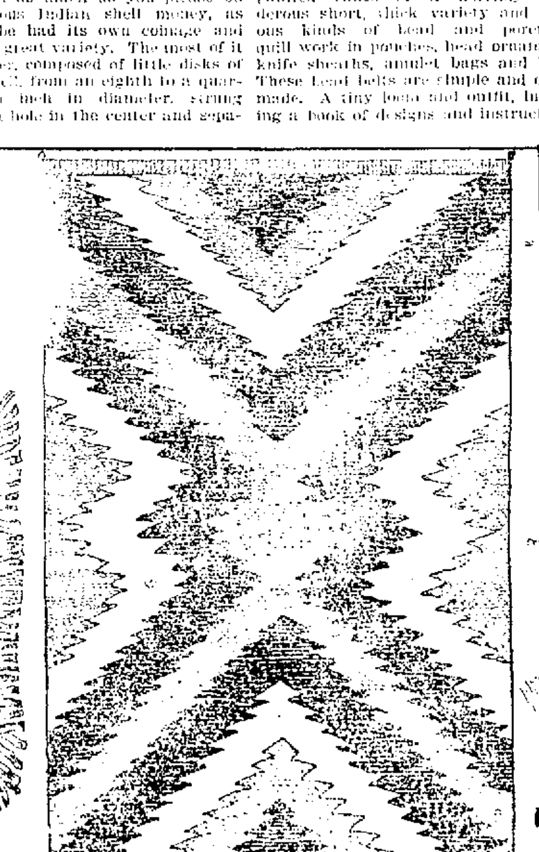

For a couch covered with one of these blankets there are sofa pillows made of sheepskins in red, green, orange and all the shades of tan and brown. Some are painted with Indian heads and some are worked in beads, so that you may repose with your cheek resting against the war paint and feathers of the bloodthirsty Geronimo or Rain-in-the-Face, while your feet are holding down Sitting Bull or some of his ilk. These cushion covers are made from a skin much larger than the cushion proper, the superfluous edges being slashed to make a deep fringe and the top and bottom covers laced together over the cushion with colored cord or ribbon passed through holes made in the leather. There are also cushions covered with wool materials in bright colored stripes and designs, filled with fir and pine needles, while some may be covered with beautiful Mexican drawn work, put on over a dark color.

The wall behind your couch may be draped with one of the bright colored Mexican serapes or shawls, the artistic value of which is beyond price, but intrinsically it is anywhere from $5 to $60. Or you may decorate the space with such interesting trifles as the "headache sticks" (war clubs) of the Sioux and Apache tribes. These harmless looking weapons are made of a smooth, oval stone as large as a good sized hen's egg, fastened in some ingenious manner to a strong stick about a foot long, which serves as a handle. The whole is then wound tightly with strips of thin leather and completely covered with designs in bright colored beads. The top of the handle is decorated with [illegible] tassels or fringes of slashed leather. However innocent and ornamental these playthings may look, upon examination you will decide that a good, hard tap administered by a strong and supple savage wrist would crack a skull of almost any density and cause as severe a headache as any quantity of lobster a la Newburg, or cold beans and hard cider overnight.

Leather Sofa Pillow

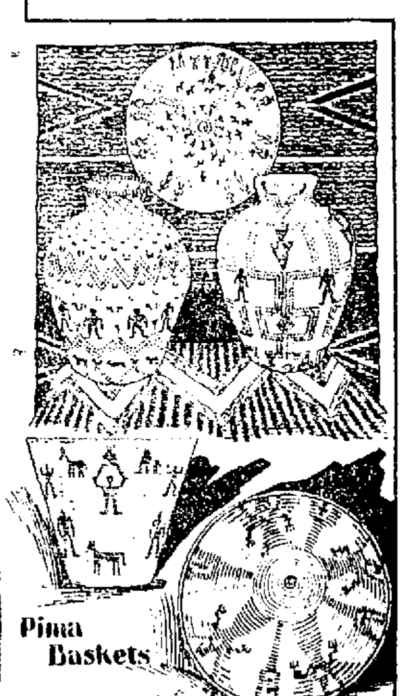

There are also Tuscarora and Winnebago tomahawks, which give you the shivers to gaze upon, even though they are hung by an inoffensive ribbon to the ornate peg in your coziest den. They remind you so forcibly of the bludgeon depicted in the story book of "Jack the Giant Killer," at the thought of which you have not yet got over having little thrills of terror creep up your spine. To accompany these are lariats of rawhide, feathered headdresses, decorated bows and arrows, Yaqui quirts or riding whips, Moqui sash belts woven of bright colored wool, strings of wampum, which, by the way, is becoming quite scarce and expensive. You can spend as much as you please on this curious Indian shell money, as every tribe had its own coinage and there is a great variety. The most of it is, however, composed of little disks of carved shell, from an eighth to a quarter of an inch in diameter, strung through a hole in the center and separated at intervals by bits of turquoise or anthracite.

Navajo Rug

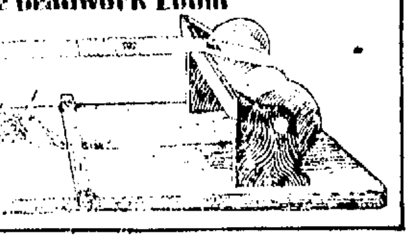

A medicine mask, hung at the head of your couch, might invite repose. These are also becoming as rare as they are hideous, with their Medusa-like cast of countenance, horrible rolling lips, weird eyes and long, streaming hair from an enemy's scalp. There are also dainty squaw caps, buckskin leggings and moccasins, embroidered with dyed porcupine quills and colored beads. Other pleasing ornaments are calumet peace pipes, hand carved and painted canes of a horribly murderous short, thick variety and various kinds of bead and porcupine quill work in pouches, head ornaments, knife sheaths, amulet bags and belts. These bead belts are simple and easily made. A tiny loom and outfit, including a book of designs and instructions, can be purchased from any of the Indian goods stores.

On a table covered with painted leather or a cloth of Mexican drawn work may be gathered a collection of horned toads, tarantulas, trapdoor spiders and centipeds, mounted to serve as paperweights; curiously decorated water bottles and pottery from the Maricopa, Zuni and Moqui tribes; quaint Pueblo idols, made of clay, representing gods of rain, plenty, peace and pain, with hideous distorted faces; paper weights in Mexican onyx.

Pima Baskets

Apache Beadwork Loom

Heads of chiefs in war paint and feathers on whole sheepskins may be tacked up around the wall with excellent decorative effect, and the beautiful baskets of the different tribes may be scattered about with as much profusion as the purse allows. The most beautiful of these baskets are made by the Moqui or Hopi tribes. These Indians live on the buttes of northern Arizona, and the beauty of coloring and symbolism of their baskets outrival all the other tribes. Their large ceremonial baskets make imposing ornaments. Then there are Hoopa acorn baskets; Pomo, Klamath, Shasta, Shoshone, Apache, Pima and a host of others, not omitting the sweet grass and splint baskets of the northern Indian. The latter baskets are easily woven, and the materials can also be obtained from the Indian goods stores. Indeed, the making of these baskets, as well as some of the more difficult kinds, has become quite a fad. There is no difficulty in making them if a book of instructions is obtained, and in some places classes are formed for teaching the art.

The little birch bark canoes, baskets and boxes are both pretty and ornamental. Some of these fashioned by the northern Indians are worked with porcupine quills in red, blue, green, purple and white in queer artistic designs. Among the most highly prized treasures of my childhood was a little workbox made from the brown inner bark of the birch, embroidered thickly with porcupine quill work in bright colors, especially the cover, which had strong hinges of the quills. I have seen, too, ornamental toboggans, snowshoes and other articles of a similar make.

A corner shelf to hold some of the smaller things may be covered with a piece of sheepskin, with a slashed fringe hanging from it and festooned with one of the necklaces made of black hawks' beaks, tipped with vermilion and strung with large beads alternating with the beaks. Or perhaps you would prefer a necklace of buffaloes' teeth, stained red and strung also with beads between. The gory looking teeth have a disagreeably human appearance, and in these days when the necklace holds dominion one can imagine the sensation an up to date and faddish dame would make should she appear with one of them depending from her fair neck.

A corner furnished in this way might not be a cheap one, but it would be very odd and interesting.

Save Tissue Paper.

Try saving every scrap of tissue paper that comes into the house for wiping looking glasses. It gives a peculiar luster to the glass.

ICE CREAM WITH HOT CHOCOLATE.—A delicious and simple dessert is composed of ice cream and hot chocolate sauce. Break up the chocolate, put it in an agate saucepan and melt over the fire, stirring it well until it is a thick, smooth paste. Have the ice cream in brick form. Cut in slices and when they are on the plates put two or three tablespoonfuls of the chocolate sauce over each slice.

TONGUE TOASTETTES.—Keep the remains of cold boiled tongue, hang it up until quite dry and hard, then grate as much as is requisite. Put this into a saucepan with enough cream to make it into a nice paste, add pepper and salt to taste. Warm up and serve on small squares of buttered toast.

CUCUMBER SOUP.—Peel a large cucumber and lay it in cold water for about half an hour; then divide into pieces an inch thick. Place these in a stewpan with salt and pepper to taste, two onions, a sprig of parsley and sufficient veal or fowl stock to cover all. Simmer till the cucumber is tender, then take away the onion and parsley and pass the rest through a sieve. Fry together, without browning, one ounce each of butter and flour; on to this pour the cucumber puree. Bring to the boil while stirring, then add sufficient milk to make the soup of the right consistency. Just before serving add a beaten egg with a tablespoonful of cream. Have ready dice of cucumber, which have previously been boiled in salted water till tender, and serve in the soup.

CHEESE CUSTARDS.—Butter some small cups thoroughly and cut some thin slices of bread and butter into small dice, arranging them in a pattern on the side of the cups. Scatter grated cheese—parmesan, if possible—over all. Make a custard with the yolks of two eggs and three-quarters of a pint of milk. At the last minute before cooking add the whites beaten to a stiff froth. Season with salt, white pepper and cheese. Fill up the molds and steam very slowly till set. Turn out to serve and garnish with chopped parsley or truffles.

LAWRENCE MEN

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY AT BRUNSWICK, ME.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BRUNSWICK, Me., Aug. 24.—Deputy Sheriff John Leonard arrived on the pullman train last night, from New Castle, with four prisoners, James G. Stevenson, aged 20; Charles Hogan, 19, John Wood, 18, and Harry Lasley, 18, all of Lawrence, Mass., who are charged with entering the residence of M. H. Blackwell, Saturday, and stealing a pocketbook and other goods.

Deputy Sheriff Leonard caught them yesterday, a mile west of New Castle. They confessed to the larceny, some of the property being found in their possession.

A charge of vagrancy will also be made against them. It is thought that they may be connected with some of the other breaks recently made in this town.

DYNAMITE EXPLODED

ATTEMPT MADE TO WRECK A TRAIN.

By Associated Press to The Sun

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 24.—An apparent attempt to wreck two passenger trains on the Missouri Pacific railroad was made near Quindaro, Kan., Saturday night.

A charge of dynamite was exploded under the engine of a train from St. Joseph and an open switch was placed for one outbound.

The latter train was uninjured and the incoming train escaped with only the headlights and the windows of the cab of the engine shattered.

The dynamite was placed on the track at a place known as Big Eddy. When the train reached Big Eddy it was running at the rate of 50 miles an hour.

When the engine was stopped it was found that a large hole had been blown out under one of the rails and one-half of a tie was gone. There were 110 passengers on the train.

HOTELS RAIDED

State Police at Lake Wachusett

GAMBLING MACHINES SEIZED IN SOME PLACES

Beer and Whiskey Also Seized

By Associated Press to The Sun

FITCHBURG, Aug. 24.—District police officers Neal, Letteny, Molt, Chittendon, Hodges, and Hammond raided the Jennison House and Wachusett Lake House, in Princeton, on opposite sides of Wachusett lake, yesterday afternoon, and seized large quantities of beer and liquor at each place.

At the Jennison House they seized a gambling machine known as a musical cabinet, in which nickels are played on numbers. Marcellus C. Terry was arrested and locked up at the police station here.

No arrest was made at Wachusett Lake House, but Sever E. Beaulieu was named in the search warrant, as proprietor of the house.

The raids were made on four Fitchburg police court warrants, obtained by George C. Noll. Two warrants were taken out for each place, one for liquor and one for gambling implements.

Officers Neal and Molt searched the Wachusett Lake House and seized 90 bottles of lager and a small quantity of whisky. Officers Letteney, Chittendon, Hodges and Hammond raided the Jennison House and found 190 bottles of lager and a gallon of whiskey. In a building described as the bowling alley they found and seized a gambling machine. The liquor and machine were loaded into an express team and turned over to the custody of the Fitchburg police.

Evans E. Davis, agent of the New England watch and ward society, raided the Jennison House six weeks ago, and seized two gambling machines, similar to the one seized yesterday, and Terry then paid a fine of $25 in the Fitchburg police court on the charge of keeping gaming implements.

The raids yesterday were the result of an investigation by the state officers on complaints made to Chief Rufus R. Wade, that the laws relative to liquor selling and gambling were not being enforced by town officials and that there were gross violations at both resorts, which are within a short distance of the State reservation.

TWO MEN KILLED

NEWSPAPER TRAIN GOING MILE A MINUTE DITCHED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 24.—A special train of the New York Central railroad carrying New York city newspapers, was wrecked at Gulf bridge in this city yesterday.

Engineer Robert Lilley and fireman Peter Conley, both of Albany, were killed. A number of others were injured, none, however, fatally.

The train, which was running at the rate of a mile a minute, was composed of an engine and three express cars.

The front car, in which were all of those injured, followed the engine down the slope.

The bodies of engineer Lilley and fireman Conley were burned in the wreckage, but were later recovered.

SCREAMED AT NIGHT WITH PAIN

Suffered With Nervous Prostration Over Three Years.

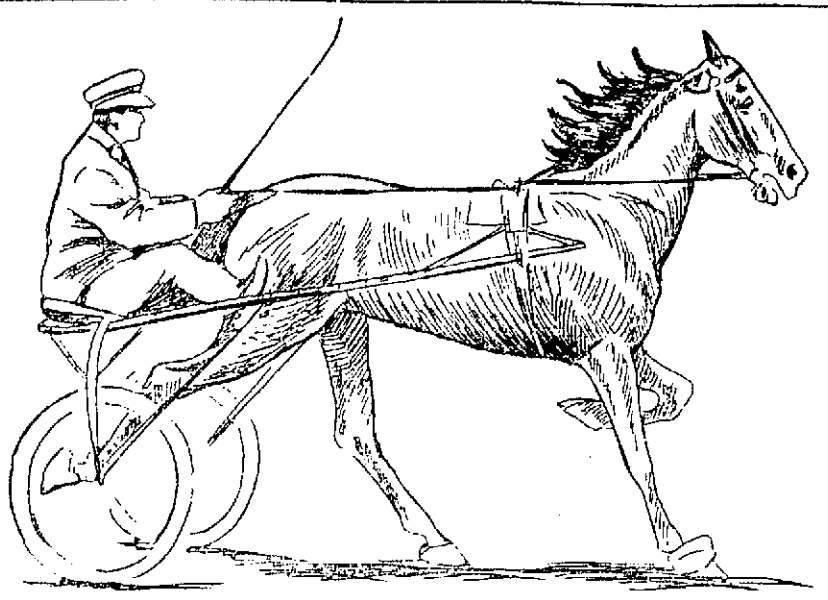

Read this testimonial over and over until you have learned every word so that you can repeat it at the family circle. It is just as it came from the lips of Mrs. Josephine Camire, an estimable lady residing at 39 Lilley avenue, Lowell, Mass.

She was permanently cured by Dr. Bartlett's Vital Force, and it is more valid proof that it cures where other remedies failed completely.

"For more than three years I was a sufferer from nervous prostration. My nerves were completely unstrung about all the time and the least excitement caused me to collapse altogether. The various advertised medicines were all persistently tried and much money was expended covering a period of five years. I was treated professionally during all my years of suffering and the attendance of even the best specialists failed to give me nothing more than a slight relief. I even went to the General hospital in Boston, but it proved fruitless, the physicians there not helping me at all. A terrible pain in my right side accompanied my nervous troubles, and at times I used to wake up in the night screaming with pain. The pain in my side was neuralgia. Many sleepless nights were spent all these years. My appetite was gone and I considered myself a broken-down woman, notwithstanding that I dragged myself about the house when able to be up at all, and did my housework the best I could. Felt tired all of the time and after the winter of 1893, being confined to my bed all of the winter, I was wretched both in body and mind. I was about to give up in despair, when I was advised to consult Dr. Bartlett. He gave me a bottle of Vital Force right away, and nothing else. This was last spring. I noticed a decided improvement in my condition at the close of a couple of weeks. I continued to take this wonderful medicine and continued to improve. My nerves became quieted, I found my old-time strength returning, my appetite increased and joy of all joys came to me when I found the terrible pain which had been my companion for many years leave me altogether. I now consider myself strong, and sleep as well as I did before the beginning of my nervous troubles, and no one knows what I suffered and what I am now free from but myself. If there are other women in the world whose nerves are shattered and all run down, I want to say to one and all, take Dr. Bartlett's Vital Force, for surely what it has done for me it will do for others."

CARS CRASHED

Women Fainted and 30 Passengers Injured

By Associated Press to The Sun

MALDEN, Aug. 24—There was a serious electric car collision on Salem street at 9.45 last night, when a beach car of the Boston & Northern crashed into the rear of a Boston elevated car, bound to Maplewood, from Sullivan square terminal.

The elevated car had stopped at a white post opposite the entrance to Salem street cemetery to let passengers off. The car bound for Revere beach, containing five passengers, with motorman Michael Foley and conductor Charles Wilkinson, which was following closely, struck it with great force. There was a loud crash which brought the residents of that section to the scene.

Foley was pinned in the wreck and had his right foot so badly crushed that it may have to be amputated.

There were about 30 passengers in the head car. They received a severe shaking up, and several women fainted.

There was great excitement for a few moments, as it was thought a large number of passengers had been badly injured, but the police reported that all the injured except Foley were able to go to their homes unassisted.

Motorman Foley claims the brake on his car would not hold, and that he did everything in his power to prevent the collision. He was taken to the Malden hospital.

The rear car was badly wrecked, the entire front being stove in, while the heavy car of the Boston Elevated was only slightly damaged.

SAD ACCIDENT

Charles Giroux Fractured Skull and Spine

WHILE DIVING AT LONG POND

Struck His Head on Sunken Rock

Charles Giroux, janitor of the Pawtucket school, and one of Lowell's best known and most popular young French-American residents, was probably fatally injured while in bathing at Long Pond, Saturday evening.

Mr. Giroux is a member of the Fleur de Lis club, which has a summer cottage on the shores of Long Pond, and on Saturday about 5 o'clock, went down to the pond to swim. When at a point where the water is supposed to be very deep, he dived into the water and striking his head on a sharp sunken rock, dislocated and fractured his spinal column and sustained a fracture of the skull.

At first it was thought he was testing his ability to remain under water, but some of his companions noting the position of his body in the dark waters, quickly pulled him out. He was unconscious and bleeding badly and was carried to the club house.

Dr. P. Brunnelle was sent for and he arrived in an hour while a clergyman from the Oblate rectory also went out to the camp and administered the last rites of the Catholic church to the unfortunate man.

Dr. Brunnelle found Giroux to be suffering from the injuries as above mentioned, and still unconscious upon his arrival at the camp. Later he was carried to Lowell to the home of his brother, John Giroux, 417 Moody street, and yesterday morning he was taken to St. John's hospital, where an operation was performed on his spine.

His chances for recovery are decidedly slim and in the event of his recovery it is feared that he will be crippled for life.

Giroux is about 30 years of age and is unmarried. He resides at 12 Coburn street. He is a brother of Alderman David A. Gerow.

The hose race will be a feature of the Y. M. C. I. carnival Thursday.

WATER BOARD

WILL TACKLE MILL SUPPLY PROBLEM TONIGHT.

The water board will meet this evening with the city engineer to formulate some plan for supplying the Locks & Canals system with city water. The valves between the two systems will remain permanently closed.

A mill man of many years' experience, suggests that if the mills furnish city drinking water to operatives, they also furnish ice and thus save a waste of water. "At present," he said, "the pipes are kept warm by proximity to the steam pipes and the water is hot when it first comes out of the faucet. Hence it is allowed to run and much is wasted. It would be cheaper for the mills to supply ice."

WITH A SCREAM

MAN THREW UP HIS HANDS AND DROWNED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

HINGHAM, Aug. 24—James Burns of Dorchester was drowned in five feet of water at Hockley stream, West Hingham, yesterday morning, within sight of several friends.

About 10 Burns said he was going to bathe and shortly afterwards he appeared on the beach clad in a pair of overalls. When about 20 paces from shore he shouted to his friends on the bank: "I'll show you how to swim." He proceeded to wade into the water until it reached the middle of his chest, when of a sudden he gave a scream, threw up his hands and sank.

Boards and ropes were thrown toward the spot, but he did not rise, and so dragging was begun.

About 2 Frank Whalen and Thomas White of East Weymouth recovered the body about 30 feet up stream from where Burns sank.

Medical Examiner Spooner pronounced it a case of accidental drowning.

Burns was 21 years old and was employed by Charles Eaton of Dorchester. He leaves a sister, who is married, and resides in Dorchester.

FOR TEN DAYS

WOMAN HAS BEEN HICCOUGHING BUT WILL RECOVER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 24—Elizabeth, the 15-year old daughter of William Anderson, has been hiccoughing for ten days. The hiccoughs began after a hearty meal.

Up to last Thursday she has had fits of hiccoughing and hysteria lasting from two to four hours. She was taken on Thursday to the Greenwich emergency hospital, where she now is.

Greenwich physicians say it is the worst case they have ever seen. The hysteria continues, but the hiccoughing spells now last but an hour at a time, and the doctors say she will recover.

MUST NOT TALK

INJUNCTION GRANTED AGAINST AN OMAHA MAN.

By Associated Press to The Sun

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 24—Many peculiar injunctions have been issued by Omaha judges, but the one granted by Judge Slabaugh of the District court Saturday is considered a record-breaker.

By its terms John McRae, a well known citizen, is enjoined from speaking to his wife or any of his children.

He was warned by the court that if he failed to observe the order he would have to pay the penalty of being in contempt. It is said this is the first injunction of the kind ever issued by a court in this country.

Mrs. McRae has instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, charging cruelty.

JOSEPH JEFFERSON

Paw Paw Made a New Stomach for Him

It Cured Him

Of Dyspepsia and a Severe Stomach Trouble

Mr. Joseph Jefferson, veteran actor, never discovers new plays, but he is constantly discovering new ways of renewing health and of making millions.

Now he has discovered the Paw Paw.

Not that the Paw Paw hasn't been known before, or that it hasn't been used in just the way he is putting it to use.

But when a man as eminent, as notable as Mr. Jefferson seemingly discovers anything, or takes hold of it and loudly sings its praises, that thing is bound to become better known.

In the dictionary this fruit will be found spelled with three "p's" or with two. For those who belong to the botanical cult, it will be of interest to know that it is a tropical American tree of the passion flower family with fruit.

The fruit tastes like a muskmelon that is too ripe. You can eat as much as you want or as little as you want.

Now what doctor can say that for his medicine?

The actor says two weeks of eating this fruit is worth three stomach specialists, a stomach pump used daily, a hundred bottles of soda mint tablets, a lifetime of pepsin and years of strict diet.

He is not selfish with his find, for he tells without hesitation those of the tourists whom he knows what the Paw Paw will do for the stomach.

The excellence of all this is that the statement is true.

This little fruit has always been a great aid to digestion and a renewal of the stomach.

It hasn't suddenly become so because Mr. Jefferson discovered it.

Ever since the latter days of the seventeenth century the pirates that sailed the Caribbean seas, the Spanish hidalgoes who made merry in their porticoed houses amid the orange trees, and the sinuous, brainy Seminoles, who were as much a part of that middle jungle as the alligators and the rattlesnakes, knew the value of this sweet smelling fruit.

All of these not only used the fruit, but made the leaves of value, too.

When a piece of meat was tough, when a bird was old, it was put between the leaves of the Paw Paw until it became juicy and tender.

Everything was submitted to the action of these leaves. There was nothing so tough that two of these leaves couldn't soften it.

A strip of the leaf was dropped into the boiling pot and smuggled into the roasting pan.

It gave to the food the right quality, and if preceded or succeeded by the fruit, man ate well and laughed merrily afterward without recourse to any one of the thousand of articles that man takes today to insure peace between his stomach and his food.

Everyone knew of it in that old country. But Spaniards and Indians keep their secrets; to them, now as always, the person from the outer states was a foreigner.

But now that Mr. Jefferson has discovered the real spring of Ponce de Leon, think you he will keep it a secret?

He cannot. He hasn't the native quality of secrecy.

He praises the Paw Paw on the white beach, in the written letter, in the warm March surf, in the dance room, down at the casino, where the Hawaiians play their wierd music at Palm Beach, Fla.

He will insist upon making the Paw Paw famous.

"Keep this up, Jefferson," said his friend the other day, "and you will be verily Rip Van Winkle in age."

"I'll go him one better," said Jefferson, "for if I keep on eating Paw Paw I'll live merrily during those years that he slept."—Philadelphia Sunday Press.

What Paw Paw did for Mr. Jefferson Munyon's Paw Paw will do for you. It will enable you to eat what you like and all you like, as it positively cures dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It will vitalize your blood and put your liver into a healthy condition.

It will cure all forms of nervousness and give strength to the whole system.

REGAINED SIGHT

CHILD MADE TO SEE BY USE OF RADIUM.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—By the use of radium, the mysterious substance which scientists pronounce the greatest discovery of modern time, Tillie Spitznadel, a child of 11, who for eight years has been totally blind, has been made to see.

Her sight has not been fully restored, but yesterday she was able to distinguish moving objects and easily to discern light from darkness.

Dr. Amon R. Jenkins, of 17 State street, attached to the Merchant marine hospital service, and William J. Hammer, a consulting electrical engineer, of 153 West 46th street, performed the experiments. They are preparing to continue them, but until the result is definitely known they are reluctant to discuss the case. The progress thus far made leads them to hope for success.

If the sight of Tillie Spitznadel is fully restored it will be strong proof that the blind can be made to see.

OFFICE, LOWELL, MASS.

Pledged to Absolute Sale

The Firm of J. H. Burke & Co., Centralville, to be dissolved, Its Business closed out and its affairs wound up.

ALL WITHOUT RESERVE OR LIMIT TO THE HIGHEST BIDDERS, on the respective premises (except first parcel to be sold) regardless of weather conditions, at the appointed hours, Wednesday and Thursday, September 2d and 3d, 1903.

The realties comprise the large and modern business and tenement block at the corner of Coburn and West Third streets; the store house and stable property, West Third street; the thirteen-tenement block, 76-82 West Third street; the four-tenement block, 72-74 West Third street; the two-family house and cottage on the southerly corner of West Third and Albion streets; four lots of land on the easterly side of West Third street, between Bridge and Albion streets; cottage house 13 and 15 Coburn street; lot of land on Bridge street, nearly opposite Thirteenth street; six lots of land on Humphrey street and the Critchett land in Dracut. The grocery stock is one of the largest and most complete in Lowell. There are three horses, four wagons, three pungs, four sets of harness, etc.

WEDNESDAY AT 1.45 O'CLOCK P.M.

THE CRITCHETT LAND, Dracut, not to be sold upon the premises, but at the block at the corner of Coburn and West Third streets, Lowell. It must be looked over by intending purchasers before the hour of sale. To examine the land, leave Lakeview avenue about opposite and slightly beyond the paper mills, or between numbers 1311 and 1321 Lakeview avenue, through the yard of the house numbered 1321, taking the middle path. There is about seven acres of it, covered with a scattered growth of young oaks, with some birch. The center is high, very sightly, and an attractive spot. It is but a short way in from Lakeview avenue, over a right of way that at present is more or less overgrown. It once had a set of buildings, now gone, and during the lifetime of Mr. Critchett most of it was under cultivation. The soil is fertile and strong, and it will not cost much to put it back where it was a few years ago. It is nearly all fenced.

AT 2 O'CLOCK, P. M.

The solid, substantial and comparatively new three-story, gravel roofed block of modern construction, numbered 19-25 Coburn street, 84-88 West Third street, and within 125 feet of Lakeview avenue. It has three well lighted, steam heated stores and six flats. Two of the stores have water closets and so has each of the flats. The entire building is lighted by gas and in first class condition. It is in every respect as good and complete a block, of its type, as there is in Lowell. The six flats are rented for $52 a month; the three stores now occupied by the firm would easily rent for $60 a month. The lot has an area of about 4836 square feet, with a frontage of 88 feet on Coburn street and 56 feet on West Third street; it is not all occupied by the block, which can be extended on the Coburn street frontage.

AT 2.20 O'CLOCK, P. M.

The store house and stable property, south of and adjoining the above lot, comprises a frame two and one-half story building, 75x20 feet, built for heavy storage, stable and wagon house uses; the street or storage end is 22x20 feet; the stable or opposite end is 22x20 feet, with one box and three ordinary stalls; between the storage and stable is the open front wagon shed, 31x20 feet, with storage overhead; under each end is a cellar. The lot has a frontage of 32 feet on West Third street; a depth of 76 feet and an area of 2372 square feet. This building was erected with the thought in mind of its possible conversion into a tenement block.

AT 2.40 O'CLOCK P. M.

The large block of three full stories, with slated pitch roof, 76-82 West Third street, and adjoining and south of the preceding lot. It is a good building in good condition; has thirteen tenements, keeps rented, and brings $20.25 a week, which is all collected. There are seven water closets. The lot has a frontage of 60½ feet, a depth of 80 feet, an area of 4735 square feet, and a frontage of 81 feet on a 12 foot passageway on the southerly side. This is an excellent paying parcel of renting realty.

AT 2.50 O'CLOCK P. M.

The four-family house, 72 and 74 West Third street. It has two and one half stories, is well constructed, finely arranged and a desirable property, that rents for $35 every month. This is one of the most satisfactory properties the firm owns. It is lighted by gas, and each tenement has a water closet. The lot has an area of about 2500 square feet, a street frontage of 30 feet and a frontage of over 80 feet on a 12 foot passageway.

AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

The snug, compact and well paying corner property ($29 a month) consisting of the two family houses, 67 and 69 West Third street, the cottage house, 5 Albion street, and about 2610 square feet of land, 36 feet on West Third street and 75 feet on Albion street. The premises are lighted by gas, have two bath rooms and three water closets, all in prime condition.

AT 3.10 O'CLOCK P. M.

Four level and attractive lots of land, having frontages of 40 and 45 feet on West Third street and depths of 115 feet; are the only lots of land remaining upon the street unimproved; sidewalks and sewers are all in and assessments paid; they are surrounded by a good class of renting property and property that pays well. It seems to us that the demand for these should be sharp, for the simple reason of their location, close proximity to business, mills, etc., the good neighborhood, and the fact that they are less than ten minutes' walk from Merrimack square. We were about to begin to improve them, but the sudden decision to wind up our business has stopped us.

AT 3.40 O'CLOCK P. M.

The double cottage and lot of land 13 and 15 Coburn street. It rents all the time and is sure to bring $3.50 or more every week. The street frontage of the lot is 43 feet, the area about 1813 square feet and the shape irregular. There are two water closets and other conveniences upon the premises. This property will pay for itself every few years.

AT 4.10 O'CLOCK P. M.

6000 square feet of land on Bridge street between Jewett and Richardson streets, or adjoining the residence of Oscar A. Hall, No. 952 Bridge street, and opposite the Amos B. French estate. The street before the lot is paved, the electric cars pass every few minutes, it is the first unimproved lot on the west side of the street from Central bridge, has a frontage of 60 feet, a depth of 100 feet and is ready for a building.

AT 5 O'CLOCK P. M.

Six lots of land on Humphrey street, north of 18th and 19th streets. Humphrey street is accepted, has sewer past the lots with assessments paid, sidewalks from Methuen street nearly to the lots, also gas and water. The Bridge street cars are within three or four minutes' walk, and the Christian Hill line is to be extended through Beacon street to Eighteenth street, so as to be still nearer. Humphrey street is improved or built upon, from Methuen street nearly to the lots, and much of the territory to the east is thickly settled with pretty and comfortable homes. The lots have areas of from 5000 to 6374 square feet, and frontages of from 50 to 77 feet; four are on the westerly and two on the easterly side of the street. They are high, dry, have extended views, are in a pleasant neighborhood, accessible and handy to down town.

THURSDAY, AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M.

In lots to suit purchasers, all the groceries, store fixtures, horses, wagons, pungs, harnesses, etc.

The purchaser of the Critchett land must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers the sum of $100 just as soon as the lot is struck off. The purchaser of the block at the corner of Coburn and West Third streets must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $550 just as soon as that lot is struck off. The purchaser of the store house and stable property on West Third street must deposit or secure $250, the purchaser of the block 76-82 West Third street, $650; the purchaser of the four family house 72-74 West Third street, $450; the purchaser of the two family house 67-69 West Third street and the cottage house, 5 Albion street, $150; just as soon as the respective lots are struck off. The purchaser of each of the four lots of land on West Third street must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $200 as soon as the respective lots are struck off; the purchaser of the double cottage 13-15 Coburn street must do the same with $200; the purchaser of the Bridge street lot with $150; and the purchaser of each of the Humphrey street lots with $50; just so soon as those lots are struck off. The purchasers of the personal property must pay cash. All inquiries should be made at the office of the auctioneers.

DEMAND $50,000

Usurers are Trying to Fleece Count Monnich

By Associated Press to The Sun

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—A clique of usurers and marriage brokers, has been demanding $50,000 from Count Franz Joseph Maria Von Larisch-Monnich, since his marriage with Miss Marie Satterlee, of Titusville, Pa., at Buffalo, N. Y., in June, 1901, which sum the count has refused to pay. The public prosecutor has now brought proceedings against the usurers for attempted swindling. Some time before Count Larisch-Monnich visited America, the accused persons assert, they supplied him with funds to go to Nuremberg and court the daughter of Faber, the pencil maker, and the count signed a note for $50,000, payable on condition that he married Miss Faber. He went to Nuremberg, it is further agserted, and paid his addresses to Miss Faber, but was not accepted. Later, the count went to America, presumably at his own expense and eventually married Miss Satterlee. The group which asserts that it financed the Faber affair demanded $50,000 not on the conditional note, but on another which it is insisted Count Larisch-Monnich signed and which he refused to pay.

The public prosecutor was informed of the case by some one whose name does not appear and the matter was investigated with the result that the public prosecutor has instituted proceedings against a merchant referred to as "R" in the statements given to the press and against a retired cavalry captain. The trial has been set for the autumn term of the criminal court.

Count Larisch-Monnich belongs to the Austrian nobility. His father has an estate near Astrosnitz, Prussia, and has become a naturalized German.

MEN SLAUGHTERED

Horrible Details of Turkish Massacres and Atrocities

By Associated Press to The Sun

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 24—Reports from Monastir, authenticated by the Russian and Austrian consuls, give horrifying details of the massacres and atrocities. At the village of Armensko the Turks destroyed 150 houses out of a total of 157 and massacred every man, woman and child. The women were subjected to the most terrible atrocities by the soldiers. Eighty revolutionaries, captured at Krushevo, who were sent in the direction of Monastir in chains, were slaughtered by their guards.

The sanitary conditions of Krushevo are described as revolting. The dead are lying in the streets stripped of every garment, the Turks taking even the vestments off the body of a priest.

REV. CHARLES COLTON

WAS CONSECRATED BISHOP OF BUFFALO.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—The Rt. Rev. Charles H. Colton was consecrated bishop of Buffalo today in St. Patrick's cathedral, this city. The cathedral was crowded with the former parishioners of the new bishop. The sermon for the occasion was preached by Rt. Rev. Bishop McFaul of Trenton.

In his sermon Bishop McFaul contended that religion should be taught in the public schools "as the absence of such teaching is rapidly leading youth into indifference and thus dechristianizing America." He also warned his hearers against divorce and socialism.

The ceremony opened with a procession of priests and monks from the diocesan house to the cathedral and thence to the sanctuary. There they were met by the bishop-elect and his suite, Archbishop Farley and his attendants, the officers of the mass and the prelates in attendance. These were Bishops Foley of Detroit; Hennessey of Wichita, Kas.; Burk of Albany; O'Connor of Newark; McQuaid of Rochester; Montez dOca of San Luis Potoso, Mexico; McDonald of Brooklyn; Beaven of Springfield; Kenny of St. Augustine, Fla., and McFaul of Trenton.

The consecrator, Archbishop Farley, read the opening prayers. Then the papal bulletin, announcing the elevation of the bishop-elect was read by the rector, Father Lavelle, of the cathedral. Father Colton prostrated himself before the consecrator, who prayed over him, and then submitted to his reverend attendants the questions as to his eligibility for this high office. These being sustained, the prospective bishop made his profession of faith and took the oath of fealty. The linen bandages which swathed his wrists and forehead were then removed, the oils of consecration were poured on his brow and his hands and heart annointed. He then retired to his chapel, where he celebrated mass in conjunction with the consecrator, who pontificated at the high altar. The sermon was delivered by Bishop McFaul of Trenton.

After the final prayers had been read, the new bishop proceeded down the middle aisle of the cathedral bestowing his episcopal blessing for the first time.

TYPHOID FEVER

THREE CASES REPORTED TO THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Purchasing Agent Fred H. Rourke is calling for bids for school supplies, such as brooms, dusters, etc.

The text books, the contract for which was let out in June, are now being delivered at the different schools throughout the city.

A meeting of the water board will be held tonight.

The regular meeting of the overseers of the poor will be held Thursday night.

But three cases of typhoid fever were reported at the office of the board of health today.

FUNERALS

ANGELO—The funeral of Walter Angelo took place Saturday afternoon from the home of his parents, 51 Pond street, and was very largely attended. There were many floral tributes, including a large pillow from the parents of the child inscribed "Our Baby"; spray from Mr. Arthur McQuade; spray of roses from Baby Clode; spray of roses, Mrs. Carroll. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery. Undertaker T. J. McDermott had charge of the interment.

McMAHON—The funeral of John McMahon occurred from his late home, 49 Auburn street, yesterday afternoon. Services were held in St. Peter's church, Rev. Fr. Grant officiating. The pall bearers were Messrs. Michael, John, James, Daniel and John McMahon and James Morrison.

Among the floral tributes were the following: Sheaf of wheat, inscribed "Husband and Father," from the children and wife of the deceased; wreath of roses and ivy leaves from friends; spray of roses, Arthur Whitney; spray inscribed "Uncle," from Mary McMahon.

Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, and interment was in charge of Undertaker Thomas J. McDermott.

GAFFNEY—The funeral of the late Catherine Gaffney took place this afternoon at four o'clock from the funeral parlors of C. H. Molloy in Market street. The interment was in the Catholic cemtery.

NAGLE—The funeral of George Nagle took place this noon at twelve o'clock from the home of his parents, 161 Cushing street and was largely attended by friends and former associates of the deceased. The funeral cortege proceeded to the Middlesex street station, it being escorted by about one hundred members of the Sacred Heart sodality of St. Patrick's church, of which the deceased was a member.

The bearers were Martin McCarthy, David Walsh, Arthur McDermott and John Delarey. The remains were placed on board the one o'clock train and the interment was in the family lot in the Hudson cemetery and was under the direction of Undertaker C. H. Molloy.

TODAY'S TENNIS

SOME GOOD MATCHES ON THE CARD.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 24—The early morning was cool and a dull gray mist, which in this uncertain climate might mean anything. By noon it might be all burnt off, as happened once last week, or if luck were against the players it might pour. Everyone was hoping for the best, as this was the day of the semi-finals and a rainy day would prove a dampener to the spirits of both the players and those who had come on from considerable distances for the last days of the tournament. Doherty's match with Carleton being conceded to the Englishman by an easy margin, the interest of the day centered in the Clothier E. P. Larned match on the grand stand court. Clothier was the general favorite on account of his much greater experience, though Larned's form on Saturday was excellent. Both depend largely on their net play to score points and run in at the first opportunity and the match promised to develop into a fight for the net position from the very start.

By the time the match went on the sun had fortunately burned through the clouds and the conditions were excellent for the game.

Clothier ran through the set at love with the loss of only four points. He played very carefully and did not exert himself as Larned was very much off his game and though his strokes had excellent form were entirely lacking in direction. The Philadelphian, on the other hand, passed very well. Points:

W. J. Clothier.....4 4 4 4 4 4—24—6
E. P. Larned.....0 2 0 2 0 0—4—0

SUBMARINE BOAT

May Try to Explode the Mines

ARMY OFFICER EXPECTS TO BE CAPTURED

Patrol Force Not Large Enough

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 24—There has been a persistent rumor among the defending forces that a submarine boat would come into the harbor within the next forty-eight hours and attempt to explode the mines which the defending forces will have towed into position, barring mishaps by tomorrow morning.

A submarine boat has been experimenting in New York harbor and it was thought that this might be the one coming to Portland.

In an interview today, an officer of the Maine national guard who is stationed at Long Island, said:

"I expect we will be captured by the navy 24 hours after hostilities commence if they make an attack for the reason we have only 300 men to patrol a stretch of coast that should be guarded by many times that number. We held a sailor of the United States training ship Alliance last night whom we found wandering about the Island but will probably parole him today. His ship has sailed without him."

The Maine naval reserve today left for Rockland to join the hostile fleet commanded by Rear Admiral Barker. The reserve consisted of seventy men under command of Lieut. Harry M. Bigelow.

It is expected they will be of great value to the attacking fleet on account of their intimate knowledge of the coast and preparations for the defense. They have already given much information to Admiral Barker.

WARSHIPS ARE READY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROCKLAND, Me., Aug. 24.—The warships have had steam up since early morning and every preparation has been completed for the fleet to sail out of the harbor today. The indications were that the sailing hour will be shortly after 4 o'clock.

The Maine naval reserve of 70 officers and men, under command of Lieut. Harry M. Bigelow, arrived today and embarked on the battleship Illinois to participate with the "enemy" in the attack on Portland.

The instructions received by the reserves were for all to be on board ship before 3 o'clock. The reserves have valuable knowledge of the coast about Portland and are expected to render much useful assistance.

DEFENDING FORCE BUSY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Maine, Aug. 24.—The preparations for the war game were continued by the defending force today. Every available tug, motor boat or private steam launch in the harbor has been brought into requisition to tow the mines into position in the harbor.

Major General Chaffee, commanding the forces of the defence, has made his first visit to Forts Williams and Preble and later made a general tour of inspection of defence, taking in Forts Leavitt and McKinley and the various islands on which the Maine troops are stationed. General Chaffee was saluted at each fort.

All energy now will be concentrated on the one idea to have everything absolutely ready by midnight Tuesday. The attacking fleet was expected to leave Rockland late today.

HANGED HIMSELF

QUINCY STONE CUTTER WAS TEMPORARILY INSANE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

QUINCY, Mass., Aug. 24.—Andrew Hendrickson, a stone cutter, committed suicide today, at his boarding house, while temporarily insane. He was 25 years old and unmarried. Fellow boarders discovered the body hanging in a closet and notified the police. Afterward they told the officers that the man was not dead when they first found him, but in the excitement no one thought to cut him down.

PORTLAND PEOPLE

DO NOT ANTICIPATE LOSS OF EXPORT TRAFFIC.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 24—Notwithstanding the general agitation in Canada by politicians, boards of trade and newspapers against Portland being allowed to continue as "the Canadian winter port," trade interests here do not anticipate any serious loss in export traffic. The city is largely dependent on the Grand Trunk, which has continued to spend money in improvements and increase its business. The railroad has no other direct outlet in winter when the St. Lawrence is frozen over, on the Atlantic seaboard. A large part of the shipments from here have been made up of Canadian produce and this fact led to the protest by Canadians against further support being accorded a "Canadian port." St. John, the Atlantic terminus of the Canadian Pacific railroad, and Halifax, the eastern terminus of the Intercolonial, are the chief opponents of this city.

So far as can be learned the Grand Trunk has no intention of abandoning the city and tearing up its terminal equipment, as several Canadian members of parliament have advocated.

SHAMROCK III

Re-Measured and Has Same Racing Rank

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The Shamrock III was re-measured at the dry dock in Erie Basin early today, after having taken on board her cable and anchor as required by the rules effecting the measurement of the cup yachts.

Sir Thomas Lipton was on board. The measurement was taken by Charles D. Mower, official measurer of the New York Yacht club, and watched by Mr. Fife, representing Shamrock III, and by Secretary Carmack, representing the New York Yacht club. When the measurement was concluded, Sir Thomas Lipton said that he had been informed by Mr. Mower that Shamrock III's racing rank had not been affected and that it would be unchanged. It is presumed that sufficient weight was removed to equalize the weight of the anchor cable.

Reliance was taken out for a sail this morning. The boat sailed out of the Horseshoe with main-sail and lower head-sails set. Aboard the racer were several members of the New York Yacht club.

"The cup is never won until the best boat has taken three races," said C. Oliver Iselin today, just before getting aboard the Reliance, to go down to Sandy Hook. The crew, under the direction of Captain Barr, had already raised the main-sail and club topsail and after the party were aboard the jib and stay-sail were raised and she started out for a sail. The club topsail had been trimmed, evidently for it sat better than it ever did before and finally fitted as well as the fine main-sail.

Mr. Iselin before going aboard was asked whether he thought the re-measurement of the Shamrock would have any effect on the future races. He said:

"I know no more about it than you do. The fact is that attention was called to the matter of the absence of the chain and anchor, not so much on account of its effect on any racing as to follow absolutely the rules. Sir Thomas would have felt it much more keenly if the issue had been raised after he had won a race."

Mr. Iselin would not discuss the race of Saturday or the criticisms raised concerning the sailing of the Shamrock further than to say:

"Both boats were well handled."

The bay inside the Hook was comparatively deserted this morning except for the presence of the Reliance and her tender, the Sunbeam. It was not a good day for racing. The wind was fluky from north to east, very variable and not strong enough to get the boats over the course in time had it been a race day.

The Reliance stood out beyond the Hook, with her main-sail, club topsail, jib and stay-mail set. She tacked out to windward, evidently stretching her sails. After she had been out half an hour, a new jib was tried and it was evident that the boat was out for the purpose of trying some new sails.

Secretary Carmack, of the New York Yacht club, today, announced the following figures as the new measurements of Shamrock III.:

The figures show that Shamrock III. does not exceed the 90-foot limit on the water line length and also that there is a difference of barely five one thousandths of a foot on the length, which would not affect the time allowance more than a very small fraction of a second. The time allowance, therefore, stands at one minute, 57 seconds, in accordance with the first measurement.

STAGING FELL

Edward Quinn May Have Concussion of Brain

Edward Quinn, an old employe of the city, was injured while at work on the Court street sewer Saturday afternoon and Dr. Welch, who is attending him, is afraid that he is suffering from concussion of the brain.

While he was coming up out of the sewer excavation, the staging collapsed and he was thrown into the pit. He was unconscious when fellow employes reached him and he was removed to a nearby field where he remained unconscious for two hours. Then he was obliged to walk to his home on South Highland street.

His left arm is powerless and he is injured internally. He has been employed by the city for nineteen years. Fourteen years ago he was injured by the explosion of some dynamite.

MARTIN IS DEAD

Was Injured in Railroad Accident

By Associated Press to The Sun

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 24.—William Martin, 32 years old, died here today of injuries received Saturday in a head-on collision between freight trains at Sterling, Conn. He jumped from the train and landed head foremost on a pile of stock. The conductor and engineer of the freight train were also injured, but they are recovering at the hospital here.

Martin was a railroad employe and resided in Willimantic, Conn., where he has a mother and several brothers and sisters.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT

THOMAS BRIAN RECEIVED FIFTEEN KNIFE CUTS.

The Lawrence Sun today has the following:

Thomas Brian of 27 Howard street was murderously assaulted at Hearn's grove, Methuen, Sunday afternoon. A few hours after the assault he was picked up unconscious and covered with blood by a farmer and taken to the Emergency hospital in this city, where he lies in a serious condition.

Brian was with a party spending the day at the grove. In the course of the afternoon a dispute arose and one of the party drew a knife and slashed Brian repeatedly. He was frightfully cut about the scalp, throat and body. It is estimated that 15 plunges with the knife must have been made at Brian.

Bleeding profusely, Brian was deserted by his companions. He left the grove and started to walk to this city. Weakened by the great loss of blood, however, he was able to walk but a short distance when he fell unconscious at the spot where the farmer found him a few hours later.

At the Emergency hospital Brian was attended by Dr. Sheedy. The physician took 19 stitches to close the many gashes in the man. On account of Brian's condition it was not possible to get from him a clear story of the assault or the identity of his assailant.

Chicago Waiters Quit Their Jobs

By Associated Press to The Sun

CHICAGO, Aug. 24—Only a small number of the waiters and cooks employed in several down-town lunch rooms struck today in the first move of the Waiters and Cooks union to renew the fight against the Chicago Restaurant Keepers' association.

Two months ago the union tied up the establishments controlled by them and the men were granted a ten per cent. increase in wages.

In a general statement issued by the employes the reason assigned for the action is alleged discrimination on the part of the arbitration board in their decision relating to the question of hours and wages.

START WAS LATE

IN THE FOUR-BALL TOURNAMENT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Aug. 24—It was late today before the start was made in the four-ball foursomes forming the first half of the international golf team match between the Oxford and Cambridge team and the Metropolitan Golf Association team.

At the special request of John L. Low, captain of the British team, the match was made of ten men a side. This crowded out Adrian H. Larkin, the captain of the Metropolitan team, who was to have played this afternoon against C. N. Day, whom Low laid off.

The first foursome consisted of play by Norman F. Hunter and J. A. T. Bramston, against Charles Blair McDonald and Walter J. Travis.

The Americans made a fine beginning as McDonald and Travis won both the first and second holes and halved the third.

In the second four-ball match, the competitors were G. D. Barnes and D. F. Ranson against C. B. Cory and Marc M. Michael.

The third foursome consisted of H. G. Ellis and H. W. Lethert and John M. Ward and L. L. Kellogg.

The fourth set was H. V. Beveridge and J. H. Allison against John Moeller, Jr., and R. Emmet, while the rear was brought up by T. Mansfield Hunter and John L. Low, who were pitted against Findlay Douglas and George A. Brokaw.

An operation will be performed on him, in which a small piece of bone will be removed from his skull. The lad's chances for recovery are considered good.

HE TRIED SUICIDE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Aug. 24—Samuel F. Moskowitz, aged 21, of 36 Porter street, East Boston, arrested on the charge of assault and battery, attempted to commit suicide yesterday morning in his cell at station 5. He tied one end of his necktie around an iron bar and then fastened the other about his throat, pulling on both ends in an effort to strangle himself.

His groans were heard by the officer on watch, who cut him down in the nick of time.

Miss Katherine Travers of Central street has returned home after spending a pleasant vacation at the home of her sister, Mrs. Edward McDonald of Peabody.

WOMEN FAINTED

Accident on an Elevated Train

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A peculiar accident caused a panic on a crowded elevated motor train bound from Jamaica to Brooklyn. More than a thousand men and women fought to escape from the train which was a sheet of fire for several minutes. The trouble was caused by a metal step of one of the cars coming in contact on a curve with the third-rail. This short circuited the entire rain and sparks fairly rained from every piece of metal on the cars. The passengers, who were returning from a day on Long Island, were mad with fright in an instant. They rushed towards the doors, which the guards instantly closed, and fought to get out. One man was pushed through a glass door and badly cut. Women fainted by the dozen, but the fire continued to pour on the luckless passengers until the train reached a station and the step which caused the trouble removed.

Ambulances were called and surgeons attended dozens of persons including many women who had fainted and were carried to the platforms.

PREACHED FROM DIFFERENT PULPITS YESTERDAY.

At the First Congregational church, Sunday, General Secretary W. A. Morse of the Y. M. C. A. spoke ably on the skeptic, referring to his own experience as a skeptic and telling forcibly what he now believes and why.

Rev. H. B. Foster, pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian church, preached yesterday morning on the law of compensation.

The series of the pleasant Sunday evening services drew another large audience at the First Trinitarian church, last evening, and Rev. Mr. Kenngott delivered a highly entertaining lecture on "Yellowstone Park, the Wonderland of America."

These audiences have not only contributed generously to defray the expenses of the lectures, which have been large, but have contributed to the relief of one of the families suffering from the explosion at South Lowell. This church contributed immediately to the relief fund $51, and now sends $30.87 directly to Mrs. C. W. Moore, 475 School street.

Rev. N. C. Mallory, a former pastor of the Fifth street Baptist church, occupied its pulpit yesterday, and a large congregation, numbering many of his old neighbors and friends, gathered to greet him.

Rev. Mr. Mallory recalled, with deep feeling, the fact that the church had been rebuilt under his pastorate, and said that its welfare had always been dear to him.

CARNIVAL AT FAIR GROUNDS.

Great interest has been aroused in the carnival at the Fair Grounds next Thursday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Y. M. C. I. of Belvidere. The afternoon entertainment will start promptly at 2 o'clock. There will be races of various kinds, including horse racing, automobile races, hose races, etc. Also a balloon ascension and parachute jump. In the evening the track will be lighted by electricity and made as bright as day. There will be professional running races open to the world, bicycle races and other attractions of a like nature. A grand vaudeville entertainment of acrobatic feats and a chorus of 100 voices, male and female, will be one of the attractions of the evening. A gigantic pavilion of 3000 square feet has been erected for dancing, which will be free to all purchasing admittance. In addition there will be a grand display of fireworks. Admission 25c, children 15c.

RACE BULLETINS

How The Sun Excelled in Giving the News

It would be futile to set an estimate upon the multitude that watched The Sun bulletins on the yacht race Saturday. Suffice to say that Merrimack square was densely crowded and that the vast majority had their eyes steadily fixed upon The Sun's illustrated bulletin service of the race.

The Sun had illustrated the straightaway course and had models of the yachts moving with precision as indicated by the despatches flashed over the wire. These cute little yachts held the same relative positions as did the big yachts on the course in New York harbor and they moved like clock-work over the miniature course from the starting line and back. Our envious rival across the street casts a sneer at this method of illustration although vastly superior to its method of using the model boats as big stickspins by taking them out and sticking them in at intervals to represent their progress. If boats moved like grasshoppers that method of illustration would be all right. Yet our neighbor today asserts that its miniature boats actually sailed. The Shamrock on the bulletin course across the way must have struck a hidden reef as it had not reached the finish line on Sunday morning. But perhaps this is unimportant.

What is important, however, and what is palpably false, is the statement by the paper across the way that it beat The Sun in speed. There was not a single instance of an important bulletin in which The Sun did not lead its rival. This is so well known that it requires a good deal of effontery to make any statement to the contrary.

The Sun's megaphone service also excelled, and combined with the lightning bulletins and the large pictures illustrating the race and the sentiments associated with it, demonstrated The Sun's superiority in such cases.

Towards the close of the contest the young men in charge of the bulletin service on the other side of the street got so badly rattled that they broke down completely and did little else than watch The Sun bulletins and listen to the resonant announcements from The Sun megaphone.

The Sun will repeat the performance tomorrow and the public is invited to see how far it leads its rival in the important matter of speed in giving the news.

It is more profitable to advertise honorably and fail in the attempt to get business, than to advertise dishonorably and succeed for a little while.

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. That daughter is a precious legacy, and the responsibility for her future is largely in the hands of the mother. The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the mother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When a young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance in this hour of trial.

Case of a New York Girl of Interest to Every 'Mother and Daughter in the Land.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I hope you will publish this letter, for I want all mothers to know how much good your medicine did my young daughter. Her health broke down about six months ago, and although she is large for her age, I did not understand what was wrong with her; the doctor did not, either, for he treated her for her heart, which pained her a good deal; but he did not do her any good, and we were afraid heart trouble would carry her off. Every day she kept getting whiter and thinner. She had no appetite, and she sat around without any ambition, and was always too tired to do anything. All night long she would moan in her sleep, as though in terrible pain.

"I felt terribly discouraged; I was spending money for doctor's bills right along, but she was receiving no help. At that time I was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I read in one of your books about young girls. I decided to drop the doctor, and give her your medicine. I wish you could see the change in her, and the pink cheeks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given her. She had taken but half a bottle when menstruation started again and her heart trouble went away like magic. I had her continue the medicine, and now she is fat, rosy, and perfectly healthy. Menstruation is regular and painless, and I owe my thanks to you and to your wonderful medicine for her good health."—MRS. MARGARET PHELAN, 673 Tenth Avenue, New York City.

SPECIAL ADVICE TO YOUNG WOMEN FREE.

From her vast experience in treating female ills, extending over 20 years, Mrs. Pinkham has gained a knowledge which is of untold value to every ailing young woman. Her advice never fails to help. If you need such help write her. Address Lynn, Mass.

A medicine that has restored so many women to health and can produce proof of the fact must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which cannot be equalled by any other medicine the world has ever produced.

It is well to remember these facts when some druggist tries to get you to buy something which he says is "just as good." That is impossible, as no other medicine has such a record of cures as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so do not experiment with untried medicines, but insist upon the one you know is best.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial, which will prove its absolute genuineness.

SUBURBANITES

The commuter who bolts down a few mouthfuls of food and hurries to catch the train, usually catches dyspepsia as well.

The "coffee and roll" road to ill health is not necessary, for there is an easy, pleasant way to get back to health and shake off all the coffee diseases by shifting to Postum Food Coffee. "For a number of years I was a business woman, rising early and swallowing a roll and a cup of coffee just in time to catch a train. A feeling of nausea or palpitation and a continual dullness in the eyes and head invariably followed my coffee breakfasts, until one day a good angel in the guise of a woman friend bade me try Postum Food Coffee in place of coffee.

"Always trying to be progressive in my daily life, I accepted the advice and the result was I found Postum a delicious clear coffee color beverage, suited to the stomach and satisfying to the appetite. After using Postum faithfully for a month, I was surprised at the result in my health. All symptoms of dyspepsia or nervousness had disappeared and because of this marked benefit I reasoned that if such a simple and inexpensive remedy could prove such benefit in my case, why was it not my duty to let other sufferers know about Postum. So I began to try to help my friends and I have helped many to shake off sickness by recommending Postum in place of coffee.

"There was one who was a victim of nervous dyspepsia and who craved coffee to such an extent that he invariably drank it in spite of medical advice not to do so, and I could not persuade him to change, so I got his wife to give him Postum in the morning for a few days without saying anything to him about it. The result was really wonderful. He did not detect the change, but noticed that the got over his indigestion. Then we told him the truth about it and now he takes his Postum regularly, and is so far relieved of his nervousness that his physician predicts a speedy cure. He likes the Postum just as well as he used to love the coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Barbers' Union Proposes a Novel Scheme

To Compel Non-Union Barbers to Join Their Forces—Want National Body to Start Five Cent Shops

The Barbers' union of this city, after appealing in vain to the employes of several of the bigger shops of the city to join their union have decided upon drastic measures to force the non-union members of the craft into line.

At the meeting of the union yesterday, it was decided after considerable discussion, to appoint a committee of five to confer with the treasurer of the national body whose headquarters are in New York, to see if the national body will sanction and stand behind the establishment of a number of union 5 cent shops in Lowell for the purpose of breaking up what they consider the non-union combine.

The idea is to establish a number of five cent shops in the immediate vicinity of non-union shops and give strictly first-class work for five cents, the national treasury to supply the necessary funds to start the shops, and the shops to be abandoned only when all the barbers in the principal shops have become members of the union.

The local union is not positive that the national body will sanction the proposition, but it is going to make the attempt at all events. The Barbers' union in addition to its trade union feature also pays a sick benefit of $5 per week and a death benefit of $100.

"ONE MAN" WORK

Causes Kick Among City Councilmen

A number of members of the city council, representing both branches, were discussing municipal affairs at city hall, this morning, and the conversation turned to the recent inspection of the cartridge shop by the special committee of the city council. Said one of the members: "It's funny how everything in connection with the investigations of the explosion are done so quietly, not that due publicity was not given to the meeting after it had taken place. I understand that the members of the committee were not notified of the meeting until a very short time before it took place. No one at city hall knew anything about it and only one newspaper was let into the secret. Yet when the committee arrived at the cartridge shop they were given to understand that they were expected."

One of the members of the special committee then said: "I didn't know anything about the meeting until the last minute. There's too much of this one man committee work about city hall to satisfy me. The committee didn't know anything about the arrangements until the day of the meeting."

Mr. Dunfey of the city auditor's office is disgusted to think that the city hall was defeated by the police and is organizing a new team that he is confident will defeat the coppers.

McMANNUS' PICNIC

WOMEN AND BABIES WILL BE BARRED.

Constable McManus stated today that he will allow no children under five years of age to attend the children's picnic tomorrow, nor will he allow women with children to attend. Said the poor man's friend: "I don't want any accidents and hence I don't want any children under five years of age on the cars. Furthermore, there are 3000 children going and there will be no room for women on the cars. There will be women enough on the grounds to attend to the children, but we don't want any as guests."

There not being room for all the cars in Merrimack square, a car will leave Gorham street, from in front of Peter J. Brady's store, another will leave Mammoth road, from in front of Senator McKinley's store, a third will leave Broadway, at the city stables, and the fourth will leave the corner of Broadway and School streets. All cars will leave at 8 o'clock sharp. The first car will contain Mayor Howe, Constable McManus and the Lowell Cadet band, which will discourse sweet music all the way to the picnic grounds.

Constable McManus desires publicly to express his heartfelt gratitude to any and all who in the slightest way assisted him in his plans.

"KISSING CASE"

Young Man Paid a Fine of $20

By Associated Press to The Sun

WALTHAM, Mass., Aug. 24—The so-called "kissing" case involving Matthew Peterson and Miss Flora Smith, who were arrested a week ago, charged with violating the Park Commissioners' regulations governing the conduct of persons while canoeing on the Charles river, in the park reservation, terminated today in the placing of a fine of $20 upon Peterson and the filing of the case against Miss Smith. The charge was heard last week and was continued. Today a lawyer representing the defence entered a plea of nolo contendere and the case was disposed of as indicated.

OHIO DEMOCRATS

Will Hold a Big Convention

By Associated Press to The Sun

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 24.—Prominent democrats are in conferences here today. For weeks there have been contests of considerable intensity in state convention of tomorow and next day. For weeks there has been contentions of considerable intensity in the 88 counties, between Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, and John L. Zimmerman of Springfield, the two candidates for the gubernatorial nomination to secure delegates. Both come here claiming a majority of the 680 delegates. Both base their claims on securing the 145 delegates whose seats are contested. These contests will be settled tomorrow, and all the preliminary agitation is over the organization of the convention.

LOST HIS LIFE

Man Tried to Save His Dog

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Six persons were drowned Sunday at various pleasure resorts about New York. The list includes one woman, Rodolph Tausch, one of the victims, lost his life in the Harlem river by trying to save his valuable collie dog. They were swept underneath a barge by the swift tide and sank together in view of hundreds of spectators, the man's arms clasped around the dog's body.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

COUGHLIN'S MOTHER LEFT HIM PRAYING AT HOME.

By Associated Press to The Sun

Coughlin's mother went to church and left him praying in his room. Upon returning at about 10 o'clock she found him lying dead in a pool of blood with a crucifix in his left hand and an open razor near his body.

Coughlin had been acting queerly for some time and is supposed to have been insane.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

MAN SET FIRE TO HIS CLOTHING.

By Associated Press to The Sun

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 24.—William Hinchcliff committed suicide at Sinclairville, by setting fire to his clothing, which he had previously saturated with kerosene oil. The flames quickly enveloped him, and when they were extinguished he was unconscious and died a few hours later. He was a former member of Chautauqua county democratic committee at one postmaster of Sinclairville post office and editor of the Sinclairville Commercial. He was in the Gowanda insane hospital for a short time, a year ago, but was discharged as cured.

BADLY BITTEN

SON OF ALBERT LYBRAND ATTACKED BY DOG.

A BOY BANDIT

Held up and Robbed Two Boys

HE DID A REGULAR JESSE JAMES JOB

Believed to be Runaway Lad

By Associated Press to The Sun

WALTHAM, Aug. 24—Two boys reported to the police yesterday morning that they had been held up Saturday afternoon by a lad of about 14 years.

Both holdups took place in the same locality, but at different times.

He said he was walking along the tracks of the Central Massachusetts railroad, near the Lyman estate, when a lad of about his age stepped out and, pointing a revolver at his head, demanded that he give up what he had in his pockets.

He had 6 cents, which he gave to the highwayman. This did not appear to satisfy the young desperado, who compelled him to hand over his gold-filled watch and a razor strop.

The youthful burglar, with a threat to kill young Hunt if he told of the affair, ran through the fields towards Lyman's pond.

Later in the afternoon Paul Atwood reported that he met a youth near the same place and was compelled to turn his pockets inside out by the boy, who demanded that he hand over what he had in his clothes.

The Atwood boy said his assailant threatened to shoot him if he told anyone what had happened.

Both boys gave the police a good description of the youthful highwayman, and they are satisfied that they know him, and will have him in custody in short order.

The suspected youth was in court a short time ago on a charge of breaking and entering, but the case was placed on file. His parents live in Fall River, and when released on the burglary case he was turned over to his mother, with the understanding that he would return to Fall River.

The boy ran away from his mother a few minutes after leaving the court room and since then has been hanging about town. He has been seen several times by the policemen, but they have been unable to catch him.

GUESTS OF PRESIDENT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Aug. 24—Governor Murphy and Senators Kean and Dryden of New Jersey, will be guests of the president at Sagamore Hill this afternoon. They come to invite the president to attend the unveiling of the statue in the memory of the New Jersey soldiers who fell at the battle of Antietam.

RELIANCE'S LEAD

Shamrock III Was Beaten by 7 m. 3 s.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—"Sister of 10,000 sail and swiftest of them all."

This was what the Reliance proved herself Saturday in the first finish race for the America cup between her and the Shamrock III. Over a 30-mile course to windward and return, in a 12-knot breeze, she beat the Shamrock just 9 minutes on elapsed time. As she allows the Shamrock 1 minute and 57 seconds, she beat her, on corrected time, by 7 minutes and 3 seconds.

On the 15-mile beat out to the windward mark the Reliance beat the Shamrock 3 minutes and 21 seconds. The Reliance sailed the distance in 2 hours 9 minutes and 56 seconds, while the Shamrock covered it in 2 hours 13 minutes and 17 seconds. On the run back to the finish line, the Reliance beat the Shamrock 5 minutes and 39 seconds. The Reliance covered the last 15 miles in 1 hour 22 minutes and 21 seconds, and the Shamrock covered it in 1 hour and 28 minutes.

With the exception of a short time that the yachts were near the shore, in the vicinity of the turning mark, the breeze was blowing at the rate of about 12 miles an hour. When the yachts were sailing in the lighter breeze near the turning mark the sea was quite smooth, but during the rest of the race, which meant practically all of it, there was a short chop, and at times there were some deeper hollows for both to dive into.

JUMPED FROM CAR

GIRL IS UNCONSCIOUS AND MAY DIE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., Aug. 24.—Lillian Baker, a domestic in the family of William Howes of this place, is unconscious and probably dying as the result of jumping from a trolley car while it was in motion at Cottage City last night. She was thrown to the ground by her jump and her head struck a concrete road causing unconsciousness from which she has not recovered.

"COULDN'T SLEEP FROM THE TERRIBLE ITCHING."

"FIRST NIGHT I USED ZEMA-CURA I SLEPT WELL."

"I gratefully recommend your wonderful medicine, 'Zema-Cura.' For three months I suffered the most ACUTE annoyance with that dreadful disease, Eczema. Couldn't sleep from the terrible itching. Had about given up all hope of being cured, when in despair I bought a bottle of Zema-Cura. The first night after the first application I enjoyed a sound and refreshing sleep, the first restful sleep in three months. I bought three bottles in all and am to-day entirely cured."

WILLIAM JOHNSON,
Pres't Pittsburg Mfg. Co.,
Twenty-Eighth and Railroad Sts.,
Pittsburg, Pa.

Why should any Eczema sufferer continue to suffer when Zema-Cura will positively cure him? You take no risk in using Zema-Cura. It is absolutely safe. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it. It is the only SAFE, SURE CURE for Eczema known to medical science.

ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle-Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp.

DANGER!

Many of the lotions and salves alleged to be cures for Eczema and other skin diseases are positively a menace to sufferers. They contain OPIATES to allay irritation, and the awful effects resulting from their use are often worse than the disease itself. Such compounds may apparently relieve, but THEY DO NOT CURE, and the danger of using them is terrible to contemplate.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR ZEMA-CURA. No other remedy is even similar to it. ZEMA-CURA is a scientific prescription, and has been used with great success for years by eminent physicians in the treatment of skin diseases. The genuine ZEMA-CURA has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health; it is an absolutely SAFE remedy; mothers can use it on their babies without the slightest fear. Imitations contain opiates and other drugs and chemicals extremely dangerous; avoid them as you would the plague.

If you have the slightest difficulty in procuring Zema-Cura from your druggist, write direct to the ZEMA-CURA CO., 7 West 22d St., New York, and it will be shipped postpaid on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle. Write to-day regarding your case and receive complete, careful advice FREE.

200 KILLED

Bulgarians Made Attack on a Turkish Town

By Associated Press to The Sun

VIENNA, Aug. 24—Neue Freie Presse's Constantinople correspondent telegraphs that a band of Bulgarians has attacked the Turkish town of Degas, south of Inlada on the east coast of Turkey and have blown up the government buildings with dynamite. It is reported that 200 persons were killed.

KILLED THE GARRISON.

By Associated Press to The Sun

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 24—According to Turkish advices, when the insurgents captured Vasilike, in the eastern part of the vilayet of Adrianople, they killed the garrison, consisting of 50 soldiers, and about one hundred of the inhabitants.

The insurgents are now threatening Midia (sixty miles northwest of Constantinople, on the Black sea) and are reported also to be attacking the important town of Kirk Killoseh (thirty two miles from Adrianople.)

Christian, Greek and Mussulman refugees have arrived at the mouth of the Bosphorus from the neighborhood of Midia, fearing a massacre there. They have been sheltered in the bazarette at Anadola-Kavak and are being fed by the authorities.

The lighthouse at Kuru-Burun, in Inidia bay, has been abandoned by its keepers because of the nearness of the insurgents.

The Italian embassy has notified the Porte that it will hold it responsible for any injury which may be done to the consul of Italy at Monastir and demands the punishment of those who insulted the consul recently by calling him a "Giaour." (Infidel.)

WOMEN AND CHILDREN MASSAC

By Associated Press to The Sun

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 24—The Turks are reported to have massacred all the women and children in twenty-two villages of the districts of Florina and Monastir, and to have afterwards burned the villages. They are also alleged to have killed a number of prisoners.

The streets of Krushevo, are said to be strewn with dead, and the survivors are afraid to burry the bodies, fearing to ingur the suspicion of the Turk.

Following the proclamation of the revolution throughout the village of Adrianople, the insurgents cut all the telegraph lines connecting the city of Adrianople with the eastern part of the vilayet.

There are unconfirmed rumors here that fighting and massacres are proceeding in the streets of Adrianople.

WRIGHT ON TRIAL

Counsel Avory Outlines the Case

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Aug. 24—The proceedings in the case of Whitaker Wright, the promoter, were resumed in the Guild Hall police court today. Wright appeared to be calmly confident.

Informally opening for the prosecution, Horace W. Avory, senior counsel for the treasury, described the circumstances of Wright's departure for New York and his extradition and said the broad facts of the prosecution's case were that Wright, being managing director of the London & Globe British-American and Standard Exploration companies, used the names as stuff of his purpose for stock exchange speculations and engaged wholly in fictitious transactions. Counsel adds as evidence that Wright controlled all the financial operations of the company that the much discussed speech of the late Lord Dufferin at a shareholders meeting was written by Wright. Mr. Avory concluded with saying that the losses of shareholders in the capital of the three companies amounted to $25,000,000 and that of 389,575 shares of the London & Globe Finance corporation originally held by Wright, he appeared only to possess 2500 shares at the time of the collapse of the concern.

STOCK INCREASE

APPROVED BY THE GRAND TRUNK SHAREHOLDERS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Aug. 24—A special general meeting of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railroad of Canada, today, unanimously approved the recent act of the Canadian parliament in authorizing an increase of four per cent. guaranteed stock from the present authorized amount, $26,100,000 to $50,000,000. The president of the road, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, after the meeting, denied specifically to a representative of the Associated Press that the money would be employed in the work of extending the road to the Pacific. The shareholders expect that steps will be taken to acquire a Canadian port as an Atlantic terminal, instead of Portland, Me.

CONVICT CAPTURED

ANOTHER SUCCEEDED IN MAKING HIS ESCAPE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

RENO, Nev., Aug. 24—Joseph Murphy, one of the convicts who escaped from Folsom, Cal., prison some time ago, was captured here last night. Convict Frank Miller was with Murphy at the time, but jumped off the sidewalk into the Willows. Several shots were fired at him, but he escaped in the darkness. A large posse is on the trail of Miller and his capture is expected soon.

NELLIE BROOKS

IS BEING HELD FOR NEW YORK POLICE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 24—Nellie Brooks, said to be the wife of George Robinson, alias Brooks, the "Gentleman burglar," under arrest in New York, is held at police headquarters here at the request of the New York authorities. She was arrested at the home of her father in this city. She had checks for three trunks, but they have not arrived at the baggage room here.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

By Associated Press to The Sun

WALL STREET, 10.30 a. m.—Only a few orders appeared for execution at the opening of the stock market this morning and the resulting changes were irregular and generally narrow. Northern Pacific was lifted ⅝ and Amalgamated and Union Pacific ⅝. St. Paul rose ½ and then ran off ⅝.

11 a. m.—Prices declined gradually below last week's close, the loss reaching 1 and 1⅝ in St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Amalgamated, American Car and Metropolitan Street Railway, and 1⅜ in Realty pfd. Offerings of stock were small. A steadier tone developed before 11 o'clock and some good recoveries were made.

Noon—Actily carried a number of prominent stocks over a range of from 1 to 2 points, but only a few moved a point either way from Saturday's level. Locomotive and Canadian Pacific rose 1¼. Atchison 1st four and Chicago Great Western pfd., Wisconsin Central, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie, New York Central pfd. and Chicago Terminal a point.

Bonds were heavy.

WALL STREET—1.00 p. m. Transcontinental stocks were bought more freely during the early afternoon and Union Pacific rose a point. Amalgamated also displayed renewed firmness, but the active list otherwise was neglected. Snuff advanced 2 and Tennessee Coal and Rubber 1, while Rock Island pfd. fell off a point.

MADE AN ASSIGNMENT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—Edgar C. Jurgensen, a member of the New York Stock exchange, made an assignment today. He was a floor trader of some prominence, but carried few outside accounts.

TRAIN WRECKED

One Man Killed and Thirty Injured

By Associated Press to The Sun

FOND DU LAC, Mich., Aug. 24—The Chicago & Northwestern passenger train from Chicago was wrecked near Eden, three miles south of here, at 2 o'clock this morning. George W. Zabilke of Fond du Lac was killed. Conductor May of Chicago and 30 passengers were injured. The entire train, express car and baggage car, two coaches and three sleepers, were thrown down a 20 foot embankment.

STRIKE SETTLED

HAND IRONERS GO BACK TO WORK TODAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LEOMINSTER, Mass., Aug. 24—The strike of the hand ironers in the shirt factory of Cluett, Peabody & Co., which started 8:30 Thursday, was settled at noon today by the firm withdrawing the new style of shirt which caused the trouble. There were 65 hand ironers on strike on Saturday. The employes known as mule-teepers struck in sympathy with them. Today it was seen that the starchers were preparing for a sympathetic move and the firm immediately held a conference with the strikers with the above result.

LARGELY ATTENDED

FUNERAL OF JOHN A. STOREY HELD THIS AFTERNOON.

The funeral of the late John A. Storey, one of Lowell's most highly respected citizens and one of the leading business men of the city, took place this afternoon, and was largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased, including a number of people from out of town.

Funeral services were held at his late home, 684 Westford street, at 2 o'clock, the officiating clergyman being Rev. George F. Kenngott, pastor of the First Trinitarian Congregational church. During the service Mr. James E. Donnelly, of the Mozart quartet, rendered "Lead Kindly Light," and "Nearer My God to Thee."

There was a profusion of beautiful and appropriate floral offerings in evidence, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held by his many friends and acquaintances.

The bearers were Messrs. Frank Shaw, Chris Holmes, Fred Coburn, James B. Russell, Austin K. Chadwick, and Dr. James H. Sparks.

The interment was in the Lowell cemetery and was under the direction of Undertaker James B. Currier. Mr. Solon W. Stevens had charge of the funeral arrangements.

PAPER COMPANY

Made an Assignment for Creditors

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Aug. 24—The J. P. Jordan Paper company of 112 High street, and 200 Congress street, this city, assigned today for the benefit of creditors.

Charles H. Davenport of Holyoke and Hon. Frank W. Tibbetts of Boston were named as assignees.

The failure is attributed to impairment of credit and heavy losses.

A meeting of creditors has been called for September 8.

The president of the corporation is J. P. Jordan; T. H. Hubbard is vice-president, and P. B. Jordan secretary. The concern did a large business in the west, where H. E. Wright is the agent. Besides handling paper and card-board at wholesale, the company was engaged in the manufacturing industry to some extent.

TOO MUCH LIQUOR

Said There is Too Much Drunkenness in Lowell—Old Time Crowd in Police Court

"There is too much drunkenness in Lowell—too many in court for a Monday morning. The police should be more on the alert—this is a poor showing for a no-license town. It would seem that there is no need for thirsty ones to go to Woburn, Lawrence, or Nashua."—Judge Hadley in police court today.

Thirty-four drunks, including several women, were lined up in the dock and on the side seats. Several of them were old offenders, but the court was merciful and dispensed quite a number of suspended sentences, placing the defendants on probation.

James H. Carmichael appeared for Elizabeth Hayes and Mary J. Bailey. Both women were charged with drunkenness, second and third offence, and were placed on probation.

Thomas Purcel, for drunkenness, received a six months' sentence to the workhouse; Margaret Maguire, workhouse three months; Patrick J. Miskella, workhouse four months.

Patrick McNally, Mary Stewart, Samuel Stewart, John St. John, Frank Halowell, and Philip H. Breen were fined $6 each. The $5 victims were James Peacock and Cordelia Harrison.

LIQUOR IN WEST KENWOOD.

The people in West Kenwood are determined that Octave Dignault shall discontinue the illegal sale of liquor at that place.

They say he not only sells liquor but maintains a nuisance. They have petitioned selectmen of Dracut praying that Dignault's case be attended to.

Sunday afternoon Officers Black and Tully of Dracut paid Dignault a visit and seized some beer and whiskey. Degereault was in police court this forenoon and paid a fine of $75.

John Adamiski, Stanlans Palmot, Joseph Yasiski and Andrew Greib, four Poles arrested at a Polish wedding in Suffolk street Saturday evening were charged with drunkenness and were fined $3 each. Eight first offenders were fined $2 each and four were released.

WRIST FRACTURED

Rev. Fr. Reynolds Was Badly Injured

HE FELL DOWN FLIGHT OF STAIRS

In the Street Railway Building

Rev. John P. Reynolds, O. M. I., pastor of the Sacred Heart church, met with a painful accident this morning.

He was coming down the stairs leading from the street railway office when his heel caught in the edge of one of the steps and he was thrown down the entire flight of steps.

He received a bad gash on the forehead and his spectacles were broken. A carriage was called and he was removed to St. John's hospital, where the wound was dressed.

At the hospital it was also found that Fr. Reynolds' wrist was broken. That he was not more seriously injured is extremely fortunate, for the steps down which he fell have a steel covering and at the landing he struck on a steel mat. Fr. Reynolds in falling tried to break the fall by throwing out his hand and that is how he happened to fracture his wrist. It is said that others have had narrow escapes from bad falls down the same stairs.

CRICKET MEETING

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE MERRIMACK VALLEY.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Merrimack Valley Cricket League was held on Saturday eevning last at the Lawrence club house with John Walker in the chair in the absence of the president.

The secretary reported that up to the present he had not received a reply from Col. Butler Ames with regard to the cup which he had offered, through Mr. Thatcher, to give to the league. It was, therefore, decided to take no action on the matter until something further on the subject is heard. It was resolved that the secretary should communicate with the Mohair club with reference to the game to be played at the end of the season between them as the winners of the pennant and a picked team from the remaining clubs in the competition.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Sir Thomas Lipton has been elected an honorary member of the Eureka Yacht club of Newark, N. J., for rescuing Rear Commodore Zeigler and a party of friends from a cat-boat which was disabled July 2 last. The boat met disaster in a squall while sailing near the Erin's anchorage at Sandy Hook. Sir Thomas headed the rescuing party in a launch from his yacht.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE

INTERESTING MEETING PREPARES FOR BIG DEMONSTRATION.

A largely attended meeting of the United Irish League was held in their quarters at Barristers Hall on Sunday evening. Steps were taken to have the coming celebration in Huntington hall a great success. Prominent speakers are being secured for the occasion. A literary program was gone into. Miss Delia Conway gave a delightful talk on the future prospects of Ireland and also indulged in some flattering remarks on the splendid work of the officers of this organization. Miss Maggie Curry added much to the evening's entertainment and was ably seconded by Miss Mamie McNulty.

STRUCK A POLE

GREEK INJURED ON THE LAWRENCE ROAD.

Anton Michaelus, a Greek, residing in this city, had a narow escape from being badly hurt while riding on an electric car from Lawrence to this city about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Michaelus was standing on the running board of the car, which was well crowded. At a point about a mile the other side of Dewey Grove, he tried to shift places with a companion and in doing so his head struck against a pole and he was thrown violently to the ground. When picked up he was unconscious and remained in that condition about 10 minutes. When he did recover, however, he did not appear to be suffering any great pain, and upon the arrival of the car in Merrimack square he was able to walk home unassisted.

BOWDEN ALIVE

FRIENDS BELIEVED THAT HE WAS DEAD.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—After giving him up for dead, relations at Plainfield, N. J., of Col. John T. Bowden, who disappeared in the Philippines two years ago, have received word that he is alive. This information was given them by a discharged soldier who has just returned from Luzon. He says Bowden, after recovering from a fever and securing his discharge, decided to visit the interior before coming home. He is believed to be still alive and efforts will be made to find him.

HOISTED HIS FLAG.

By Associated Press to The Sun

114 YEARS OLD

Colored Woman Had 22 Children

By Associated Press to The Sun

CHICAGO, Aug. 24—A dispatch from New Orleans, says:

Widow Victor Marie Deransbourg, colored, supposed to have reached the age of 114 years, is dead at her home here.

According to statments made by members of the family, the woman was born in the year 1789 in St. Charles and was the property of Pierre Larbo, a rich planter, who afterward removed to the lower coast of Algiers.

The woman was a slave until 1853, when she was purchased from the Larbo family by her husband, Victor Derandabourg with nine children. All told, deceased has given birth to twenty-two children, of which number only nine survive, the eldest being 63 years old and the youngest 47 years.

Her husband died 20 years ago.

The woman had never known any severe sickness, and had only been confined to her bed two weeks before her death. Prior to this event, she was perfectly sound, and could move about without assistance. Her hearing and sight were almost perfect.

THE RELIEF FUND

REMAINS AT $14,000—MARTIN FLAHERTY'S OFFER.

The relief fund has gone slightly over $14,000, its exact size being $14,059.18. It is hoped that the fund will reach $15,000.

If the authorities will permit, Martin Flaherty, the well known boxer, volunteers to conduct a boxing and athletic carnival in Huntington hall and give the entire proceeds to the sufferers.

PARKS' SENTENCE

WILL NOT BE PRONOUNCED UNTIL WEDNESDAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Recorder Goff today deferred until Wednesday sentence of Samuel J. Sparks, the walking delegate of the housesmith and bridgemen's union who was last week found guilty on a charge of extortion.

FAREWELL AUDIENCE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Aug. 24.—The pope today received in private farewell audience the Right Rev. Thomas A. Hendrick, lately appointed bishop of Cebuz, Philippines.

Robert Dunbar of Chelmsford street is at his home, suffering from typhoid fever.

ECZEMA

A Holy Horror

The agonizing torture of this itching, burning disease has at last been conquered. We have secured the selling privilege in this city for a medicament that not only relieves the awful itching and burning sensation of this terrible disease, but roots it all out of the skin entirely, leaving a clear, smooth, healthy covering for the body. Conclusive facts indisputable in every particular, have been presented to us, proving beyond the per-adventure of a doubt, that Eczema, Eczema of Infants, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Pimples, Barber's Itch, Milk Crust, Dandruff, Itching Piles, and all diseases of the skin and scalp can be quickly and permanently cleaned out of the skin by

The D. D. D. Remedy.

"About five years ago I noticed a slight eruption on my limbs, but in a very short time I was a sight to behold, from my head to my feet, and my nights were terrible. I was simply on fire. I tried a number of doctors here in this city, but with absolutely no results aside from easing the burning pain a little. A friend of mine who had been cured of a very bad case of Eczema by the D. D. D. Remedy advised me to try it, which I did, feeling good results from the first. I have been using the D. D. D. Remedy for about three months, using in all, about fifteen bottles, and today I am a well man. I also had dandruff in its worse form, and found the D. D. D. Remedy to be a wonder in curing this disease." F. M. NICHOLS,
Moore Apartment House,
James St., Syracuse, N. Y.

The D. D. D. Prescription comes in a sealed bottle with authentic label on each bottle; it is a liquid applied externally, does not grease nor will it stain or discolor the most delicate wearing apparel.

This prescription has our unqualified indorsement. For a considerable period of time we have been recommending it with most astonishingly effective results. The cures already effected are having a wide-spread influence in this community. If you have a skin affection, come and inquire about the D. D. D. Remedy. It will be the means of making you a happier human being.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To the next of kin and all other persons interested in Emily Wilde Winder of Lowell, in said county of Middlesex, minor.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court by Sarah Fifer of Lowell, in the county of Middlesex, praying for the appointment of herself, or some other suitable person, as guardian.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate court to be held at Cambridge, in said county of Middlesex, on the first day of September, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why a guardian should not be appointed.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor and others interested, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, or by delivering a copy thereof to the said next of kin at least seven days before said court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, first judge of said court, this seventh day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

S. H. FOLSOM, Register.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court, within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully libels and represents William H. Haines of Medford, in said county, that he was lawfully married to Jennie M. Haines, now of East Lempster, state of New Hampshire, at Lewiston, state of Maine, on the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1881, and thereafterwards your libellant and the said Jennie M. lived together as husband and wife in this commonwealth, to wit, at Boston, Fitchburg and Somerville; that your libellant has always been faithful to his marriage vows and obligations, but the said Jennie M., being wholly regardless of the same, at Claremont, state of New Hampshire, on or about the fifteenth day of February, A. D. 1900, and at divers other times and places both before and after said date, committed the crime of adultery with a certain man by the name of Powers and also with divers other persons; a further description of is to your libellant unknown; also subjected your libellant to cruel and abusive treatment.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said Jennie M., also, that there has been born to them of this marriage the following children: Gerald C., Oct. 11, 1883; Gertha P., April 15, 1885; Hester V., Dec. 2, 1889; Grace M., Oct. 11, 1892, wherefore your libellant prays that the aforesaid children may be committed to his care and custody.

Dated this eighth day of August, A. D. 1903.

WILLIAM H. HAINES

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Superior Court, Aug. 10, A. D. 1903.

Upon the libel aforesaid it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before our justices of said court, at Cambridge, in said county, on the first Monday of September next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the county of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said last mentioned day, and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered letter to the residence of the libellee as set out in the libel, that she may then and there show cause, if any she have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

THEO. C. HURD, Clerk.

DRIVE OUT THE POWDER MAGAZINES.

After the calamity brought upon this city by the great explosion, it should take but a short time to drive out every powder depot or magazine that can in any way be considered dangerous. The recommendations of Capt. Dunn of the United States army, an expert upon explosives, in regard to magazines still unexploded should be heeded, unless another explosion is desired. That magazine on Andrews street must go without delay.

THE COMMON AND LABOR DAY.

It is to be hoped that the Park Commission will be able to see its way clear to allow the laboring people the unrestricted use of the common on Labor Day, as has been the custom from the first year that the holiday was generally observed.

The legal objection involved was discovered by Former City Solicitor Qua, who found that when the land was given to the city for a park years ago, it was stipulated that no revenue should ever accrue from the use of the land, under penalty of its reversion to the original owners. It may be that the intent of this restriction would merely forbid the city from deriving revenue from the common, but the city never intended to rent the common to the laboring people. It does rent it, however, on July 4, to tents and shows, so that if this be legal, it is at least as legal to give the use of the common free to the labor unions, for Labor Day.

Despite the former city solicitor's finding, the common was used on the Labor Day following, and no one raised any objection, nor will any one this year, if the unions be allowed to occupy a portion of it with booths. These booths furthermore add to the enjoyment of the day, and if properly conducted, do no one any harm.

As the day is labor's great day of recreation, let labor have its fun unrestricted and relegate to the shelf the musty files of long ago that would place an embargo on the amenities of the occasion.

THE SUN'S UNRIVALLED BULLETIN SERVICE.

The Sun feels bound to say a word in behalf of its unique bulletin service on the boat race on Saturday. In the first place the models of the two yachts were moved over the course automatically, the 15 mile course being represented on a scale of 25 feet or 1 2-5 feet to the mile.

As the time limit for the race was five hours and a half, the boats might be expected to reach the stake boat in two hours and three quarters with an ordinary breeze, but this was far exceeded on account of the brisk breeze and accordingly the models on The Sun's illustrated bulletin were moved at a quicker pace to accord with the telegraphic bulletins flashed from the Associated Press boat in New York harbor.

The illustration could not be more perfect or more mathematically accurate than it was shown and carried out on The Sun's illustrated course.

The megaphone service led in speed in audibility and clearness, while our bulletin service was of the lightning character, giving the principal features of the race in less than half a minute after they were flashed across the wire.

Another feature in which The Sun stood alone was the splendid life size portraits of Sir Thomas Lipton and C. Oliver Iselin put out upon our large bulletins and showing the unique work of The Sun artist.

Altogether, this service was by far the best ever attempted in the city of Lowell and we doubt whether it has ever been equalled in any other city in the United States. The Sun will continue this service throughout the boat races and the people who want the first news of the race rely upon The Sun to give it in bulletins and by megaphone from The Sun building in Merrimack square.

The crowd that watched The Sun bulletins thronged both sidewalks and the portion of the street not occupied by car tracks. The crowd also extended along both sides of Bridge street to Paige and on East Merrimack street in front of the Runels building. The general verdict was that The Sun had no rival in speed, in accurate and graphic illustration of results, and this record will be kept up throughout the boat races.

SATURDAY'S BOAT RACE.

The first contest between the Reliance and the challenger for the America cup has been decided, and the Reliance won a signal victory. The points of superiority so manifest in Saturday's race it is safe to say will enable the Reliance to defeat the Shamrock in every other contest that may ensue. But two other victories are required to hold the cup on American soil and to defeat Sir Thomas Lipton for the third time. According to the rules the next contest will be sailed over a triangular course and there is little doubt that in this, as in the straightaway course, the Reliance will also lead. It is remarkable what great interest is shown in this contest. It has assumed an international importance as the respective boats represent respectively the ingenuity of the United States and England in the production of racing yachts.

Some people think that the contest is nonsensical, that it is a waste of time and money to bother with such rivalry, but it is not well to take life too seriously.

Such contests offer amusement and recreation to millions of people on this and the other side of the Atlantic. Indeed it may be said that this race is of world-wide interest. The emperor of Germany is almost as deeply interested in the outcome of the race as is the King of England and Sir Thomas Lipton. Other sovereigns of Europe are also deeply interested in contest for superiority in yacht racing.

It is no idle boast to say that since this trophy was won by the yacht America, in 1851, it has been nobly defended against all challenges.

It has been challenged no less than twelve times and raced for in 1870, 1871, 1876, 1881, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1893, 1895, 1899, 1901, and the present year, 1903.

It must be stated that Sir Thomas Lipton has made the most gallant contest for this cup that has been made during its history, and after repeated defeats he has shown such humor, such a sense of fairness and accepted defeat with such gentlemanly grace that he has won the esteem of every American sportsman. But this does not help him in his contest for the cup, except that it secures him the best of treatment and absolutely fair play.

There is not an American citizen in this country today who would wish to see Sir Thomas Lipton unfairly treated. They want to see a fair contest and if in such a contest Sir Thomas lifts the cup he will be congratulated by the united voice of the American people as heartily as by his fellow countrymen who cheer him on his courageous and highly expensive contest for his coveted trophy.

OVER $1,00,000,000

Commerce between the United States and its non-contiguous territory amounted to over 100 million dollars in the fiscal year just ended. This figure of 100 millions includes about 5 million dollars' worth of gold bullion produced in Alaska and brought into the United States. Even excluding this, however, and including only merchandise in the calculation, the total amounts to $95,518,609.

This is the first opportunity which has been offered for an accurate measurement and analysis of the commerce between the United States and its non-contiguous territory since the annexation of the Hawaiian islands and Porto Rico. The Hawaiian islands were made a customs district of the United States when they were annexed, and as the law did not require the collection of statistics of commerce between the customs districts, a part of the people engaged in that commerce refused to supply such information to the bureau of statistics. When Porto Rico became a customs district of the United States a similar condition developed, except that the information was voluntarily supplied for publication by the steamship companies engaged in that trade. As a result a special law was enacted which applied to the commerce between the various ports of the United States and the non-contiguous territory, the regulations which were applied to foreign commerce, as far as relates to statistics of such commerce. This law went into effect at the beginning of the last fiscal year, and therefore the result of the fiscal year's operation is just available. The law, when enacted, was made broad enough to include all non-contiguous territory belonging to the United States. As a result it gave the statistics of the commerce between Alaska and the ports of the United States as well as that of Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippines, Guam, the Samoan islands, etc.

While the annual figures are the first of any official nature which the country has had of the commerce with Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands since their annexation, it is practicable to compare these with the figures of the commerce with these islands in any years prior to annexation because of the fact that commerce with them was always measured and reported when they were foreign territory. This is true also with the Philippines. In regard to Alaska, no accurate statistics of the commerce were gathered prior to the last year, but estimates were made for former years, which give a fair basis for comparison. It is practicable, then, to compare the commerce of 1903 with that of 1899, for all of this territory which has now become a part of the United States. This comparison shows that the imports from these various territories aggregated, in round numbers, 24 million dollars in 1899, and 59 millions in 1903, and that exports to that territory amounted to less than 5 millions in 1899 and over 37 millions in 1903.

STOLE BICYCLES

Boy Was Chained to the Floor

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 24.—Arabian methods of child punishment as practised in the home of Joseph Abrizad, a Georgetown fruit stand keeper, have thoroughly aroused the Washington board of children's guardians. The police are looking for 9-year-old Ameer Abrizad, who, after being chained to the floor by his father, escaped and is now at large.

The youngster is wise beyond his years, but has a passion for "borrowing" any bicycle on the street. Detective Howland, who has been hunting for a stolen bicycle, has suspected Ameer. When he demanded to see the boy, his mother stopped hanging up clothes long enough to remark: "He won't run away with any more wheels; his father has chained him down."

The detective went upstairs. Sleeping on the floor was an innocent-looking boy. Around one bare ankle was fastened a heavy dog chain, of which the other end was held to the floor by a staple. The links were an inch long and an eighth of an inch thick. The detective could not release the boy, but notified the children's guardians. An agent started out to break the fetters, but when at the house she found the trouble was saved her.

A boy friend, whom he had informed of his predicament, called at the house last night, and smuggled to him a large nail. With the skill of a cracksman he forced the padlock and was free.

It is the intention of Miss Bryan to take up the settlement work and she will become a member of the Hull house staff early in the fall.

GARIBALDIAN VETERANS

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Aug. 24.—The body of Menotti Garibaldi, the eldest son of the Italian patriot, who died Saturday, has been laid on a catafalque in the largest room of his apartment. A vigil is kept by Garibaldian veterans, some of whom have been unable to restrain their tears.

Menotti Garibaldi did not leave a will, but when he felt his last moments approaching, he called a friend and said:

"I have nothing to leave. I only beg you to tell Premier Zanardelli to provide for my destitute children." During the whole of the day, a stream of people passed reverently before the body of the dead man.

The funeral will take place next Tuesday, at the expense of the state, all the military and civil authorities attending. Innumerable telegrams of condolence have been received.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP

War Game Has Been Started in Portland, Me.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 24.—The bridges over the Nonesuch river, Scarboro, were "blown up" yesterday. This will not alarm anyone who wants to drive over them unless he is a naval man. If he is, he cannot go. The blowing of these bridges, of course, makes it impossible for a landing party to make good to the west of the river and having taken care of this the army will do the rest on the east side of the river. Since actual warfare is not legitimate until midnight Tuesday, it might seem inexplicable that bridges could be blown up and wireless stations captured before that time. In an interview last night with an Associated Press correspondent Gen. Chaffee said:

"These are merely precautionary measures, which it is legitimate to pursue during the period of preparation which we are allowed before war is actually declared."

The extreme outposts along the outer Cape shore, were thronged with visitors, but notwithstanding this, they were doing business. The camps have all been built up in such fine shape, that the regular army officers who have visited them, complimented the officers and men of Major Welch's volunteer battalion.

Lieut. Bigelow, commanding officer of the naval reserves, was an interested visitor to the camp at Two Lights, but for obvious reasons, he was not warmly welcomed.

Major Welch and his officers and those of the light batteries that are camped at Sliver Springs, went out scouting yesterday, to pick out all the places where the navy would be likely to try to land. It seems to be the general belief that there are some cable cutters among this section of the navy and every precaution will be made to ward off their attacks.

The district which this part of he forces is to defend, extends from Pond Cove to Bowery Beach, while the other companies will spread out further along the coast. The light batteries will spread out also, one going to the Two Lights, and the other further along. The garrison at Fort Williams will furnish the detachment for duty at Delano Park, and will also furnish patrols for the whole country round about, to guard against rear attacks and landing parties that might be found roaming about. The work of protecting the rear of Fort Preble, devolves upon the First Massachusetts artillery, acting as infantry in case the enemy should happen to get ashore somewhere out in the far country and try to make a rear attack unobserved.

Col. Dunwoody, the chief signal officer, has built up a series of search lights and stations that the officers say has never been equalled in the world.

The lights are run upon a regular schedule and each one has its zone of action, no two crossing in any way. They are arranged to be run collectively, if necessary, but unless orders are given for this, the work is done in zone system, each one covering a certain part of the outlook.

A good instance of the work of the search light was given Saturday night, when one of the steamers employed by the government was sent outside with instructions to go as far out as it was thought advisable, and then after "dousing" all lights, try to steal in. This was done, but the steamer was not more than half way in from the lightship before the big searchlight at Two Lights picked her up and every other light was kept on the steamer until it came into the harbor and went to its tying up place.

There has been a great complaint by the volunteers over the commissary department and Major Welch, battalion commander, has registered a formal protest against the food that is furnished them. It is so far away that it is hard to haul rations out, but the state officials will hold the contractors to their contract.

Two companies of New York signalmen, ninety in all, arrived on special cars shortly after 5 o'clock last night, and were quartered for the night with the 107th company of coast artillery.

FOXEN EASY

Lowell Landed Frequently on His Curves

But New Bedford Got Only Three Little Hits off Bushey's Delivery—Grant and Joyce Did Some Fine Fielding—Big Crowd at Nashua Today

On Saturday Count Doe presented Foxen, the South Paw twirler, for the purpose of butchering the Lakelings to make a whaler's holiday, but Foxen butchered not and the Lakelings straightened out every curve he bent at them. A large and enthusiastic crowd looked on and they were satisfied to lose when they saw young Bushey mow down the heavy hitting New Bedfords as easily as though they were a lot of beginners. Bushey allowed them only three hits, though he let them hit the ball where they could for he had complete confidence in his fielders, and they were behind him to a man.

The two center fielders, Grant and Joyce, were the stars in the fielding game while Lake led both aggregations at the bat.

Lowell made three runs in the opening inning, when Hafford led off with a single to centre and was advanced by a bunt by Bigbie. Merritt hit to Foxen, who tried to get Hafford at third without success. Lake bunted, the ball going just a few feet in front of the plate. Foxen ran up, and Burrill also took a step or two after the ball. Then they both hesitated, and when Buster picked up the ball, Lake was almost to first. Buster shot the ball to Josslyn, who was on first bag and the ball hit Lake and went off to the bleachers. Before it could be returned, all three runners had scored.

New Bedford got one in this inning. Joyce drew a base and stole second. After Gulheen had gone out Mullaney hit a hard one that struck Bushey in the shoulder and bounced off, allowing Joyce to score.

In the fourth, Lowell added one on a bunt hit by Grant, a sacrifice by Barney, and a single by Connors. The home team got its second and last run in the fifth, when Foxen got a three-bagger and afterwards scored on a fumble by McLaughlin.

Lowell did an awful job on the home team in the sixth, making five runs. McLaughlin reached first on an error by Gulheen, and was sent down to second by a pretty sacrifice hit by Connors. Bushey hit fast at Allen for a single. Cross smashed the ball to center, and McLaughlin scored. Cross went to second on a rather slow play by center and right field, after which he came home on a single to left by Chic Hafford. Bigbie hit to left field and Mullaney failed to stop the ball. Hafford scored and Bigbie went to third. Merritt sent a line drive to short center, and Joyce made a wonderful catch. Bigbie ran off third, but when he saw the ball had been caught he hurried back. Joyce made a mistake in throwing the ball to third, and Bigbie, who is very fast on his feet, ran to the plate.

After that New Bedford wasn't in it, while Lowell made still another in the ninth. The score:

Thursday—Fall River at Lowell, New Bedford at Nashua (two games), Haverhill at Concord, Manchester at Lawrence (two games.)

DIAMOND NOTES.

Whitinsville was trimmed by Lynn Saturday with Klobedanz and Bunyan for a battery. Swope of Nashua pitched for Lynn.

Merritt has caught 88 games this season, the league record.

Cross has won 17 out of the last 20 pitched. That will hold the "old man" critics for a few minutes.

HIGHLANDS WON

DEFEATED INDUSTRY IN ARCANUM GAME.

With three of its best men, McCann, Ready and Boyle absent, Industry Council crossed bats with the Highlands at the Fair Grounds, Saturday and received a good walloping.

There was nothing interesting about the game until a party of cows came along and took positions in the outfield. The Highlands, who were at bat, objected to the extra outfielders and when the cows were ordered off the field they refused to go while one of them, more bold than the rest, started to chew up one of the foul flags. First baseman Carter of the Highands, with the aid of a shepherd dog, succeeded in chasing the intruders away.

Stafford made his first appearance as an umpire and he wasn't the worst in the business, nor yet the best.

TOOK 10 INNINGS

FOR T. R. & T.'S TO DEFEAT SOUTH BOSTONS.

It took the T. R. and T.'s 10 innings to put away the South Bostons at Faulkner field, Saturday, and they were dead lucky to do it all, as they had less hits and more errors than the losing team. Tim McCarthy pitched a fine game, but got wretched support. He struck out 11 men and allowed 9 scattered hits, 4 of which were due to slow fielding. Errors were responsible for most of the scoring and the T. and R.'s won by bunching their eight hits. Hennessey, Fitzpatrick and Hoyle were the star performers for the home team. Kammerer and Whitely were the feature players for the visitors, the latter robbing Murphy of a sure two-bagger in the fourth by a circus catch of a line drive.

AMATEUR DIAMOND.

The Central A. C. went to Concord Saturday afternoon and defeated the home team by a score of 5 to 4. Joe Plowen, the pitcher of the winning team, won the game by a home run in the last inning.

The Sunnysides initiated the Odd Fellows, Saturday afternoon and it is safe to say that the Odd Fellows did not like the degree work of the Sunnysides, for they went home humming, "Ain't That a Shame." The game was one sided, the Odd Fellows never having a look in after the first inning, and lost by the score of 20 to 8. The batting of O'Neil and Carney, and the pitching of Boyd were the features of the game.

The Clintons and Pawtucket Blues crossed bats on the Textile grounds Saturday afternoon and the Clintons won by a score of 14 to 12.

The features of the game were the pitching of Cummins for the Clintons and the batting of W. Mallinson and E. Cunningham of the winning team. Allard and Lew also showed up finely for the Clintons. The batteries were J. Cummins and Fred Mallinson for the Clintons and N. St. Thomas and J. Grotton for the Pawtucket Blues.

The Brooksides defeated the Palmers on the North Common Saturday afternoon by a score of 16 to 5. A home run by Allen with three men on bases was a feature of the Brookside game. Gagnon played a good game at short for the winning team. The Brooksides go to Bedford next Saturday to play the team that represents that town.

The Lincolns defeated the Orients of Chelmsford by a score of 10 to 6. The batteries were Stevens and McCaskill for the Lincolns and Redmond and Adams for Chelmsford. The feature of the game was the terrific batting of the Lincolns. Send challenges to J. J. Dunkin, 23 Lincoln street.

COLISEUM OPENING

Butler Defeated Lawson in Motor Paced Race

The Race Was Exciting Until Lawson Lost His Pace — Boston Riders Took the Best Prizes in the Amateur Races —O'Brien Won a Second and Fourth—Attendance Was Very Large

Despite the fact that many people claim that bicycle racing is dead in this city, they would not think so if they had been at the opening meet of the new coliseum bicycle track in Lakeview avenue, at the city line, Saturday night. Over three thousand people witnessed the races and probably another thousand would have done the same if the seating capacity had not been overtaxed. As it was the rush for seats was so great that the sale of tickets had to be stopped shortly after eight o'clock.

As previously stated in this paper the new coliseum track is one of the best built and fastest tracks in the country, and it only remains for some of the crack pace followers to break records on the local track. It is built of superior grade spruce and is eight laps to the mile. The strips are but one inch in width and are placed in such a manner that it will be impossible for the track to warp or get out of true.

The home stretches are banked at an angle of 30 degrees while the turns are built at an angle of 65 degrees, in order to allow fast time to be made. In many of the modern tracks there is what is known as a "camel hump" going from the stretch into the turn and then again from the turn into the stretch. The "camel hump" makes it difficult for a rider to hold his wheel, but on the local track the rider does not feel the turns, owing to the mode of construction.

Saturday night there was but one grandstand erected, that being on the home stretch, but work was started on the new grandstand this morning, and next Thursday evening when the next meet is pulled off the seating capacity of the coliseum will be doubled and 5000 people can be accommodated.

The attendance at Saturday night's meet only goes to show that the people of this city are very enthusiastic over the cycle racing game, especially if they can see races on a fast and modern track. When over two thousand people will turn out to see amateur races on a horse track surely twice that number will attend professional and amateur races on a modern track.

The people who were present Saturday evening were very enthusiastic over the racing and without doubt were well satisfied with the night's program.

The main event on the program was a fifteen mile motor paced race between Nat Butler, the old "Handicap King" and Gussie Lawson, the "Flying Swede."

The race was a novelty in this city and as the majority of the people had never seen any of the big fourteen horse power pacing machines in operation, it proved to be a great drawing card.

For the first six miles the race was nip and tuck with Lawson having a little the better of the argument, but by the overtaxing of his nerves, which are not strong at the present time owing to a recent illness, Lawson got weak and could not hold his pace. Before the little fellow got going again Butler had lapped him eight times and Nat won the race by over a mile.

Despite the fact that it was a rather one-sided affair after this, the noise of the motors going at a fast clip with a rider trailing behind, furnished plenty of excitement for the crowd.

Both the one-mile handicap and five mile open, amateur events, were well contested and interesting. McKinnon of Boston, proved to be the star amateur, winning the five mile open and getting second in the mile handicap. McDonald of Somerville, another speed merchant of ability, captured the mile handicap from scratch and finished third in the open race. O'Brien of Lowell, captured second in the open and fourth in the handicap, while Goyette, of this city, won a third, and Stoughton of Dorchester, also won a third.

MOTOR PACED RACE.

About nine o'clock the two big fourteen horse power motors were pushed on to the track, Saunders being on Butler's machine, while Tenzler operated the machine which furnished pace for Lawson. The motors went several miles in order to get warmed up and then Lawson and Butler made their appearance. Lawson caught his motor soon after getting on his wheel and rode several miles behind it before the race started. It was not long after Lawson got his pace that Butler was trailing behind Saunders.

On account of the big crowd around the arena it was deemed advisable to start the men on opposite ends of the track. Butler and Lawson drew for position and Lawson got the home-stretch, while Butler started from the back stretch.

After jockeying for a couple of miles for position the starting gun was fired and both riders started to tear around the track at a rapid rate of speed.

The first mile was cut out in a little over 1.21 and Lawson intended to push thereace from the start in order to gain a lap upon Butler. He rode like a fiend and every lap he went gained on Butler. In the third mile he had nearly caught Butler, but Billy Saunders turned on a little more juice and the big pacing machine was seen to take a shoot with Butler sticking close to it. But the pace was too hot for Nat and he soon dropped down to a slower gait, and once more Lawson gained. The little fellow continued to gain until the sixth mile when he was taken sick and dropped his pace. This was what Butler was waiting for and as soon as Lawson lost his machine Nat started to circle the track at a much faster rate of speed than before.

Butler lapped Lawson eight times before the latter could get his pace, and everyone knew that barring an accident the race would go to the Cambridge rider. After Lawson caught his pace he seemed to ride with increased vigor, but he had lost too many laps and was therefore out of the running. When Butler finished his fifteen miles Lawson was one mile and half a lap to the bad. The fastest mile during the race was the eighth, Butler circling the eight laps in 1.17 4-5.

All during the race the spectators were very enthusiastic and both riders had their admirers who cheered according to which was doing the better work. When Butler finished he received vociferous applause. The time for the fifteen miles was 21 minutes, 57 3-5 seconds.

Lawson received a number of bad falls in the recent Golden Wheel race held at Charles River track and owing his injuries and a sickness accompanying them were the cause of his rather poor showing, but despite this fact he rode a plucky race and received good applause for his work.

AMATEUR RACES.

The first race on the program was a one mile handicap which was pulled off in two heats. In the first heat McKinnon of Boston and Mike O'Brien of this city were on scratch. There were seven entries in this heat, four men to qualify. At the report of the pistol the riders got off and the field men working well together fought the low marked men off for six laps, but on the seventh lap McKinnon, O'Brien and Frey Goyette got together and cutting out a hyde sprint brought down the field and McKinnon finished first with Kinnon of Lowell second, Goyette third and O'Brien fourth. Owing to the fact that Kinnon finished on the running board below the black mark, which is the official distance, he was disqualified and Alton, the fifth man, qualified.

The second heat brought out seven starters, with McDonald of Somerville on scratch, Stoughton on 10 yards and Connors on 50. This heat was a little slower than the other, but on the last lap the riders got down to business and McDonald came in first, with Batchelder a close second and Connors and Stoughton third and fourth.

The final heat found eight starters in line, O'Brien, McKinnon and McDonald on scratch, Stoughton on 10 yards, Goyette on 35, Connors at 50 and Batchelder and Alton on 70. This was a pretty race the three scratch men working together and catching the field in two laps. A sleighride was then started and the jockeying for position was pretty. On the last lap McKinnon started to let it out, but he was closely followed by McDonald, who beat him out at the tape. Goyette and O'Brien had a battle for third position, but the former won out and Mike finished fourth.

Nine men started in the five-mile open, there being a special prize at the end of every mile. This was really five races in one, as there was a lively sprint for the mile prizes.

Two laps were allowed the rider to get into position and when the gun was fired Goyette was setting the pace. Fred started out on the fifth lap to speed it up and set a fast pace until the seventh, when Connors went to the front and held the lead, winning the first mile.

In the second mile Maban took the lead and held it until the seventh lap, when McDonald forged ahead and won the mile prize. Connors took the pace at the beginning of the third mile, but Kearney, a local rider, caught the bunch napping and got quite a lead, the other riders letting him go, until Goyette answound his gear and letting it out started after Kearney and beat him out by several inches for the prize at the end of the third mile.

Kearney tried to lap the field in the fourth mile and he was encouraged on by the spectators, but when he had gained half a lap McDonald went out after him. After catching him McDonald continued on his ride and it looked as though he was going to lap the field. But after winning the fourth mile prize he slowed down and waited for the other riders.

The last mile was probably the slowest for the men were jockeying for position, but they got going on the sixth lap and kept it up until the finish, McKinnon crossing the tape a few inches ahead of O'Brien. McDonald being third and Stoughton fourth.

THE SUMMARY.

The summary was as follows:

One-Mile Handicap—First heat won by McKinnon, Boston, scratch; Goyette, Lowell, 25 yards, second; O'Brien, Lowell, scratch, third; Alton, Lowell, 70 yards, fourth; time, 2 minutes 7 seconds. Second heat won by McDonald, Somerville, scratch; Batchelder, Lowell, 70 yards, second; Connors, Lowell, 50 yards, third; Stoughton, Dorchester, 10 yards, fourth; time, 2 minutes 11 1 5 seconds. Final heat won by McDonald, McKinnon second, Goyette third, O'Brien fourth. Time, 2.01.

Five-Mile Open Won by McKinnon, Boston; O'Brien, Lowell, second; McDonald, Somerville third; Stoughton, Dorchester, fourth. Time, 12.21.

Lap Prizes—First mile won by Connors, second by McDonald, third by Goyette and fourth by McDonald.

15-Mile Motor Paced Race—Between Nat Butler and Gussie Lawson, won by Butler by one mile and 110 yards. Time, 21 minutes 57 3-5 seconds.

IS BISHOP NOW

Rev. Thomas Hendrick Consecrated at Rome

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Aug. 24.—The consecration of the Rev. Thomas A. Hendrick of Rochester, N. Y., as bishop of Cebu, P. I., was performed yesterday, by Cardinal Satolli, in the Church of the Franciscan missionary nuns. The occasion acquired special importance, because one of Cardinal Satolli's assistants at the function was Archbishop Harty, the metropolitan of the Philippine Islands, while contemporaneously Cardinal Satolli consecrated Mgr. Cavallari as titular bishop of Philadelphia, Asia Minor, whom the Pope has appointed pro-vicar of Venice.

Pius X will still keep to himself the patriarchate, thus avoiding a revival of the question whether the Italian government has the right to choose the patriarch of Venice, which it claimed when Cardinal Sarto was appointed to that post.

The scene yesterday was picturesque in the extreme, when red-robed cardinals, surrounded by the bishops and a number of nuns clad entirely in white, proceeded to the symbolic consecration. The students of the American College came to Rome from their villa at Castel Gandolfo, specially to assist at the ceremony.

A collation was afterward served in the refectory to 200 distinguished guests, including Mgr. Kennedy and Fr. David Flemming. Cardinal Satolli later gave a dinner in honor of Bishop Hendrick, at which Archbishop Harty, Bishop Cavallard and Mgrs. Kennedy and Fowler were present. Archbishop Harty has booked his passage on La Touraine, which will leave Havre for New York, Aug. 29.

Bishop Hendrick, who has received instructions regarding the Philippines from the papal secretary of state, will have a private audience of Pius X, and afterward will leave for Ireland, as he wishes to have Irish nuns and monks sent to his diocese of Cebu, for teaching purposes. He also desires that several Irish priests be sent, at least for a time.

MASSACHUSETTS HELP

HELD AN ENJOYABLE OUTING ON SATURDAY.

The employes of the Massachusetts cotton mills, representing the yard and machine shop, held an outing at Spalding park Saturday afternoon and the feature of the fun was a ball game between the Huguenots and the Hoodoos, captained respectively by Bert Hall and Ted Barnes, the Hugues representing the yard and the Hoodoos the machine shop, and the Huguenots won by a score of 18 to 6.

The teams were: Hoodoos, Edward Lestoral, John Welch, Peter McLaughlin, Fred Schemmerhorn, Samuel McAleer, Edward Barnes, Eldrich Seeley, Wilfred Heathcock, William Simpson.

Huguenots, Eben Vose, Charles Barden, Matthew Hill, Adam McIlree, Joseph Harvey, Thomas Finnegan, Robert Arnold, Will Clark and Fred Starky. Umpire Jack Henderson gave good satisfaction, and Ashley Welcome kept score.

A great game of quoits was played during the ball game, in which Frank McLeod and Henry Jacobs after defeating several others were badly trimmed by two fellows who said that it was so easy that they didn't care to give their names.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon, Jack Hayes being in charge, and he was ably assisted by William Heathcock, C. S. Tuttle, N. D. Keables, Charlie Boutilier and others.

There is talk of another game between teams representing the Prescott and Massachusetts sides.

IN TEWKSBURY

AUTOMOBILE FRIGHTENED HORSE AND WOMAN WAS HURT.

Mrs. Charles Clark was thrown from her wagon Saturday afternoon and had a narrow escape from serious injury. Her horse became frightened at a passing automobile. The front wheels broke away from the wagon, throwing Mrs. Clark to the street. She was assisted to her home and Dr. Rollins was summoned. She was badly shaken up, but not seriously injured.

PIONEER REFORMER

JOHN FOLEY DIED AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—John Foley, New York's pioneer reformer, who brought the famous injunction suit which ended in the rout of the "Tweed ring," died late Saturday night after a lingering illness at his home on Lexington avenue. His health was shattered 20 years ago by his persistent fight for good government. Of recent years his son has had charge of his gold pen manufactory under the Astor house.

John Foley had an interesting career. Beginning with his election as a supervisor in 1861, he started a single-handed fight against "Boss Tweed," and did not let up until the famous ring was swept away. He joined with Commodore Vanderbilt in the project to extend Madison avenue to Yorkville, and was active for years in an effort to have a rapid transit railway between City hall and Harlem.

CHELMSFORD

Mr. Ferdinand Scoboria of South Chelmsford, who soon expects to leave town, was pleasantly surprised by his friends Friday, and John B. Emerson, on behalf of the many friends of Mr. Scoboria, presented him with a case of brushes and a dress suit case. A social time followed the presentation.

The club of West Chelmsford girls who have been dressing dolls this summer for children's wards in various hospitals under the direction of Miss Myra Durgin, held their last meeting at Miss Durgin's home Friday afternoon, when the dolls were on exhibition. There were 27 dolls. Ice cream, cake and fruit were served by Miss Durgin to the girls and a very pleasant time was enjoyed. Miss Durgin leaves Monday for a week's rest. After she returns the dolls will be on exhibition at her home.

SCHWAB MAKES A VENTURE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—Charles M. Schwab, with C. H. Matthieson, is now in control of the Chicago Pneumatic Tube company. Control of the company was obtained by the purchase of the holdings of Max Pam and his friends.

Mr. Schwab, it is understood, bought from Mr. Pam about $800,000 par value of stock, paying for it $70 a share.

LORD SALISBURY

Former Premier of England is Dead

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Lord Salisbury died at 9.05 Saturday evening. He had been steadily failing for several days, and was only kept alive by the constant use of oxygen.

A sharp relapse set in at 3 o'clock Saturday morning, and he failed gradually until the end.

It is understood that Lord Salisbury recently expressed a wish to be buried beside his wife at Hatfield. A proposal will undoubtedly be made to bury him in Westminster Abbey, but this will be declined by the relatives in accordance with his lordship's wishes.

KILLED HIMSELF

Milo Spring Temporarily Insane

By Associated Press to The Sun

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 24.—A special to the Telegram from Ashland, says Milo W. Spring, aged 49, manager of the Olmstead and Tuttle properties, shot himself in the head with a revolver, Saturday night, and died within an hour. Mr. Spring had been suffering from a kidney disorder and that is given as the cause for his suicide.

During the evening, Mr. Spring with his wife and daughter, went on a long pleasure drive. Returning the three were in the kitchen. A revolver that he usually carried, lay on a table and Mr. Spring stepped toward it. His daughter noting a peculiar look in his eyes, slipped between him and the table. He put his hands on her shoulders, set her aside, took the revolver, raised it to his temple, and exclaiming, "See that," fired.

LAW IS BEING PREPARED IN RUSSIA.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24—A law legalizing strikes is in preparation. A general strike which began August 20 at Ekatrinoslav was followed by a collision between strikers and the military in which eleven strikers were killed and twelve wounded.

The governor has since announced that work will be generally resumed on the railroads and in the factories today.

TWO SEIZURES

LIQUOR OFFICERS WERE BUSY ON THE SABBATH.

Sunday afternoon the liquor squad visited the premises numbered 619 Lakeview avenue and seized two cases of beer.

One Certainty

Some Lowell People Fully Realize it Now

When the back aches from kidney ills,
When urinary troubles annoy you,
There's a certain way to find relief.
A sure way to be cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills will do it.
Lowell people endorse this claim.

Mr. G. S. Emerson, of 512 Westford street, says:

"A lapse of time has increased my appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills. The cure effected by that remedy in 1896 when I procured a supply at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, and took a course of the treatment, has been permanent. Other members of my family have used the remedy during that period, and add their endorsement to mine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

The Vagaries of Fashion In the Gay French Capital

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Every one here is raving over the simplicity of the embroidered linen and volle gowns. These are deservedly popular for morning wear, the skirts just clearing the ground. The trotteuse skirt, which is really extremely unbecoming, is reserved for athletic exercises in the country. Some of these linen gowns have flat embroidered hats to match. Red and white mixtures are popular, and green and white looks delightfully cool on hot mornings. Morning hats should accompany all these dresses, reserving the picture hats for fete or carriage wear. We in Paris do not care to trail around in the morning with lace frocks and picture hats, as a good many Englishwomen here do. It is not considered chic.

White pongee, trimmed with lace, makes a beautiful afternoon gown. Long and short coats, children's suits and jackets are also most satisfactory in this material, as it washes like muslin. White pongee lends itself to so many different styles that it enjoys a well earned popularity without being common. It is extremely suitable for sunburst effects, as it falls naturally into just the folds necessary to this plaiting. It can be combined with all kinds of heavy lace with good results, or in tucks with feather stitching. A pongee petticoat is most serviceable for wear with light summer gowns and it washes nicely.

Our afternoon and reception toilets are perfect wonders, both in extravagance of cost and beauty. Irish lace and fine guipure trim the crepe de chine and mousseline de soie gowns. Black chantilly, jet and silver paillettes and beautiful embroideries are extensively used. An exquisite toilet worn by a pretty Parisian was in cream soie de chine, with a pelerine collar of Irish point mixed with black chantilly and decorated with a design of Louis XV. bowknots in silver sequins and edged with a green and white silk fringe, while a soft belt of green peau de soie was caught with Louis XV. clasps. The accordion plaited skirt was decorated on the hips with the same Irish crochet and black chantilly, which was also inserted at the hem. The sleeves were made of the soie de chine and the two laces, revealing most beautiful undersleeves of accordion plaited cream chiffon.

A soft, voluminous effect in sleeves and skirts seems to be the aim of the leading costumers. The skirts are more gauged than ever, and the smarter ones are cut all in one piece, with about twelve yards of fullness around the feet. They are lovely in thin fabrics, but are too heavy in cloth. Cloth skirts are full in the back and smooth over the hips, whence they fall full to the ground.

At this time of year one sees many beautiful traveling costumes. A charming example is of green and blue Scotch plaid. The skirt touches the ground all around and is plaited from the hip downward, the top being composed of strappings of the plaid with red pipings and little buttons to match. The little sack bolero has a red turnover collar and cuffs and a red leather belt. With this is worn a perfectly flat hat, trimmed with blue and green wings.

Some smart toilets are seen at the Cercle de Puteau. A striking black taffeta costume worn by the Vicomtesse d'Origny was made with a Louis XVI. coat with a jabot of old point d'alencon, and falling from the elbow sleeves were frills of the same lace. A large black hat was worn with this, trimmed with beautiful ostrich feathers. Another dainty gown, worn by the Countess de Rostang, was of champagne volle with a very deep collar of cluny and Irish lace and a large picture hat, covered with pale mauve satin and trimmed with white ostrich feathers.

LATE SUMMER PARISIAN MODES.

Some new fall hats are made entirely of feathers. One which I saw was a large turban shape, the outside of the brim being composed of iridescent coq feathers, while the crown and inside of the brim were of pale blue feathers. A large plume made of the coq feathers, fastened with a jet buckle to the blue crown, swept over the brim and round the side, resting on the hair behind.

Extraordinarily becoming are the 1830, or pelerine shaped, bodices and the full, gathered skirts. The waist looks small by contrast without any lacing. Truly the modes of that period, when treated by the skillful modern couturiere, leaves nothing to be desired. Grace is the order of the day. Mantles are of really beautiful shapes. An opera cloak of large patterned green and gold brocade, lined with yellow satin, entirely covers the dress. The bell sleeves have under lace ones threaded with gold, also open. A large collar of tucked net with a gold lace bordering falls over the shoulders. Another cloak of white satin embroidered with pearls, large and voluminous also, has a vandyked lace collar. A pink chiffon is made with large sleeves, drawn in at the wrist and slashed at the outside of the arm with net introduced and long ends of the soft crape tied in front.

For the bridesmaid there has appeared a delightful new material, double chiffon, a compromise between the very transparent and the opaque; something which is quite as suitable for day wear as evening. Double chiffon appears to be quite perfect for its purposes. As it is not necessary to use so much of it as of single chiffon, it will not be found at all expensive, while it wears much longer. Again, double chiffon lends itself to laces, either heavy or light, quite delightfully. I first saw this most satisfactory material applied with Irish and guipure, and I have since seen it with almost every other kind of lace on the list. Very few know that chiffon, both single and double, washes nicely. Single chiffon, when washed and pulled into shape without ironing, looks quite like the double. I once saw a pretty cream blouse of apparently double chiffon which, I was told, had been a chiffon skirt.

I saw a very pretty evening frock the other night in the always possible black and white. It was of black cluny lace. Its newness consisted in the clever use of white chiffon on the black lace. The white chiffon was appliqued with black lace to finish the decolletage, and accordion plaited frills of the chiffon on the sleeves were bordered by a very effective little double ruche consisting of a black ruche inside of a white one. The method of arrangement of the black and white made an uncommonly good frock for a stout person. A gown of black net over white had a design in jet and sequins down the front and around the bottom of the skirt. The bodice was made with a pelerine of jet and a deep pointed collar of white embroidered mousseline. A little cluster of white mousseline roses nestled just below it.

I have lately seen some especially good evening frocks, many in soft, gleaming satins in white and pale tints. A pretty brown haired woman wore a frock of pale pink satin with a cloud-like arrangement of pink tulle around the shoulders. There were pearls about her neck and the comb in her hair was set with diamonds and pink coral.

The convenient lace mittens are worn with evening dress as well as with day costumes. For garden parties and outdoor fetes they are indispensable, as they permit the free use of the fingers while covering the hand and arm. By securing a good pattern they may be made very easily of net and lace and decorated with colors and designs to match the gown. They possess the advantage of revealing pretty rings and well kept finger nails. Among the new gloves also are some beauties in fine silk, with an embroidered design in vines on the back of the hand and around the top of the wrist. I have seen them in pale shades of gray, drab, biscuit and champagne. Pale olive enters into the coloring of nearly all of these designs, with a touch of light blue, pink and black.

The smartly dressed mondaine attired for outdoor sports certainly merits description, as every detail in the costume is as practical as it is smart. The favorite tennis dress is of white linon. A short skirt, the length of a trotteuse, is comfortably full at the hem. Strappings of white and pink spotted pique, finished with round gold buttons at intervals, border the kilting or the flounce "en forme." A white tucked chemisette with a pink cravat and a white panama hat, draped with a scarf of lace falling in ends behind, complete the costume. A smart little red cloth coat, decorated with gold buttons, is generally donned when the game is finished. These bright jackets are very becoming. Some are tight fitting and some resemble the sack coat. The Princess d'Isenburg wore a becoming skirt of white linon, strapped with blue and white spotted linon, with a well cut, tailor made red coat and a panama hat trimmed with a blue and white figured scarf.

That we are wearing bonnets nobody can doubt, and bonnets with strings at that, and, not content with turning our toques into bonnets by the addition of strings, we are now adding strings to our hats—not narrow velvet ones, such as used to be worn on our Dolly Vardens some time ago, but wide, soft ribbon and mousseline strings, tied in a big bow under the chin. These are extremely becoming to some faces and seem to belong to the hats of the present day.

CATHERINE TALBOT.

Pretty Homemade Collars.

The turnover embroidered collars which are now so much in vogue may be made at home for very much less than their market price, out of embroidered handkerchiefs. The borders, cut from opposite sides of the handkerchief, only require to be mounted on cambric bands, to go inside the neckband of the dress, and there they are, two as pretty and dainty collars as you could buy. The third collar is made by joining out the remaining edges of the embroidery handkerchief; but it need not look patched if a little care be taken. One piece is used to form the main part of the collar, the other is cut and makes the two corners, which must be joined to it on the slant and at such an angle as enables you to get a collar of the desired length. Perhaps you will be inclined to think the third collar is an impossibility, but it really only calls for a little ingenuity in the matter of putting on the corners, as you will soon find when you take the work in hand.

Some clever girls make pretty square sailor collars from embroidered handkerchiefs. In that case all four corners of the handkerchief are left intact, and from one side a piece like an inverted U is cut for the neck. If you are puzzled at this description, take a sailor collar and lay it out flat, and you will then easily see how to cut your handkerchief.

The Mohair Costume.

Mohair gowns are now to be seen in every color and of many different textures, so that it seems as though for every occasion a mohair gown is suitable. First and foremost, for a traveling gown a mohair is most desirable, as the material "sheds" the dust, does not easily get tumbled, and, in fact, will stand a lot of hard wear without looking shabby, and a good brushing off and sponging make it look like new. Black or blue in dark shades are the smartest colors to choose, and a coat is far better than a waist, for the material even in the softest weaves is too harsh to be easily made to fit well. But a long coat, with skirt to match and a waist of the same color, but different material, makes a smart costume.

Style In Belts.

The greatest novelties in belts are the new suede belts, the backs wide so that they drape prettily around the waist, joining on to the straight front and side pieces by means of large silver or gold rings. These are to be had in all colors, but with a blue serge nothing looks smarter than the natural colored suede. In kid, too, are some of the newest belts, so soft and supple that they may be drawn round the figure like a ribbon, or left straight, for they are shaped so as to be wider behind than in front. Colored patent leather belts are smart, but are not so easy to arrange as suede.

Early Fall Tailor Suit

THIS pretty costume can be made of tweed or light weight cloth. The strappings on the cuffs and shoulders are piped with satin and the bolero is finished with buttons to match. The sleeves are represented with the latest cuff, cut with the sleeve and plaited to fit the arm. The hat is made of the same material and has a touch of ribbon matching the necktie.

The Characteristic Blouse.

There is, perhaps, no more characteristic garment than the shirt waist or blouse of the up to date girl, and it should be most carefully chosen. Whether it be simple or elaborate must depend not only upon the state of the wearer's pocket, but still more on the occasion for which it is worn. One thing is essential to it, and that is its immaculate cleanliness and neatness.

The Convenient Coffee Coat.

The coffee coat is the piece de resistance in a small outfit. It smartens ordinary blouses (with low or "French" neck) for semievening toilet, and it can be worn out of doors to veil the blouse at garden parties or for smart calls.

Embellishing the House With an Indian Cozy Corner

A FASHIONABLE as well as a really artistic and unique effect in fitting up the library or sitting room can be obtained by the upbuilding of an Indian cozy corner. For this the chief essential may be said to be Navajo blankets, which serve alike for a couch covering and for rugs. These blankets range in price from $1 to $500. The finest specimens are old bayettas, which are very scarce and expensive, as no duplicates are produced in the present day. The colors used in these, especially the red, were obtained from cloth brought into Mexico by the Spanish and sold to the padres, who in turn sold it to the Indians at a handsome profit. This fine cloth was raveled and the thread woven into blankets.

It will thus be seen that the cost of the materials was large in the beginning, and as it is long since any of this variety has been made the bayettas are quite rare. But they are very durable and the colors are absolutely unfading. Then there are the more common and less expensive blankets woven by the Navajo squaws of the present day. These Indians raise the sheep, make their own yarn and dye it with colors obtained from herbs and minerals. A bright reddish orange or flame color enters largely into the coloring; also scarlet, black, white and blue. The skill with which the savages blend the colors and weave the intricate patterns is wonderful and curious. Every thread is woven in and out the warp on the rough loom by hand and pressed down tightly with a little stick until the rug is as stiff as a board.

For a couch covered with one of these blankets there are sofa pillows made of sheepskins in red, green, orange and all the shades of tan and brown. Some are painted with Indian heads and some are worked in beads, so that you may repose with your cheek resting against the war paint and feathers of the bloodthirsty Geronimo or Rain-in-the-Face, while your feet are holding down Sitting Bull or some of his ilk. These cushion covers are made from a skin much larger than the cushion proper, the superfluous edges being slashed to make a deep fringe and the top and bottom covers laced together over the cushion with colored cord or ribbon passed through holes made in the leather. There are also cushions covered with wool materials in bright colored stripes and designs, filled with fir and pine needles, while some may be covered with beautiful Mexican drawn work, put on over a dark color.

The wall behind your couch may be draped with one of the bright colored Mexican serapes or shawls, the artistic value of which is beyond price, but intrinsically it is anywhere from $5 to $60. Or you may decorate the space with such interesting trifles as the "headache sticks" (war clubs) of the Sioux and Apache tribes. These harmless looking weapons are made of a smooth, oval stone as large as a good sized hen's egg, fastened in some ingenious manner to a strong stick about a foot long, which serves as a handle. The whole is then wound tightly with strips of thin leather and completely covered with designs in bright colored beads. The top of the handle is decorated with little tassels or fringes of slashed leather. However innocent and ornamental these playthings may look, upon examination you will decide that a good, hard tap administered by a strong and supple savage wrist would crack a skull of almost any density and cause as severe a headache as any quantity of lobster a la Newburg, or cold beans and hard cider overnight.

There are also Tuscarora and Winnebago tomahawks, which give you the shivers to gaze upon, even though they are hung by an inoffensive ribbon to the ornate peg in your coziest den. They remind you so forcibly of the bludgeon depicted in the story book of "Jack the Giant Killer," at the thought of which you have not yet got over having little thrills of terror creep up your spine. To accompany these are lariats of rawhide, feathered headdresses, decorated bows and arrows, Yaqui quirts or riding whips, Mogul sash belts woven of bright colored wool, strings of wampum, which, by the way, is becoming quite scarce and expensive. You can spend as much as you please on this curious Indian shell money, as every tribe had its own coinage and there is a great variety. The most of it is, however, composed of little disks of carved shell, from an eighth to a quarter of an inch in diameter, strung through a hole in the center and separated at intervals by bits of turquoise or anthracite.

A medicine mask, hung at the head of your couch, might invite repose. These are also becoming as rare as they are hideous, with their Medusa-like cast of countenance, horrible rolling lips, wild eyes and long, streaming hair from an enemy's scalp. There are also dainty squaw cups, buckskin leggings and moccasins embroidered with dyed porcupine quills and colored beads. Other pleasing ornaments are calumite peace pipes, hand carved and painted canes of a horribly murderous short, thick variety and various kinds of bead and porcupine quill work in pouches, head ornaments, knife sheaths, amulet bags and belts. These bead belts are simple and easily made. A tiny loom and outfit, including a book of designs and instructions, can be purchased from any of the Indian goods stores.

On a table covered with painted leather or a cloth of Mexican drawn work may be gathered a collection of horned toads, tarantulas, trapdoor spiders and centipeds, mounted to serve as paperweight; curiously decorated water bottles and pottery from the Maricopa, Zuni and Moqui tribes; quaint Pueblo idols, made of clay, representing gods of rain, plenty, peace and pain, with hideous distorted faces; paper weights in Mexican onyx.

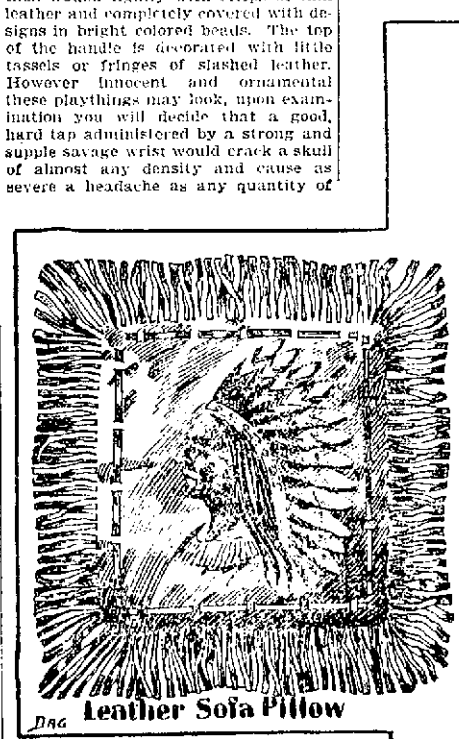

Heads of chiefs in war paint and feathers on white sheepskins may be tacked up around the wall with excellent decorative effect, and the beautiful baskets of the different tribes may be scattered about with as much profusion as the purse allows. The most beautiful of these baskets are made by the Moqui or Hopi tribes. These Indians live on the buttes of northern Arizona, and the beauty of coloring and symbolism of their baskets outrival all the other tribes. Their large ceremonial baskets make imposing ornaments. Then there are Hoopa acorn baskets; Pomo, Klamath, Shasta, Shoshone, Apache, Pima and a host of others, not omitting the sweet grass and splint baskets of the northern Indian. The latter baskets are easily woven, and the materials can also be obtained from the Indian goods stores. Indeed, the making of these baskets, as well as some of the more difficult kinds, has become quite a fad. There is no difficulty in making them if a book of instructions is obtained, and in some places classes are formed for teaching the art.

The little birch bark canoes, baskets and boxes are both pretty and ornamental. Some of these fashioned by the northern Indians are worked with porcupine quills in red, blue, green, purple and white in queer artistic designs. Among the most highly prized treasures of my childhood was a little workbox made from the brown inner bark of the birch, embroidered thickly with porcupine quill work in bright colors, especially the cover, which had strong hinges of the quills. I have seen, too, ornamental toboggans, snowshoes and other articles of a similar make.

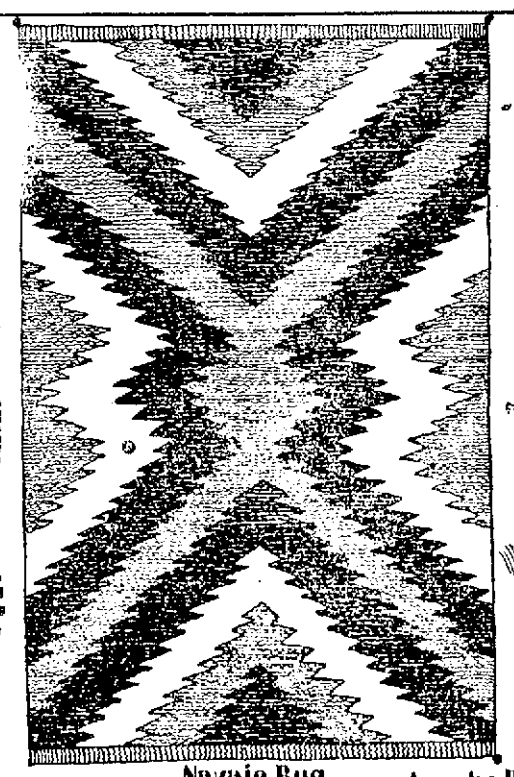

A corner shelf to hold some of the smaller things may be covered with a piece of sheepskin, with a slashed fringe hanging from it and festooned with one of the necklaces made of black hawks' beaks, tipped with vermillion and strung with large beads alternating with the beaks. Or perhaps you would prefer a necklace of buffaloes' teeth, stained red and strung also with beads between. The gory looking teeth have a disagreeably human appearance, and in these days when the necklace holds dominion one can imagine the sensation an up to date and faddish dame would make should she appear with one of them depending from her fair neck.

A corner furnished in this way might not be a cheap one, but it would be very odd and interesting.

ICE CREAM WITH HOT CHOCOLATE.—A delicious and simple dessert is composed of ice cream and hot chocolate sauce. Break up the chocolate, put it in an agate saucepan and melt over the fire, stirring it well until it is a thick, smooth paste. Have the ice cream in brick form. Cut in slices and when they are on the plates put two or three tablespoonfuls of the chocolate sauce over each slice.

TONGUE TOASTETTES.—Keep the remains of cold boiled tongue, hang it up until quite dry and hard, then grate as much as is requisite. Put this into a saucepan with enough cream to make it into a nice paste, add pepper and salt to taste. Warm up and serve on small squares of buttered toast.

CUCUMBER SOUP.—Peel a large cucumber and lay it in cold water for about half an hour; then divide into pieces an inch thick. Place these in a stewpan with salt and pepper to taste, two onions, a sprig of parsley and sufficient veal or fowl stock to cover all. Simmer till the cucumber is tender, then take away the onion and parsley and pass the rest through a sieve. Fry together, without browning, one ounce each of butter and flour; on to this pour the cucumber puree. Bring to the boil while stirring, then add sufficient milk to make the soup of the right consistency. Just before serving add a beaten egg with a tablespoonful of cream. Have ready dice of cucumber, which have previously been boiled in salted water till tender, and serve in the soup.

CHEESE CUSTARDS.—Butter some small cups thoroughly and cut some thin slices of bread and butter into small dice, arranging them in a pattern on the side of the cups. Scatter grated cheese—parmesan, if possible—over all. Make a custard with the yolks of two eggs and three-quarters of a pint of milk. At the last minute before cooking add the whites beaten to a stiff froth. Season with salt, white pepper and cheese. Fill up the molds and steam very slowly till set. Turn out to serve and garnish with chopped parsley or truffles.

LAWRENCE MEN

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY AT BRUNSWICK, ME.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BRUNSWICK, Me., Aug. 24.—Deputy Sheriff John Leonard arrived on the pullman train last night, from New Castle, with four prisoners, James C. Stevenson, aged 20; Charles Hogan,19, John Wood, 18, and Harry Lusley, 18, all of Lawrence, Mass., who are charged with entering the residence of M. H. Blackwell, Saturday, and stealing a pocketbook and other goods.

Deputy Sheriff Leonard caught them yesterday, a mile west of New Castle. They confessed to the larceny, some of the property being found in their possession.

A charge of vagrancy will also be made against them. It is thought that they may be connected with some of the other breaks recently made in this town.

DYNAMITE EXPLODED

By Associated Press to The Sun

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 24.—An apparent attempt to wreck two passenger trains on the Missouri Pacific railroad was made near Quindaro, Kan., Saturday night.

A charge of dynamite was exploded under the engine of a train from St. Joseph and an open switch was placed for one outbound.

The latter train was uninjured and the incoming train escaped with only the headlights and the windows of the cab of the engine shattered.

The dynamite was placed on the track at a place known as Big Eddy. When the train reached Big Eddy it was running at the rate of 50 miles an hour.

When the engine was stopped it was found that a large hole had been blown out under one of the rails and one-half of a tie was gone. There were 110 passengers on the train.

HOTELS RAIDED

State Police at Lake Wachusett

GAMBLING MACHINES SEIZED IN SOME PLACES

Beer and Whiskey Also Seized

By Associated Press to The Sun

FITCHBURG, Aug. 24.—District police officers Neal, Letteny, Molt, Chittenden, Hodges, and Hammond raided the Jennison House and Wachusett Lake House, in Princeton, on opposite sides of Wachusett lake, yesterday afternoon, and seized large quantities of beer and liquor at each place.

At the Jennison House they seized a gambling machine known as a musical cabinet, in which nickels are played on numbers. Marcellus C. Terry was arrested and locked up at the police station here.

No arrest was made at Wachusett Lake House, but Sever E. Beaulieu was named in the search warrant, as proprietor of the house.

The raids were made on four Fitchburg police court warrants, obtained by George C. Neil. Two warrants were taken out for each place, one for liquor and one for gambling implements.

Officers Neal and Molt searched the Wachusett Lake House and seized 30 bottles of lager and a small quantity of whisky. Officers Letteney, Chittenden, Hodges and Hammond raided the Jennison House and found 100 bottles of lager and a gallon of whiskey. In a building described as the bowling alley they found and seized a gambling machine. The liquor and machine were loaded into an express team and turned over to the custody of the Fitchburg police.

Evans E. Davis, agent of the New England watch and ward society, raided the Jennison House six weeks ago, and seized two gambling machines, similar to the one seized yesterday, and Terry then paid a fine of $25 in the Fitchburg police court on the charge of keeping gaming implements.

The raids yesterday were the result of an investigation by the state officers on complaints made to Chief Rufus R. Wade, that the laws relative to liquor selling and gambling were not being enforced by town officials and that there were gross violations at both resorts, which are within a short distance of the State reservation.

TWO MEN KILLED

NEWSPAPER TRAIN GOING MILE A MINUTE DITCHED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 24.—A special train of the New York Central railroad carrying New York city newspapers, was wrecked at Gulf bridge in this city yesterday.

Engineer Robert Lilley and fireman Peter Conley, both of Albany, were killed. A number of others were injured, none, however, fatally.

The train, which was running at the rate of a mile a minute, was composed of an engine and three express cars.

The front car, to which were all of those injured, followed the engine down the slope.

The bodies of engineer Lilley and fireman Conley were buried in the wreckage, but were later recovered.

SCREAMED AT NIGHT WITH PAIN

Suffered With Nervous Prostration Over Three Years.

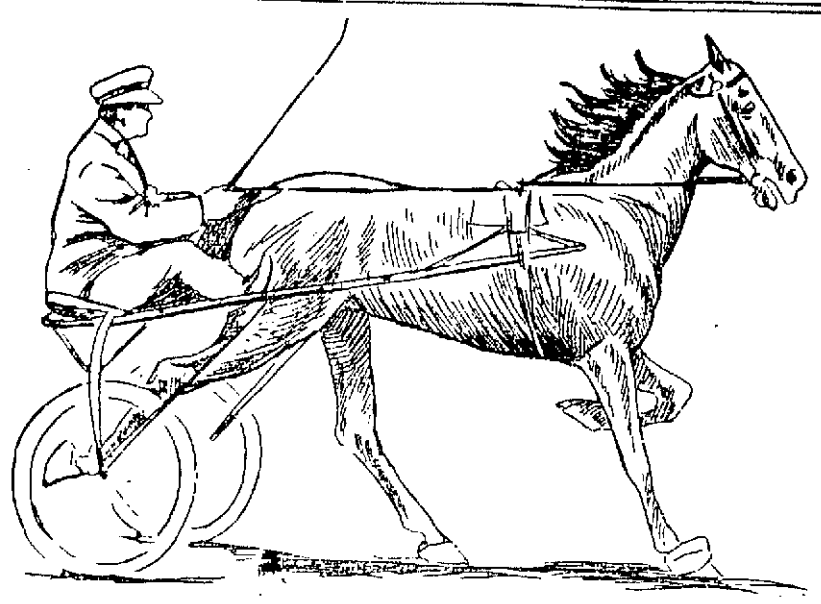

Read this testimonial over and over until you have learned every word so that you can repeat it at the family circle. It is just as it came from the lips of Mrs. Josephine Camire, an estimable lady residing at 33 Lilley avenue, Lowell, Mass.

She was permanently cured by Dr. Bartlett's Vital Force, and it is more valid proof that it cures where other remedies failed completely.

"For more than three years I was a sufferer from nervous prostration. My nerves were completely unstrung about all the time and the least excitement caused me to collapse altogether. The various advertised medicines were all persistently tried and much money was expended covering a period of five years. I was treated professionally during all my years of suffering and the attendance of even the best specialists failed to give me nothing more than a slight relief. I even went to the General hospital in Boston, but it proved fruitless, the physicians there not helping me at all. A terrible pain in my right side accompanied my nervous troubles, and at times I used to wake up in the night screaming with pain. The pain in my side was neuralgia. Many sleepless nights were spent all these years. My appetite was gone and I considered myself a broken-down woman, notwithstanding that I dragged myself about the house when able to be up at all, and did my housework the best I could. Felt tired all of the time and after the winter of 1899, being confined to my bed all of the winter, I was wretched both in body and mind. I was about to give up in despair, when I was advised to consult Dr. Bartlett. He gave me a bottle of Vital Force right away, and nothing else. This was last spring. I noticed a decided improvement in my condition at the close of a couple of weeks. I continued to take this wonderful medicine and continued to improve. My nerves became quieted, I found my old-time strength returning, my appetite increased and joy of all joys came to me when I found the terrible pain which had been my companion for many years leave me altogether. I now consider myself strong, and sleep as well as I did before the beginning of my nervous troubles, and no one knows what I suffered and what I am now free from but myself. If there are other women in the world whose nerves are shattered and all run down, I want to say to one and all, take Dr. Bartlett's Vital Force, for surely what it has done for me it will do for others."

CARS CRASHED

Women Fainted and 30 Passengers Injured

By Associated Press to The Sun

MALDEN, Aug. 24—There was a serious electric car collision on Salem street at 9.45 last night, when a beach car of the Boston & Northern crashed into the rear of a Boston elevated car, bound to Maplewood, from Sullivan square terminal.

The elevated car had stopped at a white post opposite the entrance to Salem street cemetery to let passengers off. The car bound for Revere beach, containing five passengers, with motorman Michael Foley and conductor Charles Wilkinson, which was following closely, struck it with great force. There was a loud crash which brought the residents of that section to the scene.

Foley was pinned in the wreck and had his right foot so badly crushed that it may have to be amputated.

There were about 30 passengers in the head car. They received a severe shaking up, and several women fainted.

There was great excitement for a few moments, as it was thought a large number of passengers had been badly injured, but the police reported that all the injured except Foley were able to go to their homes unassisted.

Motorman Foley claims the brake on his car would not hold, and that he did everything in his power to prevent the collision. He was taken to the Malden hospital.

The rear car was badly wrecked, the entire front being stove in, while the heavy car of the Boston Elevated was only slightly damaged.

SAD ACCIDENT

Charles Giroux Fractured Skull and Spine

WHILE DIVING AT LONG POND

Struck His Head on Sunken Rock

Charles Giroux, janitor of the Pawtucket school, and one of Lowell's best known and most popular young French-American residents, was probably fatally injured while in bathing at Long Pond, Saturday evening.

Mr. Giroux is a member of the Fleur de Lis club, which has a summer cottage on the shores of Long Pond, and on Saturday about 5 o'clock, went down to the pond to swim. When at a point where the water is supposed to be very deep, he dived into the water and striking his head on a sharp sunken rock, dislocated and fractured his spinal column and sustained a fracture of the skull.

At first it was thought he was testing his ability to remain under water, but some of his companions noting the position of his body in the dark waters, quickly pulled him out. He was unconscious and bleeding badly and was carried to the club house.

Dr. P. Brunnelle was sent for and he arrived in an hour while a clergyman from the Oblate rectory also went out to the camp and administered the last rites of the Catholic church to the unfortunate man.

Dr. Brunnelle found Giroux to be suffering from the injuries as above mentioned, and still unconscious upon his arrival at the camp. Later he was carried to Lowell to the home of his brother, John Giroux, 317 Moody street, and yesterday morning he was taken to St. John's hospital, where an operation was performed on his spine.

His chances for recovery are decidedly slim and in the event of his recovery it is feared that he will be crippled for life.

Giroux is about 25 years of age and is unmarried. He resides at 12 Coburn street. He is a brother of Alderman David A. Giroux.

The hose race will be a feature of the Y. M. C. I. carnival Thursday.

WATER BOARD

WILL TACKLE MILL SUPPLY PROBLEM TONIGHT.

The water board will meet this evening with the city engineer to formulate some plan for supplying the Locks & Canals system with city water. The valves between the two systems will remain permanently closed.

A mill man of many years' experience, suggests that if the mills furnish city drinking water to operatives, they also furnish ice and thus save a waste of water. "At present," he said, "the pipes are kept warm by proximity to the steam pipes and the water is hot when it first comes out of the faucet. Hence it is allowed to run and much is wasted. It would be cheaper for the mills to supply ice."

WITH A SCREAM

MAN THREW UP HIS HANDS AND DROWNED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

HINGHAM, Aug. 24—James Burns of Dorchester was drowned in five feet of water at Hockley stream, West Hingham, yesterday morning, within sight of several friends.

About 10 Burns said he was going to bathe and shortly afterwards he appeared on the beach clad in a pair of overalls. When about to pass from shore he shouted to his friends on the bank: "I'll show you how to swim." He proceeded to wade into the water until it reached the middle of his chest, when of a sudden he gave a scream, threw up his hands and sank.

Boards and ropes were thrown toward the spot, but he did not rise, and so dragging was begun.

About 2 Frank Whalen and Thomas White of East Weymouth recovered the body about 50 feet up stream from where Burns sank.

Medical Examiner Spooner pronounced it a case of accidental drowning.

Burns was 21 years old and was employed by Charles Eaton of Dorchester. He leaves a sister, who is married, and resides in Dorchester.

FOR TEN DAYS

WOMAN HAS BEEN HICCOUGHING BUT WILL RECOVER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 24—Elizabeth, the 15-year old daughter of William Anderson, has been hiccoughing for ten days. The hiccoughs began after a hearty meal.

Up to last Thursday she has had fits of hiccoughing and hysteria lasting from two to four hours. She was taken on Thursday to the Greenwich emergency hospital, where she now is.

Greenwich physicians say it is the worst case they have ever seen. The hiccoughing continues, but the hiccoughing fits now last but an hour at a time, and the doctors say she will recover.

MUST NOT TALK

By Associated Press to The Sun

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 24—Many peculiar injunctions have been issued by Omaha judges, but the one granted by Judge Slabaugh of the District court Saturday is considered a record-breaker.

By its terms John McRae, a well known citizen, is enjoined from speaking to his wife or any of his children.

He was warned by the court that if he failed to observe the order he would have to pay the penalty of being in contempt. It is said this is the first injunction of the kind ever issued by a court in this country.

Mrs. McRae has instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, charging cruelty.

JOSEPH JEFFERSON

Paw Paw Made a New Stomach for Him

It Cured Him

Of Dyspepsia and a Severe Stomach Trouble

Mr. Joseph Jefferson, veteran actor, never discovers new plays, but he is constantly discovering new ways of renewing health and of making millions.

Now he has discovered the Paw Paw.

Not that the Paw Paw hasn't been known before, or that it hasn't been used in just the way he is putting it to use.

But when a man as eminent, as notable as Mr. Jefferson seemingly discovers anything, or takes hold of it and loudly sings its praises, that thing is bound to become better known.

In the dictionary this fruit will be found spelled with three "p's" or with two. For those who belong to the botanical cult, it will be of interest to know that it is a tropical American tree of the passion flower family with fruit.

The fruit tastes like a muskmelon that is too ripe. You can eat as much as you want or as little as you want.

Now what doctor can say that for his medicine?

The actor says two weeks of eating this fruit is worth three stomach specialists, a stomach pump used daily, a hundred bottles of soda mint tablets, a lifetime of pepsin and years of strict diet.

He is not selfish with his find, for he tells without hesitation those of the tourists whom he knows what the Paw Paw will do for the stomach.

The excellence of all this is that the statement is true.

This little fruit has always been a great aid to digestion and a renewal of the stomach.

It hasn't suddenly become so because Mr. Jefferson discovered it.

Ever since the latter days of the seventeenth century the pirates that sailed the Caribbean seas, the Spanish hidalgoes who made merry in their portlcond houses amid the orange trees, and the simuous, brainy Seminoles, who were as much a part of that middle jungle as the alligators and the rattlesnakes, knew the value of this sweet smelling fruit.

All of these not only used the fruit, but made the leaves of value, too.

When a piece of meat was tough, when a bird was old, it was put between the leaves of the Paw Paw until it became juicy and tender.

Everything was submitted to the action of these leaves. There was nothing so tough that two of these leaves couldn't soften it.

A strip of the leaf was dropped into the boiling pot and smuggled into the roasting pan.

It gave to the food the right quality, and if preceded or succeeded the fruit, man ate well and laughed merrily afterward without recourse to any one of the thousand of articles that man takes today to insure peace between his stomach and his food.

Everyone knew of it in that old country. But Spaniards and Indians keep their secrets; to them, now as always, the person from the outer states was a foreigner.

But now that Mr. Jefferson has discovered the real spring of Ponce de Leon, think you he will keep it a secret?

He cannot. He hasn't the native quality of secrecy.

He praises the Paw Paw on the white beach, in the written letter, in the warm March surf, in the dance room, down at the casino, where the Hawaiians play their wierd music at Palm Beach, Fla.

He will insist upon making the Paw Paw famous.

"Keep this up Jefferson," said his friend the other day, "and you will be verily Rip Van Winkle in age."

"I'll go him one better," said Jefferson, "for if I keep on eating Paw Paw I'll live merrily during those years that he slept."—Philadelphia Sunday Press.

What Paw Paw did for Mr. Jefferson Munyon's Paw Paw will do for you. It will enable you to eat what you like and all you like, as it positively cures dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It will vitalize your blood and put your liver into a healthy condition.

It will cure all forms of nervousness and give strength to the whole system.

REGAINED SIGHT

CHILD MADE TO SEE BY USE OF RADIUM.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—By the use of radium, the mysterious substance which scientists pronounce the greatest discovery of modern time, Tillie Spitznadel, a child of 11, who for eight years has been totally blind, has been made to see.

Her sight has not been fully restored, but yesterday she was able to distinguish moving objects and easily to discern light from darkness.

Dr. Amon R. Jenkins, of 17 State street, attached to the Merchant marine hospital service, and William J. Hammer, a consulting electrical engineer, of 153 West 46th street, performed the experiments. They are preparing to continue them, but until the result is definitely known they are reluctant to discuss the case. The progress thus far made leads them to hope for success.

If the sight of Tillie Spitznadel is fully restored it will be strong proof that the blind can be made to see.

Father Galvin, Westerly, R. I., had his church and residence painted. Good job; and this is how he went at it.

Then got bids from the painters, paint to be supplied by them and by him.

Saved $70 by using Devoe.

OFFICE, LOWELL, MASS.

Pledged to Absolute Sale

The Firm of J. H. Burke & Co., Centralville, to be dissolved, its Business closed out and its affairs wound up.

ALL WITHOUT RESERVE OR LIMIT TO THE HIGHEST BIDDERS, on the respective premises (except first parcel to be sold) regardless of weather conditions, at the appointed hours, Wednesday and Thursday, September 2d and 3d, 1903.

The realties comprise the large and modern business and tenement block at the corner of Coburn and West Third streets; the store house and stable property, West Third street; the thirteen-tenement block, 76-82 West Third street; the four-tenement block, 72-74 West Third street; the two-family house and cottage on the southerly corner of West Third and Albion streets; four lots of land on the easterly side of West Third street, between Bridge and Albion streets; cottage house 13 and 15 Coburn street; lot of land on Bridge street, nearly opposite Thirteenth street; six lots of land on Humphrey street and the Critchett land in Dracut. The grocery stock is one of the largest and most complete in Lowell. There are three horses, four wagons, three pungs, four sets of harness, etc.

WEDNESDAY AT 1.45 O'CLOCK P.M.

THE CRITCHETT LAND, Dracut, not to be sold upon the premises, but at the block at the corner of Coburn and West Third streets, Lowell. It must be looked over by intending purchasers before the hour of sale. To examine the land, leave Lakeview avenue about opposite and slightly beyond the paper mills, or between numbers 1311 and 1321 Lakeview avenue, through the yard of the house numbered 1321, taking the middle path. There is about seven acres of it, covered with a scattered growth of young oaks, with some birch. The center is high, very sightly, and an attractive spot. It is but a short way in from Lakeview avenue, over a right of way that at present is more or less overgrown. It once had a set of buildings, now gone, and during the lifetime of Mr. Critchett most of it was under cultivation. The soil is fertile and strong, and it will not cost much to put it back where it was a few years ago. It is nearly all fenced.

AT 2 O'CLOCK, P. M.

The solid, substantial and comparatively new three-story, gravel roofed block of modern construction, numbered 19-25 Coburn street, 84-88 West Third street, and within 125 feet of Lakeview avenue. It has three well lighted, steam heated stores and six flats. Two of the stores have water closets and so has each of the flats. The entire building is lighted by gas and in first class condition. It is in every respect as good and complete a block, of its type, as there is in Lowell. The six flats are rented for $52 a month; the three stores now occupied by the firm would easily rent for $60 a month. The lot has an area of about 4836 square feet, with a frontage of 88 feet on Coburn street and 86 feet on West Third street; it is not all occupied by the block, which can be extended on the Coburn street frontage.

AT 2.20 O'CLOCK, P. M.

The store house and stable property, south of and adjoining the above lot, comprises a frame two and one-half story building, 75x20 feet, built for heavy storage, stable and wagon house uses; the street or storage end is 22x20 feet; the stable or opposite end is 22x20 feet, with one box and three ordinary stalls; between the storage and stable is the open front wagon shed, 31x20 feet, with storage overhead; under each end is a cellar. The lot has a frontage of 32 feet on West Third street, a depth of 76 feet and an area of 2370 square feet. This building was erected with the thought in mind of its possible conversion into a tenement block.

AT 2.40 O'CLOCK P. M.

The large block of three full stories, with slated pitch roof, 76-82 West Third street, and adjoining and south of the preceding lot. It is a good building in good condition; has thirteen tenements, keeps rented, and brings $20.25 a week, which is all collected. There are seven water closets. The lot has a frontage of 60½ feet, a depth of 80 feet, an area of 4735 square feet, and a frontage of 81 feet on a 12 foot passageway on the southerly side. This is an excellent paying parcel of rentling realty.

AT 2.50 O'CLOCK P. M.

The four-family house, 72 and 74 West Third street. It has two and one half stories, is well constructed, finely arranged and a desirable property, that rents for $35 every month. This is one of the most satisfactory properties the firm owns. It is lighted by gas, and each tenement has a water closet. The lot has an area of about 2500 square feet, a street frontage of 30 feet and a frontage of over 80 feet on a 12 foot passageway.

AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

The snug, compact and well paying corner property ($29 a month) consisting of the two family houses, 67 and 69 West Third street, the cottage house, 5 Albion street, and about 2610 square feet of land, 56 feet on West Third street and 75 feet on Albion street. The premises are lighted by gase, have two bath rooms and three water closets, all in prime condition.

AT 3.10 O'CLOCK P. M.

Four level and attractive lots of land, having frontages of 40 and 45 feet on West Third street and depths of 115 feet; are the only lots of land remaining upon the street unimproved; sidewalks and sewers are all in and assessments paid; they are surrounded by a good class of renting property and property that pays well. It seems to us that the demand for these should be sharp, for the simple reason of their location, close proximity to business, mills, etc., the good neighborhood, and the fact that they are less than ten minutes' walk from Merrimack square. We were about to begin to improve them, but the sudden decision to wind up our business has stopped us.

AT 3.40 O'CLOCK P. M.

The double cottage and lot of land 13 and 15 Coburn street. It rents all the time and is sure to bring $3.50 or more every week. The street frontage of the lot is 43 feet, the area about 1812 square feet and the shape irregular. There are two water closets and other conveniences upon the premises. This property will pay for itself every few years.

AT 4.10 O'CLOCK P. M.

6000 square feet of land on Bridge street between Jewett and Richardson streets, or adjoining the residence of Oscar A. Hall, No. 952 Bridge street, and opposite the Amos B. French estate. The street before the lot is paved, the electric cars pass every few minutes, it is the first unimproved lot on the west side of the street from Central bridge, has a frontage of 60 feet, a depth of 100 feet and is ready for a building.

AT 5 O'CLOCK P. M.

Six lots of land on Humphrey street, north of 18th and 19th streets. Humphrey street is accepted, has sewer pass the lots with assessments paid, sidewalks from Methuen street nearly to the lots, also gas and water. The Bridge street cars are within three or four minutes' walk, and the Christian Hill line is to be extended through Beacon street to Eighteenth street, so as to be still nearer. Humphrey street is improved or built upon, from Methuen street nearly to the lots, and much of the territory to the east is thickly settled with pretty and comfortable homes. The lots have areas of from 5000 to 6374 square feet, and frontages of from 50 to 77 feet; four are on the westerly and two on the easterly side of the street. They are high, dry, have extended views, are in a pleasant neighborhood, accessible and handy to down town.

THURSDAY, AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M.

In lots to suit purchasers, all the groceries, store fixtures, horses, wagons, pungs, harnesses, etc.

The purchaser of the Critchett land must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers the sum of $100 just as soon as the lot is struck off. The purchaser of the block at the corner of Coburn and West Third streets must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $350 just as soon as that lot is struck off. The purchaser of the store house and stable property on West Third street must deposit or secure $250, the purchaser of the block 76-82 West Third street, $650; the purchaser of the four family house 72-74 West Third street, $450; the purchaser of the two family house 67-69 West Third street and the cottage house, 5 Albion street, $350; just as soon as the respective lots are struck off. The purchaser of each of the four lots of land on West Third street must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $200 as soon as the respective lots are struck off; the purchaser of the double cottage 13-15 Coburn street must do the same with $200; the purchaser of the Bridge street lot with $150; and the purchaser of each of the Humphrey street lots with $50; just so soon as those lots are struck off. The purchasers of the personal property must pay cash. All inquiries should be made at the office of the auctioneers,
